

NEW JUNIOR HIGH HELPS SCHOOL WORK

Faculty of Edison Building to Teach Many New Subjects to Former Grade Pupils

The boys and girls of the ninth grade who reported at the new Edison Junior High building were much pleased with the building and its equipment. Although the building is not entirely finished and some inconvenience will be suffered for some time the boys and girls are quite willing to undergo these for the splendid promise of the future. There is no doubt the boys and girls of eighth and seventh grades will be as much pleased when they report to-morrow morning and afternoon in the order named.

Because of the unfinished state of the building the authorities will not have the entire school report at any one session for some time. Until the building is entirely finished and the organization completed one half of the school will meet in the forenoon and the other half in the afternoon. Because of this arrangement the student will have a half-holiday doing one half of his daily program one day and the other half the next day. The principal hopes to get the boys and girls down to a full day's program in the near future.

In the meantime the faculty will be doing a great deal of work because of the fact that the building is new and that everything must be put in order. This means that the teacher, especially those who have to care for shops and laboratories will have much work to do when the students are absent. The teachers who do not have so much work to do, to put their rooms in order will be given work from the office of which there will be a great amount so that the records and such things will be properly cared for.

The subjects that have been taught heretofore and with the exception that the work will be done in English, these subjects will be much the same. In the classical or college prep sections the glaring difference is that the foreign languages have been begun a year or two earlier. This conforms to the best modern educational thought, so the authorities say.

It is in the courses of the children who do not expect to go to college that the greatest difference is found. The boys of this group who wish to follow the industrial course will find in the new building, shop and laboratory which will help them to find out if they are really suited for the trade they have chosen to follow. If they have not made a selection, these courses are designed to help them to make a choice so that the percentage of industrial misfits will be materially lowered and the economic and civic value of each individual will be greatly increased. There is a large range of industrial subjects including wood and metal working, printing, electricity and so forth.

Girls Have Chance

The girls of the industrial group have their chance too, for they will be taught to bake, sew, market, take care of the home and the thousand and one things that the busy woman finds to do. These things will be taught in the Domestic Sciences and Household Arts courses. They ought to do a great deal to make the life of the future homes of Harrisburg more attractive. Many educational authorities claim that these courses will do much to help the future generation give old H. C. L. the final K. O.

Commercial courses will be offered to the students of all grades and General Science, a subject that has not hitherto been offered will be offered to a majority of the students. The purpose here as in the shop courses is to help the child to find his or her particular bent early in life so that they will not be floundering in after life or be compelled to follow that work which is unpleasant to them in order to earn a living.

Good Health Necessary

These things are much to be desired, but those who are in charge of the educational interests of the city wish to give every boy and girl a chance to develop a good healthy body because they realize that good physical condition is at the basis of all success. For this purpose they have provided that every boy or girl of these schools must have some form of physical training under the direct supervision of a teacher. This training is also varied so that the robust boy or girl can indulge in athletics of the most vigorous nature and the weaker one will be provided with those drills and exercises that will help him to become strong. Folk dancing will be a feature of this part of the work.

Strong Faculty Provided

The school authorities have succeeded in forming a very strong faculty for the Junior High schools. Prof. Arthur E. Wallace, who has been elected principal of the Edison building, said that he is well pleased with the faculty and the splendid things that have been showing toward the organization of the work. Prof. Wallace needs no introduction to the people of Harrisburg for as former head of the English Department of Tech. he has many friends among the boys, not only because he was a good teacher, but also because he was a good friend. Prof. Wallace is assisted in his office work by Miss Ruth M. Stroh, a very efficient secretary.

Have Efficient Coach

Eugene Miller (Shorty) is the very efficient and popular supervisor of Athletics and Physical Training. During his Central High School days, he was a popular leader in all athletic activities and was a star guard and captain of the State College eleven, when he was a student there. Mr. Miller was a former member of the strong Bethlehem Steel League, a former coach at Tech, and a former physical director of the Pine Street Boyd Memorial Gymnasium. The school is to be congratulated in securing him.

