

MARKET BUREAU GIVES ADVICE

This Is the Season to Preserve Fruits and Vegetables

The Bureau of Markets of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture sends out the following forecast regarding the supplies of nearby fruits and vegetables for the present week:

Most housewives find it necessary to use canned vegetables and fruits during seven months, or approximately 200 days of the year. Be sure to take advantage of the abundant supply of reasonable vegetables which farmers are bringing to the markets all over the State, and have your pantry and cellar shelves well filled.

The fact that you never have canned dried sweet corn nor put up tomatoes for frying is no excuse for not doing so now while those products are plentiful. There are many different ways of using tomatoes, beans, corn, onions, beets, cabbage and cucumbers that none of the present good crops should be allowed to waste.

Check up your present preserve supply with the following estimate of what a family of five, two adults and three children, can use during 200 days and see the necessity for canning the fresh products now in season: 140-175 quarts of vegetables such as tomatoes, corn, peas, beans, etc.; 100-130 quarts of fruits and preserves; 30-40 quarts of berries and relishes; seven bushels of white potatoes; four bushels of other root vegetables.

The delicious Seckle and Bartlett pears which are equally good for canning and eating, now are ripening. In addition to these, the Maiden Blush and Summer Rambo apples, the early plums and the Belle peaches are available in good quantities.

Insurance Conference—State Insurance Commissioner Thomas Donaldson has called a conference of the representatives of the stock and mutual insurance companies operating in Pennsylvania and members of the State Insurance Fund for Philadelphia next Wednesday to discuss the retention of the ten per cent differential in State Workmen's compensation insurance.

MRS. LEWIS OF BROOKLYN

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"For one year I was miserable from a displacement, which caused a general run-down condition, with headaches and pains in my side. My sister induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I found it helped me very much and such a splendid tonic that I am recommending it to any women who has similar troubles."

MRS. ELSIE G. LEWIS, 30 Vernon Ave., Brooklyn, New York.

Such conditions as Mrs. Lewis suffered from may be caused by a fall or general run-down condition of the system, and the most successful remedy to restore strength to muscles and tissue and bring about a normal healthy condition—has proved to be this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have a disturbing symptom you do not understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their forty years' experience is at your service.

NOTED RESIDENTS PUBLICLY TESTIFY

ance and desire to have the differential discontinued. Probe Taxi Service—The Public Service Commission has authorized Commissioners Samuel M. Clement, Jr., and James S. Benn to investigate the auto-bus and taxicab service in the City of Philadelphia. Unless a company or individual holding as a common carrier of persons has been engaged in the business since January 1, 1914, the effective date of the Public Service Company Law, it is necessary, in order to operate legally, to apply for and secure a certificate of public convenience evidencing the approval of the Commission to such operation. All such common carriers whether having been in operation prior to January 1, 1914, and therefore not requiring a certificate of public convenience or operating under the certificate of the Commission, must file in the Commission's office and post in a conspicuous place in such auto or taxicab engaged in public service, a complete schedule of all rates charged, whether by taximeter or under special terms such as the hourly or trip rates. No rates can be charged by a taxicab or other common carrier other than the filed, posted and published rates, and any company or individual found guilty of disobeying this stringent provision of the law is subject to the penalties provided by law for the imposition of a fine or under the recent Act of the Legislature of having the license issued by the State Highway Department, revoked and canceled. Various cases of exorbitant charges by taxicabs in Philadelphia have been brought to the attention of the Commission and it is for the purpose of correcting this evil and protecting the public from being charged unreasonable rates that the investigation is being made.

More Detours—The State Highway Department today announced a list of additional detours which with the detours announced in the last two weeks comprises an almost complete list of the detours on the main thoroughfares of Pennsylvania. A short detour has been created on the Lincoln Highway in York county at Hallam. This detour is 2.1 miles in length. The short detour on the Lincoln Highway is that between Abbottstown and Thomsesville, in York county. Other detours in Pennsylvania are as follows: York and Cumberland counties, on Route No. 123—Between Shepherdstown and Dillsburg; Lawrence county, on Route No. 77—From Moravia to Willow Grove; Millin county, on Route No. 33—Newton Hamilton to Mount Union; Chester county, on Route No. 137—Downtown; Dauphin county, on Route No. 199—Rift to Schwahn Mills; Columbia county, on Route No. 4—Bloomsburg Borough; Montgomery county, on Route No. 158—Graterford to Trappe Borough; Huntingdon county, on Route No. 46—Near Markleysburg.

