

Enjoy Outing at Lodge in Heart of Seven Mountains

Miss Ruth Lang, Miss Ruth Kilmore, Miss Irma Moore, Miss Anna Wolfe and Miss Mary Ferece, of this city and vicinity, have returned after a ten days' outing at a lodge in the heart of the Seven Mountains. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Thompson, of Millroy, and the following people were guests at the camp: A. C. Woodfield, of Baltimore; M. R. Montgomery, of Chambersburg; the Rev. Mr. Ulrich, of Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Moore, Mrs. C. W. Moore, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Freaster, of Millroy, Ohio; O. J. McVitt, of Readingville, and E. B. Smith, of this city.

Two interesting and unusual telegrams were received this morning by J. B. Carruthers, of the State Y. M. C. A. The first one, from Vancouver, British Columbia, stated that his daughter, Mrs. Gordon Poole, has returned with her husband and little daughter on a short furlough from China after four years of missionary work in Kaifeng, China. She is coming east by way of Winnipeg and Chicago. She expects to arrive at the latter place Sunday. After a few days' visit at the home of her parents, she will be at the home of her parents, 1359 State street.

The other telegram came from San Francisco and was sent by his son, Donald Carruthers, who for the past four years has been secretary for the Legion Guards, Military Branch of the Y. M. C. A., at Pekin, China. He arrived at the home shortly before September 1. Mr. Carruthers states that he just missed seeing his sister at Yokohama the day she sailed. They had arranged to meet there, but were booked to return on different boats.

Up Goes Cost of Auto Licenses in Adams Co.

Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 20. — Along with the increase in cost of every thing else the cost has advanced here for the securing of licenses to operate motor vehicles. Notaries public and Justices of the Peace having served notice that "owing to the increased amount of data required by the new Act of Assembly relating to the registry of Used Motor-Vehicles," and the registry of all cars for the year 1920, together with the necessary time required for filing out said applications, we will charge the sum of fifty cents each for preparing and executing said applications. This is double the former price.

Visiting the Shops with Adele

THE Ming period in Chinese art, extending from 1368 to 1644 A. D., was a most interesting one. Completely reacting from the tendencies exhibited in the preceding period, when simplicity reigned supreme, it is noted for its elaborate effects and love of ornament and elegance. Its artists emphasized a richly decorative detail, reproducing ancient forms with remarkable technical skill, but usually neglecting the beauty of the design. In the window of the Saltzberg Art and Antique Shop, 223 N. Second street, stand two typical examples of this period's art in the form of an unusual pair of candlesticks. Carved from Coramander wood, they present the best features that the artists of their day had to offer.

WHY can't Adele stop talking about Doutrich's wash suits for boys? She seems to be singing their praises all the time, and so would you like to see them for yourself. You may try your level best, using all the skill you can display, and you'll never be able to match the patterns the Doutrich store is showing. Then, when you are disappointed that which they sell—well, you'll wonder why you ever thought of buying cloth, thread, and buttons and laboring over a machine when, for less money than it takes to purchase the material, you can buy the articles already made. I'm only talking moderately about these wash suits. Wait until you see them!

FLASH went the little light—and we all avoided the puddle! Have you ever had a similar experience? If you haven't, it's a confession that you've never camped for any considerable length of time. Those of us who have know just how invaluable a pocket flash light proves. Without one it is almost impossible to venture forth after dark. And not only does the camper find a flash light indispensable, but the housewife feels the constant need for just such a helpful little friend. When baby is sick she keeps it close at hand; when searching the depths of some dark closet, she seeks its aid. Indeed, were she to lose hers to-day she'd purchase a new one to-morrow at the Dauphin Electrical Supplies Co., for she finds them a necessity.

I F I were to offer you a suit of black, chiffon velvet luxuriously trimmed with soft gray squirrel, would you take it? Foolish, foolish question! Unfortunately I can't, but the Cloos Shop in the Penn-Harris building, can and does. And such a beautiful suit as it is! From the big, fur collar down to the hem, it is perfect in every detail. Touches of fur trim the back of the coat a little distance below the blouse effect which is transformed in front into a deceptive, little jacket and an attractive, little vest. The entire suit is heavily embroidered and crocheted buttons assume the responsibility of adding just the tiny touch necessary to make the garment absolutely irresistible.

