SOCIALISTS ARE TORN BY STRIFE AT CONVENTION Left Wing of Party Thrown Out Before Order Is Obtained

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Strife developed in the ranks of the Socialist party, which presaged a split, before Adolph Germer, national secretary was able to call to order the opening session of the national convention here today. Delegates of the so-called left wing of the party were forcibly put out of the hall by policemen because Secretary Germer said they were trying to pack the convention by seating delegates who had no credentials.

Although many delegates were not clear as to the difference between the left and right wings of the party, the principal difference appeared to be that the left wing wanted to have a proletarian dictatorship and some even to go so far as to suggest an abolition of political action. It was explained that the breach in the party has been widening for some time and the trouble to-day was the result. Some said they would resign and wanted to adopt a program modeled after the Russian Socialists.

their base at Shavil, where they also have established a general staff. Their line of occupation from north to south is Vilkovishki at the mouth of the Dubissa river; thence to the village of Janishki. They are under the ostensible leadership of the Russian General Bergman, but their real commander, M. Steibko declared, is the German general Von Der Goltz. They control the railway lines in all the occupied territory. They number 37,000 Germans and 2,000 Russians, all wearing German uniforms.

Schumann-Heink Comes Back Without Grandchildren

The Hague, Aug. 30.—Mme. Schumann-Heink, who sailed for New York on the Rotterdam, was obliged to return to America without having accomplished the errand on which she came to Holland, namely, to take her grandchildren, who are now in Germany, back to America to educate and make American citizens of them. The children's father, who was German, was killed in the war and the mother's mind was affected by grief. Mme. Schumann-Heink's idea was to make Americans of her grandchildren, but American passport regulations proved an insurmountable obstacle.

FEAR MONARCHY AGAIN

Vienna, Thursday, Aug. 28.—News dispatches from Budapest and editorial comment in Hungarian newspapers very generally express the belief that the events in Hungary presage a return to the monarchial form of government, it being declared the Christian Nationalist party are this week in this country. There are indications that there is a closer censorship of dispatches from Budapest.

Killed in Same Way His Friend Met Death

When Harry R. Gates, 526 Forrest street, fell under a draft of cars in the Rutherford Yards yesterday and was killed, he met a death similar to that met by a very close friend several years ago. This friend, Charles Woff, lived just a few doors from Gates' home in Forrest street. The two men held many interests in common and their friendship was one of the closest. Woff, at one time a State forester, secured employment on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad as a brakeman, and within several months met his death by falling from a car and being run over in the Rutherford yards.