Miss Irene M. Burns will have charge of the girls' Athletics and Physical Training. She is a graduate of the State's Physical Training School of Harvard and is well qualified to care for all branches of physical training and folk dancing.

Teaching Corps

The following will teach English Literature and Composition: Misses Naomi P. Barf, Lillie M. Miller, Sue Sparrow, Annie K. Laurie, Caroline Sparrow, Rebecca Orth, Elizabeth A. Dum, Mary G. Edwards and Mary L. Irwin. Miss Mary H. Bechtold will teach Latin and English. Miss Helen M. Smith will also teach Latin, and Miss Julia J. Ryan will teach English and History. Three of the above named teachers were former principals of schools in this city. Miss Orth was principal of the Lincoln Building, Miss Edwards was principal of the Stephen Building, and Miss Ryan was principal of the Webster Building.

The following teachers have charge of courses in Mathematics: Miss Catherine D. Gehard, Miss Margaret M. Sullivan, former assistant principal of the Shimmel Building, Miss Sylvia A. Zerbe, Miss Jennie B. Fritz, Miss Olga M. Meloy, and Dr. Denton M. Albright, former supervisor principal of schools at Hanover, Pa. Last spring Mr. Albright had charge of the baseball team at Tech and will without doubt have charge of some of the baseball activities at Edison Junior.

Civics and History will be taught by Miss Clara E. Seigelbaum, Miss M. Maude Sherwood, Miss Elizabeth Meloy, Miss Elizabeth Knox and W. A. Brunner. Mr. Brunner has taught History at Lebanon Valley Academy, York High School and Tech. He will also teach some courses in General Science. Paul B. Faust, a former teacher of Steelton and Tech, will also teach General Science.

Edison High is especially fortunate to have the services of Miss Anna O'Connell as a French teacher.

Miss O'Connell teaches French by the direct method and she is well prepared to do so because as a child, she spoke nothing but French until she was eleven years of age and since that time the greater part of her conversation in her home life has been in that language. There is no question but that the direct method of instruction will be afforded opportunities rarely offered to high school students.

Music Is Taught

Miss Ida C. Warwick will teach Commercial and Industrial Geography, Miss Gilbert, Typewriting and Penmanship, Miss M. Ella Ryan will direct the work in Music and have charge of the orchestra and all musical activities of the school. Miss Edna W. Mohler, a former teacher of drawing in the grade schools is director of freehand drawing and art and Miss Marion R. Lutz is assistant to Miss Mohler and head of the mechanical drawing department. Miss Lutz is well qualified for her work as she has had practical experience in the work as a mechanical draughtsman for the Baldwin Locomotive Works.

The domestic science department is in charge of Miss Anna Mae Bender and Miss Bently. Miss Bender was a former teacher of cooking at Central High school during Miss Hamilton's absence on war service. Miss Bently is a graduate of the Temple University School of Cooking and is an experienced teacher. Miss S. Lorraine Heagy has charge of domestic arts. She is a college girl and has taken the academic courses and has practical experience as a teacher of sewing in Y. W. C. A. work. Miss Heagy is assisted by Miss Bessie March.

Army Man on Staff

The shop work will be directed by J. Edward Hiller, a graduate of Williamson Trades who before his enlistment in the Army was a teaching and working in the schools in Indianapolis and more recently mechanical draughtsman for Robbins Ross Jones, Mr. Grove, a Harrisburg who is a graduate of a Philadelphia Trades school, with several years' practical experience in shop work and Mr. Guest, another graduate of Williamson Trades school also in charge of shop work. In addition there will be a teacher of electricity, and a man in charge of the print shop, a man in charge of wood and one of mechanical drawing.

Carriers Denounce Burleson as Czar and Ask For His Removal

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—Further denunciation of Postmaster General Burleson and of the inefficiency of present postal practice, and resolutions for betterment of the conditions of postal employees, marked the second day's meeting of the letter carriers convention.