TELL me why you hate to place an order over the telephone? Do you fear it won't receive the proper attention? So often you inconvenience yourself greatly by going out and personally attending to some business that could just as easily be transacted by a few moments conversation over the wire. Take for instance a case such as this: you hear of the sudden illness of a friend and feel like sending fragrant flowers as a token of your sympathy and interest. But you simply can't find time to visit a florist. So the matter is dropped. Now such a state of affairs is truly deplorable and absolutely unnecessary for at Keene's Flower Shop, 814 North Third street, as much care is taken in filling "phoned-in" orders as is shown under any other circumstances.

CLASS REUNIONS TO BE FEATURED AT C. H. S. OUTING

Old Graduates Invited to Attend Next Week's Picnic at Hershey Park

Great interest is centering about the Harrisburg High School alumni of next week, when it is estimated that several thousand "grads," former students and faculty members of the former street institution will assemble for the first big "get-together" in the history of the school. The picnic is unique in the respect that it will be the first organized attempt to present to a large number of Harrisburg citizens at one time, the High School problem which confronts the city to-day.

Dr. Frederick E. Downes, Superintendent of the city's schools, stated that it will be the first organized attempt to present to a large number of Harrisburg citizens at one time, the High School problem which confronts the city to-day. Dr. Downes stated that the picnic is unique in the respect that it will be the first organized attempt to present to a large number of Harrisburg citizens at one time, the High School problem which confronts the city to-day.

Souvenir Programs Three thousand circulars describing the picnic have been distributed among the alumni, and several hundred window cards displayed throughout the city. Individual classes are being organized for "stunts" for the big time, and the general picnic committee is preparing for a record crowd.

Plans for running a special train are under consideration, although it is probable that no action will be taken in this direction, it being considered likely that extra coaches will be attached to the main line and Reading trains leaving here at 10.20 a. m. and 1 p. m., for Hershey Park.

A score of prizes have been contributed by Harrisburg merchants, and they will be awarded to winners of the various athletic events, which will be staged on both land and sea (the Hershey swimming pool), under the direction of Robert Michael, president of the class of 1921.

Other big features are said to be under consideration by the members of the general committee, and they will be announced several days before the picnic.

MAJOR MARLAND HERE Major William J. Marland, of New York City, who is well known here, is registered at the Penn-Harris. He will leave to-night for Marsh Run. Agricultural Committee Considers Extending Power of Food Control Act

Washington, Aug. 20. — With adoption of the Igoe resolution directing the Federal Trade Commission to investigate increased shoe prices, the House took first legislative action toward reduction of the high cost of living.

Before adoption of the resolution, which was without a dissenting vote, the House voted down an amendment which would have extended the inquiry to other articles of clothing and food. The House Agricultural Committee, considering legislation to extend the food control act to other necessities of life, to extend the powers of the act beyond the war-time period, to give the President authority to fix fair prices for necessities and to provide penalties for hoarding, continued its hearings with F. W. Waddell, of Armour and Company, and Dr. Mary Pennington, of the Department of Agriculture as witnesses.

The Senate Agriculture Committee after some members had held that the legislation as proposed by the Attorney General did not clearly define what constitutes profiteering, hoarding, postponed final action.

A subcommittee was appointed by Chairman Gronna to confer with the Attorney General on the subject. Reports of the Post Office Department, of the Department of Agriculture's food supplies, which was offered to consumers yesterday through the parcel post, was meeting with a ready sale. Assistant Postmaster General Dockery instructed postmasters that no war stamp tax was applicable to parcel post shipments of army foodstuffs.

The War Department announced that due to the recent railroad strikes brief delays might be experienced in the filling of some parcel post orders through inability to distribute the supplies to the various depots.

Striking Women Cry For Husbands, Then Fight Starts

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 20.—One man was killed, eight others were shot, one of them probably mortally wounded, and scores of other persons cut and bruised in a riot of strikers from the Cudahy packing plant at Cudahy, near here, late yesterday.

Three companies of State Militia were ordered to the scene last night by Colonel Phillip Wetphal, acting under instructions from Governor Philipp. In the meantime, eighty deputy sheriffs will attempt to maintain order.

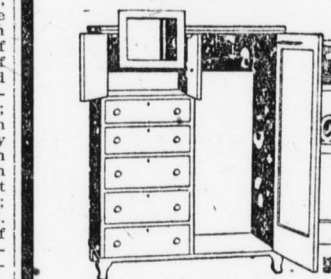

The break occurred when women from the office force attempted to leave the plant and were stoned by wives of the strikers. When deputies attempted to assist the workers to safety, the women rioters screamed for their husbands and when the men joined the fighting the officers were helpless under a fusillade of missiles. Firing was begun. Each side accuses the other of starting the gunfire.
