

Think 1847 Comet Back 3 Years Before Time

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 2.—The probability that Broesen's comet, discovered in 1847, has come into the range of observation three years before it was again due has developed in connection with observations of the first of two comets recently reported for South Hero, Vermont, by the Rev. Joel H. Metcalf.

given as 75 years, or it may have been detected by uneven attractions of the sun. Preliminary observations indicate that the probable time of Perihelion passage of the Broesen-Metcalf comet will be October 16, when it will be nearest the sun. Observations of the comet have been reported by astronomers from many parts of the world.

TREATS 'IM ROUGH

Charged with aggravated assault and battery, Alice Williams, 1212 Monroe street, was held under $500 bail for court at yesterday afternoon's sessions of police court. She cut Clarence Williams with a razor and broke a vase over his head, it was charged.

"OZONE PARTY" NETS $350

So successful was the "Ozone Party" held last week in South Sixteenth street, for the benefit of the Church of the Holy Cross, that it was continued a third night through popular demand, the net proceeds being $350.

INSPECTION FOR STATE'S SCHOOLS

It Will Be Started Promptly by the Commonwealth — More Inspectors Named

Medical inspection will start in a few days at every school district of Pennsylvania with the opening week of the schools, the plans for extension of inspection having been developed during the summer in many districts. The cities have also planned some additional care for the children.

The State Department of Health has announced the appointment of the following medical inspectors of the following counties: Bradford county; Westfield borough and Brookfield township, Tioga county; Dr. D. A. Patterson for Westfield and Clymer townships, Tioga county; Dr. G. D. Castlebury for Union township, Tioga county; Dr. C. Manville Pratt for Towanda borough, Monroe, North Towanda, Shesqueh and Towanda townships, Bradford county; Dr. E. M. Ellsworth for Dorranceton borough, Luzerne county; Dr. W. B. Stricker for Shickelmyer borough and Union townships, Luzerne county; Dr. V. C. Heckler for Factoryville and Nicholson boroughs, Wyoming county; Dr. B. B. Cook for Conynsham township, Luzerne county.

Hearings Resumed—The Public Service Commission to-day resumed hearings here, but will not have an executive session. Hearings will be held in this city and Allentown during the week. The State Workmen's Compensation Board also resumed hearings for the fall in this city.

Registrars Named—The following appointments have been announced by the State Department of Health: First assistant at genito-urinary dispensary, Philadelphia, Dr. Edwin S. Philadelphia; registrar of vital statistics, William Dodds, Pittsburgh, for Dormont borough and Union township, Allegheny county; Jacob H. Hetrick, Beavertown, for Beavertown, Beaver, West Beaver, Adams and Spring townships, Snyder county; Henry W. Carson, State Run, for Cummings, McHenry, Brown and Pine townships, Lycoming county.

The New Guard—Further steps for the preliminary organization of the National Guard of Pennsylvania will be taken by Adjutant General Frank D. Beary this month acting with Major General W. G. Price, Jr., the commanding officer, but final action will not be taken until after the passage of the new militia law by Congress. Matters in connection with the armories will be considered at a meeting of the Army Board in Philadelphia next Tuesday.

Governor to Attend—Governor Sproul has accepted the invitation of Palmyra citizens to speak at the welcome home to the soldiers of that section on Saturday.

To Attend Encampment—George W. Rhoads, of the Department of Internal Affairs, commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, and Col. John B. Patrick, of the State Department, will be among the Capitol Hill people to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. at Columbus.

Named Distributor—R. F. Ligan, of Steelton, has been named an anti-toxin distributor for the State Department of Health.

Attending Institute—Dr. G. K. Strode, chief of the division of school hygiene of the Department of Health, is attending the Montgomery county teachers' institute.

At Bedford—A. B. Millar, secretary of the Public Service Commission, is enjoying his vacation at Bedford Springs.

Attending Fair—Representatives of the State Department of Agriculture are attending the Philadelphia county fair at Byberry, which opened yesterday.

Back to Work—Departments of the State government resumed the business to-day after being closed since Friday. Vacation times are about over on Capitol Hill.