Pennsylvania Tours—The State Highway Department has received requests from a great many Pennsylvanians who asked that they be given information concerning weekend trips through the mountain and resort regions of Pennsylvania. The Department has these requests under consideration and it is likely that within a short time a number of three-day trips will be announced. September and October are Pennsylvania's best touring months.

Coal Clauses Up—In refusing to strike out the rates of the Public Utilities Company in dismissing the complaint filed by the State Belt Electric Company, the Public Service Commission goes at some length into contracts based on coal clauses as they apply to public service rates. The coal clauses were brought about by the war with its rapid fluctuations of fuel prices and were perfectly proper in the emergency, the Commission holds, but says with the return of price stability they have almost passed out of tariff structures. While the Commission does not hold them now to be illegal "it says there no longer appears a reason for their retention they be superseded by more definite rates carried into tariff schedules and calculated to produce the required revenue." The rates of the Pennsylvania Utilities Company are pronounced "just and reasonable."

A TALE OF A TAIL

A little girl who loved animals came home accompanied by a stray dog. "Why, Cissy," said her mother, "that dog isn't yours, you have no right to bring him home." "Well, mamma, pleaded Cissy, "he didn't belong to anybody any more than the flowers. I can pick flowers—wild ones—and keep 'em, and the doggy was just like the flowers, so I came along and picked him."

At this point the dog turned round and displayed a noticeable lack of tail, whereupon Cissy's small brother broke in with, "Why didn't you pick a longer stem?"—Omaha News.

THRUST AND PARRY

Pangs of jealousy were in Miss Coldfoot's heart when she heard that her late admirer had been accepted by Miss Lovebird, and when she happened to run across her in the bargain rush could not resist giving a thrust. "I hear you've accepted Jack," she gushed. "I suppose he never told you he once proposed to me." "No," answered Jack's fiancée. "He once told me that there were a lot of things in his life he was ashamed of, but I didn't ask him what they were."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

HAVING A GOOD TIME

What constitutes recreation depends, of course, on the point of view. Here is that of a certain small citizen in a school for dependent children. He wrote to his father thus: "We are having a good time here now. Mr. Jones broke his leg and can't work. We went on a picnic and it rained and we all got wet. Many children here are sick with mumps. Mr. Smith fell off of the wagon and broke his ribs, but he can work a little. The man who is digging the deep well whipped us boys with a buggy whip because we threw sand in his machine and made black and blue marks on it. Harry cut his finger badly. We are all very happy."—Everybody's Magazine.

CORRECTED PROVERBS

"The clothes do not make the man," remarked the ready-made philosopher. "No," answered the friend who was studying a tailor's bill. "They don't make him. They break him."—San Francisco Chronicle.

LOCAL INDIFFERENCE

Explorer—Could you direct me to the North Pole? Arctic Native—Yes. It's about five minutes walk from here. I've never seen it myself, but I've been given to understand that some persons consider it a great curio.—Dallas News.

Cloudburst Causes Much Damage in York County

York, Pa., Aug. 18.—A cloudburst caused much damage in the vicinity of Glen Rock, New Freedom, Shrewsbury and Railroad Boroughs in southern York county between 2 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, washing away bridges, flooded dwellings and manufacturing and nearly drowning a woman. The tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad south of New Freedom were covered with water to such extent that it was necessary to send trains between Harrisburg to Baltimore over the Columbia & Perryville Railroad. Washouts were quite extensive. Repair crews from York, Glen Rock, New Freedom, Parkton and other places were sent to the scene. The storm centered over Railroad Borough. The borough bridge was washed away, as were also bridges at the Selling Furniture Factory and at the plant of the Keystone Egg Box & Filter Co. Mrs. L. M. Brown, manager of this plant had some flour stored in a building and fearing it would be washed away, she attempted to save the flour, when the nearby dam gave way, sending the Codorus Creek up around the building, and before she realized her danger Mrs. Brown was in water up to her neck. Albert Frederick and Thomas George rescued her with difficulty. Much lumber, coal, etc., was washed away by the flood.

SEIZE FOOD STORES Paris, Aug. 18.—Several collisions occurred between food dealers and consumers yesterday in the southeastern provinces and elsewhere. At Brest the dockworkers seized provisions in the central markets and sold them at half price. Consumers and retailers at Le Val-louis, near Paris, decided to take joint action against the middlemen.