James Worcester, of Toledo, Ohio, Railway Post Office Clerk, spoke for the immediate retirement of Burleson.

"There can be no peace or amity in the contest between postal employees and the present management of the postal system until the autocrat, Burleson, is removed from the job he has dishonored—yes, I can say dishonored. Organized labor is with you until Burleson is retired to his home in Texas, from which he never should have been called."

Other speakers supplemented Worcester's remarks, among them Congressman Henry Goldfoale, of New York, who is a member of the House committee on the efficiency of the postal office and post roads. He pointed out the inefficiency of the present management by which it took a special delivery letter twelve days to travel from Washington to Cleveland.

Testimony in Case of Men Charged With Death of Girl Is in Jury's Hands

By Associated Press.

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—Testimony in the trial of James Crawford, a farmhand charged with the murder last May of Emma Austraw, 19-year-old school teacher of Derry township, was given to the jury in criminal court here today by Lieutenant Thomas J. McLaughlin, of the State Police. Lieutenant McLaughlin arrested Crawford and John Eason, another suspect, who is awaiting trial in connection with the girl's death.

McLaughlin said he had investigated the case since the girl's disappearance April 23 and that Crawford in an alleged signed confession admitted being present when Miss Austraw was attacked. He testified, however, that Crawford declared in the alleged confession that it was Ray who shot the girl and hid her body in an outhouse on an abandoned farm.

The only other witness called was State Trooper James A. McHugh, who assisted McLaughlin in the investigation.

CUDAHY'S PLEAD GUILTY

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 3.—Cudahy Brothers Company, packers, yesterday pleaded guilty in the District Court to two three violations of the cold storage law and was fined the maximum amount on each charge, totaling $2,300.

American Legion Will Get Warm Reception When Delegates Arrive

Governor W. C. Sprout, in behalf of the State, and Mayor D. L. Keister, for the city, will officially welcome the delegates to the first State convention of the American Legion to be held in this city October 2, 3 and 4. Arrangements are now being concluded for the convention.

Major General William G. Price, a member of the National Executive Committee of the American Legion, who was present at the Paris caucus on March 17, 1918, when the American Legion was formed, will be one of the speakers. During next week each post in the State will elect its delegates to the convention. Each post is entitled to a delegate and an alternate and an additional delegate and alternate for each one hundred members.

The tentative program for the convention has been arranged with the idea of giving the delegates the utmost freedom of action. The morning of Thursday, October 2, will be given over to registration and validation of credentials. The first session of the convention will be held in the afternoon. A chairman and a secretary for the convention will first be chosen. Then the program for the convention will be adopted and the various committees named. An elaborate entertainment is planned for the evening. On the morning of Friday, there will be a meeting of the State Executive Committee and the other committees of the convention. In the afternoon these committees will report and their reports will be acted upon. That night there will be another entertainment.

Final reports will be submitted by the committees on Saturday morning, October 4. Then will follow the election of delegates, alternates and delegates-at-large to the national convention to be held at Minneapolis on November 10, 11 and 12.

It has been officially announced that Pennsylvania will be entitled to four delegates and alternates to the national convention under the constitution and to one delegate and one alternate for each one thousand memberships paid up thirty days before the national convention. In addition to these delegates and alternates authorized by the constitution of the American Legion, a number of delegates-at-large equal to twice the United States Senate and House of Representatives representation is authorized.

The direct result of the State convention will be the elimination of the volunteer workers who have carried the organization of the American Legion forward in this State. Their work having been completed to the point of making the convention possible, the first action will be to turn the convention over to the delegates representing the membership-at-large.

STRIKE NEARS END

New York, Sept. 3.—The actors' strike which has kept closed virtually all of New York's playhouses during the last twenty-five days is nearing an end, according to reports persistently circulated in the theatrical circles here last night. Nothing authoritative, however, could be learned as to how a settlement of the strike was to be effected.

Four shows now closed because of the strike will open within the next week, the report insisted.