New Examiners at Work—The newly-appointed State Board examiners have been assigned to work. It is probable that others will be named later on in the month.

Recycled Season—The redbird season is recalled in many parts out along the Delaware.

Watch Influenza—Officials of the State Department of Health say that the recent influenza epidemic in York, Luzerne and other counties of Pennsylvania do not indicate that it is an annual type of influenza. It is probable that it does not show signs of the preliminary cases of the serious outbreak which occurred about eleven months ago in this state. It was reported to-day that a certain number of cases of influenza have been reported in this State every summer and that the number heard of recently has been about normal. There is nothing thus far, it is stated at the Capitol, to indicate that there has been any recurrence of the epidemic of the kind which is now being kept and officers have been asked to investigate and report immediately upon symptoms of any influenza cases that develop. Preparations have been made by various branches of the State government to act in event of any increase in the number of cases and the precautions necessary are being urged by many physicians.

The Army Worm—Representatives of the State Bureau of Plant Industry, as the State's zoologist's office is now called, under the organization of the Department of Agriculture, will make investigations of reports of appearance of the army worm in the counties of York, Lancaster and Adams. Several localities have sent word of presence of pests similar to the worm which caused so much damage a few years ago and advice as to means to combat it will be given. Steps are also being taken to ascertain the effect of the rust and other diseases of wheat and of the oriental moth in the State. Heliothis Growers have been asked to furnish State authorities with statements as to yield and to the activities of the pests.

More Telephones—The fourth application for approval of a charter for a telephone company to operate in western Pennsylvania to be received in three weeks has been listed for hearing by the Public Service Commission. The companies have all been organized in Westmoreland, Fayette and other counties in the soft coal and iron regions and will have rural connections. There has also been an increase in number of applications for charters for electric companies.

Will Return Soon—Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will return within a few days from a vacation trip during which he made a study of rural schools in various States. While deputy commissioner of education of New York, Dr. Finegan specialized in rural education problems. It is also probable that within a short time that State officials will have a conference in regard to questions raised in local communities over the teachers' salary increase act.

Governor Expected.—Governor William C. Sproul is expected at the Capitol late to-morrow or Thursday. It was stated at his office to-day. The Governor has a number of engagements for State board meetings, including a conference in regard to Capitol Park improvements.

The Old Wooden Car.—Letters calling attention to the use of the wooden passenger cars on express trains by the Pennsylvania railroad have been received at the Public Service Commission. Just what jurisdiction the commission has in the matter of the wooden cars beside steel ones or cars which do not have proper toilet facilities is a problem because of Federal control.

Moore at Gettysburg.—A number of Capitol Hill friends of Congressman J. Hampton Moore went to Gettysburg yesterday to hear him speak at the Labor Day celebration. The Congressman asked after friends at the State House and sent best wishes.

Miss Campbell Dead.—Miss Rose Campbell, head nurse at the Creson State sanatorium, died after a short illness.

Dr. Rowley Expected.—Dr. George H. Rowley, the new State geologist, is expected at the Capitol to-day. He will arrange to move from his home in Washington.

More Markets.—Governor William C. Sproul has attracted considerable attention in the newspapers by his advice to officials in markets as a means of cutting down the costs of living. The Governor's idea is that if people patronized to a greater extent the markets which bring farmers to towns there would be still more farmers coming in and the cost of handling foodstuffs would be lessened.

Sarig Protests.—Representative Wilcox G. Sarig of Berks county has filed a protest at the Capitol against the burning of old ties by the Reading Railway. It is said that arrangements have been made to sell old ties for wood hereabouts.

More Arrests Likely.—State Food agents have been busy in Philadelphia the last week and it is said that evidence has been gathered which will lead to a number of additional arrests for holding goods in storage longer than the law allows.

