

BIG ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN READY

Advantages of Southern California Will Be Heralded

Los Angeles, Aug. 26.—An international advertising campaign in which thousands of dollars will be spent in heralding the advantages possessed by California, and especially Southern California, which makes it an ideal manufacturing and industrial location, will be conducted prior to the Pan-American Trade Conference which will be held here sometime next May, following the Pan-American Trade Convention in San Francisco, at which hundreds of business men from all parts of the world will be in attendance. Plans for the big conference are now being laid by the Chamber of Commerce and the Foreign Trade Club of this city. All industries and associations in the United States, interested in overseas commerce will be asked to help make the conference a success. Pacific Coast Chambers of Commerce, as well as foreign trade organizations will probably lend assistance.

SPARTACANS GOT GERMAN MONEY

Public Funds Taken in Loot During the Revolution

Berlin, Aug. 26.—Enormous amounts of public money were diverted into the pockets of the Spartacans during the revolution in Berlin last winter, which was led by the then Chief of Police Eickhorn, according to information obtained by a Parliamentary Commission which is investigating the administration of the fugitive former police chief. Police officials who have examined Eickhorn's ledger say it is impossible to determine how much was the amount taken by the Spartacans. Evidence has been submitted that Eickhorn's security guard who was on duty at the railway station during the outbreak helped himself to six million marks of army funds which had been brought from Rumania. Auditors asserted that Eickhorn made frequent raids on the official treasury through faked requisitions and even drew funds for which no accounts were rendered. In one instance, these are alleged to have totalled more than 300,000 marks. One hundred thousand cigars and 170 smoked hams confiscated by the old police regime have mysteriously disappeared.

WOULD HAVE GOVERNMENT OPERATE ALL REFRIGERATOR CARS ON EQUAL TERMS

Federal Trade Commission Points Out That 90 Per Cent. of This Railroad Equipment Is Owned by the Five Big Chicago Packers

Washington, Aug. 26.—Ascribing to private car lines a position as one of the principal factors in the concentration of control of the American meat industry, and showing that the Big Five Chicago packers own more than 90 per cent of the equipment suitable for shipment of fresh beef and carcass meats, the Federal Trade Commission today made public a special "Private Car Line Report" to the President. It recommends as a remedy that all cars used for the transportation of meat animals and all refrigerator cars and equipment be operated on equal terms to all shippers. "These most important types of private cars considered," says the Commission's letter of transmittal to the President, "are the brine tank refrigerator car equipped for the transportation of dressed meat carcasses, and the ventilator refrigerator car suitable for packing house products and for vegetables and fruits. The three principal classes of owners are the packers, the railroads, and private car companies leasing their equipment to shippers and railroads. The complete report will be ready for distribution within two weeks. Packers Own Most Cars. Extensive ownership of brine tank refrigerator cars by the five big packers is a principal factor in their control of the meat industry, the report says. On December 31, 1917, they owned 15,454 brine tank cars, adapted to the shipment of fresh beef and carcass meats, which is over 90 per cent of the total equipment of this type of car. Their ownership, until recently, of accessory facilities such as icing stations and platforms located advantageously in trunk line territory, strengthened their control over the industry. In turn, the volume of traffic of the five packers has enabled them to secure from the railroads advantages over competing shippers. Formerly in the shape of direct rebates, these advantages are now usually in expedited service to the big packer cars; in favorable mixing rules which include all their diversified products and even many articles not related to the packing industry; by allowances paid to some of the big packers by the railroads for the performance of a part of the transportation service; by favorable arrangements and lease of stockyards by the railroads to some of the big packers; and by the sale to the railroads of bumping posts

MUNITION IS SENT TO MEXICO

Gunboats Will Endeavor to Intercept Ship With Its Cargo

New York, Aug. 26.—Ten trunks containing arms and ammunition were shipped from this city to Mexico on the steamship Morro Castle which sailed last Friday for Havana, for Progresso and Vera Cruz, according to information obtained yesterday by detectives attached to the bomb squad. The trunks were shipped from a Broadway hotel. The Department of Justice and the Navy Department have been notified and it is expected gunboats will be sent out to intercept the steamship. The bomb squad detectives, who have been investigating reports of secret ammunition stores here, first learned of the shipment through discovery of a bill of sale showing 17,000 pounds of ammunition and 350 pounds of "talcum" powder had been purchased on August 16 from a large sporting goods house in this city and consigned to an address which the detectives found to be fictitious. They discovered that the explosives had actually found their way to a Broadway hotel, where two men, believed to have been agents of the Mexican government, were registered under the name of "John Doe." The detectives believe they took passage on the Morro Castle with the ten trunks of ammunition. After the hotel had searched for additional stores of explosives, the detectives raided an uptown restaurant, where they found several more trunks, believed to contain ammunition. A package labelled "talcum powder" and several rifles also were seized at the restaurant.

MAKES ATTACK ON PALMER

Senator Calls His Confirmation as Attorney General "Whitewash"

Washington, Aug. 26.—Attacking the administration of A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, Senator Freelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, in a speech in the Senate late yesterday characterized the report of the Senate Judiciary Committee recommending confirmation of Mr. Palmer's nomination as Attorney General as a "Whitewash." The New Jersey Senator urged adoption of the Calder resolution directing an investigation of the alien property custodian's office as administered by Mr. Palmer and Francis P. Garvan, the present custodian. Senator Freelinghuysen read from testimony given before the Judiciary committee during its hearings and from editorial appearing in the New York World inquiring as to the identity of the "M. P." named in certain letters found in the possession of Dr. Albert, the German agent, and which he quoted the World as alleging referred to Mr. Palmer. He also quoted the Times of May 9, 1919, as crediting Mr. Palmer with the statement that the Lusitania carried war munitions upon her fatal trip and that her sinking did not justify the United States entering the war.

Visit to Morgue Cures Speed Demons

Chicago, Aug. 26.—"It's a good idea—ought to stop speeding," said Deputy Coroner Samuel L. Davis as he conducted a party of strangely quiet motorists to their duty door of the county morgue to their waiting motorcars. He stood and watched with a grim smile as the motorists drove away. Sam Davis has been at the trade of deputy coroner and in morgues and hospitals so long that he is almost hardened to it. But such was not the case with the motorists caught speeding and sentenced by Judge Stelk to view the bodies of persons killed recently by hard driving motorists. There were four bodies—a man who left a widow and six children, another who left a still larger family and two little children. Sam Davis conducted the motorists through that strange sentence through the morgue. They said little, with the exception of one of them. He that he had been going thirty-five miles an hour, but "never again." "It's curing them," said the deputy coroner.

King Liholiho Shocks New England Women

Kohala, Hawaii, Aug. 26.—It is recorded that when the first missionaries landed from Boston in the brig Thaddeus, that the redskins of the New England women in the party were greatly shocked when, as the brig lay at anchor in Kailua Bay, King Liholiho came on shipboard to pay his respects clad in a "narrow waist girdle, a green silk scarf thrown over his shoulders, a necklace of large beads, and a crown of scarlet feathers." Soon after the missionaries had got settled in their own house on shore, the King, accompanied by his five wives, called on them without one stitch of clothing, came to visit them again. It was hinted that he would receive more cordial welcome if he should don a different style of dress when he called. He returned the next day in an elaborate costume consisting of silk stockings and a cocked hat!
