

PLAY NEEDED IN LIFE OF A BOY

Interesting Decision Made by Compensation Commissioner John A. Scott Today

"Play for boys at intervals of their work is a most natural and reasonable recreation and indulgence in such pastime is to be expected and where no prohibition against it is enforced and insisted upon by the employer, it would seem to be presumptively permitted, especially where it is not shown that the play interfered with the working duties of the boys' rules Compensation Commissioner John A. Scott, in allowing compensation in the claim of Preston Siegfried vs. Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., Pottsville.

The claim was based on the fact that Siegfried, employed as a breaker boy, played "tag" in a waiting room of the company during the lunch hour and in running about the room fell over some sacks and was injured. Mr. Scott says that "the play indulged in surely was a natural and beneficial act" and was the same as smoking in the case of older workmen.

In the claim of Francis Strohl, Nesquehoning, against the Eastern Pennsylvania Railway, Mr. Scott rules that the fact that the claimant was given a pass on the railway line in return for reading a magazine installed by the company on the Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, lustrous and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

property of the concern for which Strohl worked, made him an employee. As he was injured the railway company must pay compensation although it contended that he was not on a car of the electric line.

Compensation is also awarded to Minerva Ford, Philadelphia, against the Cambridge Mutual Benefit Assn., on the ground that her husband was fatally hurt while on business for the association, although he had been engaged in occasional work for an insurance concern as a side line. A new hearing is ordered in Eberle vs. Worthington Pump and Machinery Co., Hazleton.

Expect Little Trouble—Little difficulty is expected by Superintendent Thomas W. Templeton of the State Board of Public Grounds and Buildings, in acquiring the first properties needed for the construction of the new Memorial bridge in Capitol Park extension for which the first steps were taken to-day. Owners of nineteen properties on the north side of State street, between 12th and 13th streets were served with notice that the State needed the houses and that negotiations for purchase should begin at once. The State will take possession on April 1. The houses are in the line of the approach from Cameron street and the proposed water main to the highway.

Individual Power Contracts—The first application to be made in months by an individual to furnish electric light and power to municipalities was made to the Public Service Commission to-day. Governor Wants Judges Elected Governor William C. Sprout yesterday afternoon declared in Philadelphia that he was going "to sit on the grandstand and watch the game played" for the Philadelphia majority and that not only would he be neutral, but that no one connected with the State Government would be interfered with because of refusal to pay assessments to one faction or another.

The Governor said that he wished to see Judges J. P. McCullen and George W. B. Brumbaugh, to full terms. Both are appointees, the latter of Dr. Brumbaugh's. Vane opposition to both has been manifested.

To-day the Governor is in Washington where he will meet national officials, take up the Maurer matter and also discuss National Guard affairs with Adjutant General Berry, who is at the capital. The Governor is not expected here until next Tuesday or Wednesday.

DESCRIBES HIS RISE TO POWER

Atanasije Shola Is Now President of Bosnia-Herzegovina

Sarajevo, Aug. 29.—One of the men who were arrested by Austrian authorities after the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand in 1914, is now president of the provincial government of Bosnia-Herzegovina and is recognized as one of the leaders in the new kingdom of Jugoslavia. He is Atanasije Shola. He was kept in prison at hard labor during the war. To-day, in his office in what was formerly part of an Austrian palace, Mr. Shola described his years in prison and subsequent rise to power. He is a Herzegovian, 42 years old and considered to be a man of exceptional ability.

"One hundred and fifty-six of us were placed under arrest in July, 1914," he said. "There was no proof that I was in sympathy with the Jugo-Slav propaganda, but the authorities suspected what was in my heart. Sixteen of the men arrested at that time were condemned to death. The death penalties were not executed, because of the remonstrance by the King of Spain, but the prison sentences were all made effective."

"I went to prison on July 25, 1914. My cell was a small one—a mere cage, and I was kept at hard labor. In October of 1918, the people of Bosnia-Herzegovina, as in other Jugo-Slav provinces of the Austrian empire, anticipated the debacle of the empire, and organized a National Council for the conduct of affairs. As soon as the Austrian army fled this council came into full executive power and the men wrongly imprisoned were liberated. I was released from prison on November 1, 1918, and almost immediately was chosen by the National Council as president of the government of Bosnia-Herzegovina. I was in sympathy with the central Jugo-Slav government at Belgrade.

BEGIN CAMPAIGN AGAINST "QUACK" MEDICINE

Federal Authorities Will Suppress This Variety of Medicine

Washington, Aug. 29.—Four hundred and fifty seizures of so-called remedies for various diseases have been made recently under the food and drug act by Federal officials who have inaugurated a campaign to suppress this variety of "quack" medicine. In making this announcement to-day the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture issued a general warning that use of such "remedies" was extremely dangerous and likely to lead to a long period of suffering.

"The goods seized include a great variety of compounds," said the bureau's announcement. "Some of the labels bear the claim of the manufacturer that the contents are sure cures. Some even contain statements that cures will be effected within definite periods."

"In all the seizure actions the government alleged the preparations to be falsely and fraudulently labeled. Such preparations are sold largely because of plausible but false claims regarding their curative effect. Many sufferers are led to believe that cures will be effected by these preparations. In order that the best and most competent medical supervision is neglected until permanent injury to health and even danger to life has resulted."

Trolley Cars Again Run in Pittsburgh; Men Accept Award

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—Street car service, suspended two weeks ago by a strike of 3,000 motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Railway Company was resumed at 6 o'clock this morning. The strikers, by a vote of 2,082 to 408, decided to return to work, thereby accepting "under protest" the National War Labor Board's award of five cents an hour increase in wages. The men demanded a 12-cent raise.

The carmen's vote came at the conclusion of a stormy meeting which was addressed by William B. Fitzgerald, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Car and Electric Employees. Hoots and jeers greeted his plea that the men live up to their agreement with the trolley company's decision to abide by the labor board's decision and return to work. Mr. Fitzgerald then took a firmer stand and told the strikers that they would "be thrown out of the intersection unless they ended the tie-up," concluding with the declaration that "cars are going to be run in Pittsburgh if United States soldiers have to be brought here to do it."

Planes' Spectacular Stunts Thrill N. Y.

New York, Aug. 29.—Three Army airplanes, flying in triangle formation, flew under the five bridges of the East river late yesterday in a spectacular aerial feat. The planes before going under the first bridge crossed a high altitude and then rolled down under the first structure in a sort of rolling fashion, repeating the maneuver as they neared each bridge.

At about the same time Major O. Lees, formerly of the Royal Air Force, leaped in a parachute from a seaplane flying at a height of 200 feet. He landed head first, but unharmed in the waters of the bay, near the Statue of Liberty. He was picked up by a motorboat.
