TO PRESENT LOVING CUP

To Class Having Largest Representation at Central High Alumni Picnic Thursday

In the window of the shop of P. G. Diener, Market street jeweler, a handsome loving cup is attracting much attention. Because of this trophy Central class spirit runs high and present day students vie with their mothers and dads, who attended the institution some years ago, in boasting the Central High Alumni picnic to be held at Hershey Thursday.

What person interested in the big event has not heard of the committee offer of a prize to the class having the largest percentage of attendance? And what class is not striving to win by having all its members present? There will be a registration booth open all day with a record of attendance will be rigidly kept and the above mentioned loving cup will be awarded to the class boasting the greatest number enrolled for the day's festivities.

Older classes, not withstanding the fact that their strength is greatly impaired by time, will turn out fully prepared to compete with students of later years. Some of the latter have made personal canvasses to insure a large representation.

The special committee of 1915 met last evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Helman, 1222 N. Third street to complete plans for fifteen's participation in the event. A class registration booth will be opened in the Hershey Press building and various stunts will be staged during the day. The committee comprises Miss Sarah Bacon, Miss Lillian Miller, Miss Helen Wallis, Miss Martha Miller, Mrs. Fredrick Dapp, Mrs. Aloysius Delone, Karl Peters, Clarence Cooper, Richard Hamer and Frederick Lyter.