Postmasters of State to Open Convention Here

Three cabinet members will be among the speakers to address the sessions of the Pennsylvania Postmasters' convention which will open to-morrow at the Penn-Harris Hotel. Postmaster Frank C. Sites, of this city, will open the meeting and the Rev. Dr. Robert Bagnell will offer the invocation. Mayor Kester will deliver the address of welcome and the postmaster of Easton, Horace Lehr, who is president of the association, will return the salute. George S. Reineck, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, will also make an address. Among the speakers for the later sessions are included Postmaster General Albert S. Burleson, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, John C. Koons, First Assistant Postmaster General James J. Blacklee, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General; Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the War Trade Board; William D. McGinnis, past president of the association; George A. Leonard, inspector-in-charge; John A. Thornton, postmaster of Philadelphia, and others.

CALLS ON LABOR TO HELP IRELAND OBTAIN FREEDOM

De Valera Challenges Toilers to Aid People He Speaks For Throw Off Yoke

New York, Sept. 2.—Calling upon American labor to aid the cause of Irish freedom and urging closer cooperation between the workers of the various nations as the only means of defeating the "privileged class" in its efforts to "keep the masses of one nation at the mercy of the masses of another," Ramon De Valera, "president of the Irish Republic," addressed the Central Federated Union at a Labor Day meeting here yesterday.

De Valera later suggested that America test the sincerity of England through the Irish question. "Why should it be believed that England wants peace when she will give the only notice by which peace can be purchased—justice?" he said.

"It is important for America to know whether England wants peace and she they were plotting secret treaties and disposing of their military forces throughout the world, so that peace might find them in possession of more added territory than the only notice by which peace can be purchased—justice?" he said. "Premier Lloyd George was calling upon high heaven to witness that England had no selfish motive in the war."

Knoxville Quiet After Race Riots in Which Two Are Dead and 16 Hurt

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Under heavy patrol by National Guardsmen and special officers, following the race riots of Saturday night and Sunday morning in which two men were killed and sixteen sent to hospitals with wounds, Knoxville passed a quiet holiday. Two of those wounded in the main battle Saturday night are not expected to live. Sheriff Cate has caused the arrest of ten white men on charges of assisting prisoners to escape when the jail was attacked Saturday night. Other arrests on this charge and that of rioting are promised.

The all-outlet has impeded to such an extent that Adjutant General E. B. Sweeney sent home the Third battalion of the Fourth Tennessee Infantry, from the western counties of the State, and expects to release all other outside companies soon, leaving here the machine gun company, and one rifle company which have headquarters in Knoxville. Labor Day celebrations were held separately by the whites and negroes, as originally planned, the only change being in the scheduled parade was abandoned. No disorder of any kind was reported.

HURT MOWING GRASS Marietta, Pa., Sept. 2.—James A. Hertzog, employed on the Leeshor farm, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday while mowing grass. The mower struck him with such force that it hurled him from the machine against the fence, fracturing his ribs, cutting his face and injuring him internally.

Chief of Shopmen Sends Word to Toilers to Stay at Tasks For Present

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 2.—An order for a general strike of railroad shopmen in Buffalo and vicinity, voted at a secret meeting of union leaders held last Sunday night, was rescinded last night by Frank L. Hemerlein, executive head of the shopmen's organization on the New York Central lines. The strike would have affected about 15,000 workers in the railroad shops here and at Depew.

Countess Coming New York, Sept. 2.—Countess Lucrezia Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, sailed from Europe for this city on her way to Newport, where she will visit her mother, according to word received here. Because she is the wife of a Hungarian nobleman her large property holdings in this country were taken over by the Alien Property Custodian during the world war. She cannot recover them until Congress acts on war measures applying to her case and that of other American women in similar circumstances. She was married to Count Szechenyi in 1908. For several months she has been living in Switzerland.

FEWER ARRESTS

Disorderly practice arrested dropped from 162 in August, 1918, to forty-two in August, 1919, police dockets show. Prohibition is held to be responsible. The total number of arrests in August, 1918, was 246, while in August, 1919, but ninety-one were reported. But two of the arrests made in August were for drunkenness.

ENLISTS IN TRANSPORT

One of the most recent recruits for the Motor Transport Corps of the Army is Lloyd Cartright who arrived yesterday at the local recruiting station. Cartright gave his address as the United States of America, and signed up for a three-year enlistment.
