After a lengthy conference with evening they will present the second o'clock, in the Pine Street Presbythe representatives of the six shop minstrel and vaudeville show of the terian Church, the Rev. Harold Bald

After a lengthy conference with the representatives of the six shop crafts, Director General Hines yesterday went to the White House to discuss with President Wilson the problems facing the railroad administration. While no announcement was made, it was understood that the entire question was reviewed, including the obvious necessity for an increase in rates or another Congressional appropriation to provide funds for any wage advances that may be made.

Mr. Hines promised the shopmen's leaders that he would give careful consideration to all the facts presented and would endeavor to reach a final decision in the near future, indicating that he will order intoeffect any changes in the wage scale without referring the demands to a board for investigation.

THE EYES OF SCHOOL

CHILDREN

CHILDREN

The schools of Harrisburg and towns and districts round about will begin the first week in September. Before you start your children to school, it will be well to inquire into the condition of their eye-sight. Many children are backward in their studies, because some slight muscular or other eye defect causes headaches, dullness of intellect, weariness, nervous derangements and a general indisposition or inability to study. Such a condition may be unsuspected, yet if allowed to continue, seriously handicap the child in school work. I use great care in making examinations and only recommend the use of glasses when they are actually required.

SLANG IN ANCIENT EGYPT
An ancient use of a modern slang idlom was mentioned the other day by T. E. Peet, the lecturer on Egyptology at Manchester University. He said that the Egyptians always used the verb "to do" in referring to a visit to a country, just as an American to-day speaks of "doing" Paris or London. After this it will not surprise us to learn that Hannibal considered his expeditions as nothing more than "stunts," or that the Roman populace was rather annoyed when Julius Caesar was "done in."—

Waynesboro and Returned Soldier Are Married

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 21.—It's a long jump from the camps and courts of war to the seductive and pacific bowers of Cupid, but Sergeant David M. Baker, just recovered from wounds in France, made the leap. In the Pine Street Presbyterian Church, at Harrisburg, yesterday afternoon, the gallant young soldier was married by the Rev. Harold P. Baldwin, to Mits Nellie G. Baer, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Baer, this city. The bride has recently been supervisor of music in the Pottstown public schools and will return there in September to serve till a successor is secured. Sergeant Baker has been in the Army for the past two years and in France for more than a year. He was wounded while in France and returned to U. S. A. general hospital at Fort McHenry, Baltimore, where he has been receiving treatment for some time. Sergeatment for some time. Sergeatment for some time. Harrisburg Library

A recent addition to the Harrisburg Public Library is a collection of several hundred books from the library of the late Judge John J. MacPherson. The collection is unusually rich in the literature of Scotland—humor, ballads, poetry and general literature.

A number of books were also given to the public library from the library of Judge Simonton. In the distribution of the Grace Church Sunday school library, a number of children's books were given to the public library.

EYE

What does a dollar—or so on a pair of eyeglasses amount to compared to the good or harm they may do? It stands to reason, backed by experience, that "a bargain" articial seldom if ever as good as one at a regular price. We put all the skill, care and knowledge we can in every air of glasses we fit. We operate our own factory and our charges are fair and moderate for first-class service. Furthermore our reputation and guarantee is back of our work.
