Designing millinery will always remain an art: It can never be reduced to the rigid formulae which would make it a science. It can never be standardized. Beautiful the talent and taste of some one artist.

A beautiful hat is in a very real sense an inspired product. And a gifted designer of hats is likely to be subject to all the baffling moods, the ebb and flow of inspiration, to which all true artists are victims. But the conscientious artist of high aesthetic ideals always discards his less worthy examples.

So it is with Miss Golden. To me there is a fascination in watching her at work. To see a masterpiece develop under the magic touch of her deft fingers. To watch her fling aside with a gesture of disapproval some experimental effort. The public sees only her masterpieces. She is her own most severe critic. Our new Fall

Mass Meetins

The big mass meeting in the park theater in the afternoon, was the main feature of the event. Addresses were made by Dr. F. E. Downes, city superintendent of schools, and Lieutenant Governor E. E. Beidleman. Both emphasized the importance of the Alumni Association exerting its influence in behalf of the city schools. Harold Eckert, secretary, led the cheering. The next meeting of the Association will be held in the Central High chapel on Thursday night, September 11, it was decided.

The committee in charge of the arrangement had events moving all day for the entertainment of the former students. In addition, park amusements were in operation. The morning was devoted to sports of various kinds, which were conducted under the direction of Clarence Cooper, president of the class of 1916. Prizes were awarded as follows:
