Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

one or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and sliky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

Packard Responsibility Insures Low Truck Transportation Cost

The Packard Company Stands Squarely For Final Economy -That It Is to Your Advantage to Pay An Increased Initial Charge of Half a Cent a Mile When It Decreases Your Transportation Cost Two to Five Cents a Mile

TOU often hear men say that the motor truck so-and-so built in a certain year was better than his trucks built in other years. No change in design perhaps, but there was a let-down somewhere. That is what comes of building a truck to meet a price and not to deliver a definite service.

Among builders of motor trucks the temptation during the months to come will be to offset increasing labor costs by paring down on materials. There are two or three reasons why this is so, peculiar to the motor truck business.

First the manufacturing practice of the greater number of makers of trucks, really assemblers, of buying their parts of other manufacturers, leaves them no alternative other than to accept a higher price or poorer parts.

Second the selling practice of allowing an excessive used value on trucks they wish to replace, thereby indirectly cutting their price, almost forces them to make up the difference by skimping materials.

Skimping material may keep down initial investment, but it raises transportation costs, increasingly during the years the truck is in use.

As the Packard people see it, the Packard truck built this year will still be giving service in 1930, perhaps in 1935.

Being sellers of transportation it is their business to so build their truck that it will deliver efficient and low cost transportation five or ten years

With this very definite task in mind there is only one thing to do.

See to it that every quality that will insure low cost transportation be kept in Packard trucks regardless of the necessary cost.

Never before in the history of the motor truck in this country was it so necessary to talk to transportation experts as now, when it is getting to be more and more difficult to recognize
