West End to Clash With the Reading Railway Team,

Allison Hill fans will turn out in body to root for their favorites, the Reading Railways team, that will oppose the West End nine Monday afternoon in the first of the series of five games for the chainpionship of the city. Reading folcwers believe their offense will be lowers believe their offense will be unbeatable.

To begin with, there is Mellinger, whom the West Enders have every reason to fear. He has had 'plenty of experience with the Klein team, and should win at least two games for the Hillers. In case Mellinger does not start Labor Day, "Dutch" Conner will likely be chosen. "Dutch" has had one of the best seasons of his long career. He can be depended upon to bring home the game if there is any kind of hitting back of him.

Second Game on Hill
Following the game Monday, the scene of conflict will switch to the Allison Hill diamond Tucsday night. These twilight games will begin at 6 o'clock because of the shortening evenings. Thursday night the two teams will battle on the West End grounds, and if the title is not then decided, the fourth game will be played on the Island Saturday afternom.

"Dick" Nebinger has been selected for the umpire to represent the Allison Hill League. "Dick" has gone through a very successful season, and has made the play the creanest in the history of the Hill organization. It is probable that "Clint" White will be chosen as the arbiter from the roster of West End umpires.

White has officiated in games in the Bethlehem Steel, West End and Dauphin Perry leagues during the past scason. These two officials are expected to give both the teams and the patrons perfect satisfaction.

A feature of the Hill team's play will be the work of the Swartzes. George is catcher and assistant manager of the Reading outfit. Brother "Mose" is the juvenile player who has attracted quite a bit of attention this season. A cousin, "Kinney" Swartz, will play second base. These athletes are from the lower end of the city, and have been identified with the railroaders for several scasons.

Once the city winner has been decided they will be pitted against the Dauphin-Perry champions.
