School Days are here

*That Is to Say---They Will Be Here One Week
From Today*

To mother it is one and the same. She must prepare this week and supply the numerous essentials in dress in order that her girls may be properly clad for the beginning of school. She endeavors to solve the school girl's dress problem and often wonders how so and so can afford to get so many clothes on her allowance and always be so well dressed. And yet, if she were to go over the items of the wardrobe of the neighbor's girl she would find that they were very few, indeed. How does she do it? By careful planning and wise spending.

We are prepared to be of utmost assistance in helping girls plan their wardrobes for the coming season. We know just what they need, and have prepared amply for all the occasions of study, sport and social recreation. They cannot help creating an impression of being well and smartly dressed, and mothers who counsel daughters in matters of dress or buy for them will find the Bowman merchandise as low in price as it is possible to secure it for elsewhere and as dependable in quality as the market affords.
