Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose o. Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

inlet members his plans for calling the conference of labor and industry, the plans for which were first announced in his Labor Day address.

It was announced at the White House that representatives of agriculture as well as labor and capital will be invited to the conference which the President will call early in October.

The identity of those who will receive the first invitations was not divulged, but it is believed that in the list are Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor;

While this conference to deal with conditions in the United States is in progress there will be a conference here known as the international labor conference to discuss labor conditions as laid down by the Treaty with Germany.

Whether the international conference meets at the same time or not as the labor conference to be called by President Wilson, the labor conference is sure to have a vital bearing upon the international conference when it does finally assemble.

Secretary Lane, who first suggested this conference last week when the situation between capital and labor became tense, was authorized by President Wilson to work out the details for the conference and devise means of making it successful.

BIG REPUBLICAN REGISTRATION IN CITY

more strongly anti-Wilson, the big registration is easily accounted for.

City Campaign Is Brisk

The primary campaign has taken on new activity since the Labor Day vacation period and from now until election the various candidates will be busy.

George A. Hoover, who has the support of the Republican organization in the city, is conducting a very quiet but what his friends say is an effective campaign and they express confidence of his nomination.

Mayor Keister is also a candidate to succeed himself and is getting round quite a bit.

On the Democratic side Dr. G. W. Hartman, head of the Keystone Hospital, who was defeated for coroner last time, is the organization choice for mayor.

McNair, out-and-out labor advocate, was the only man on the ticket up to the last minute, but the Democratic bosses here declined to stand for him.

Charles W. Burtnett, Dr. Samuel F. Hassler, William H. Lynch and E. Z. Gross, present incumbents, are admittedly in the lead for renomination on the Republican ticket.

Dr. Hassler, who has had charge of the water and health departments, has plans under way for big improvements which he hopes to make the coming year.

Strange to say there is some appearance of a contest for Council in the Democratic party.

Harry H. Grant, William S. Rhoads, Calder B. Shanno, George J. Shoemaker and George D. Toomey being the aspirants the last named striving for place in the opposing party as well.

James G. Miles is the only Democratic candidate for city treasurer, but on the Republican side there is a sharp contest for the nomination between Clarence E. Oves and Clarence E. Weber.

When city treasurers were elected by Council and he wants a second term, Oves has been prominent in city politics for years, as chairman of the Republican city committee.

He served a short term as city treasurer and is well known in business circles. He has the backing of the Republican organization.

DeWitt A. Fry, former councilman and at present city controller, is a candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket with bright prospects for success, his friends say.

Harry R. Brown is his opponent. He and George J. Shoemaker, Democratic aspirant for Council, are the only solid candidates on the ticket.

G. C. Berkheimer is the sole Democratic candidate for controller.

GOVERNMENT OF LAWS, NOT MEN, URGED BY ROOT

Former Secretary of State Cites Chaos in Russia and Unrest in U. S.

Boston, Sept. 3.—A plea for "a government of laws, not of men," was made yesterday by Elihu Root, former Secretary of State.

Contrasting the high cost of living with the fact that in spite of it there was never such extravagance as the former secretary added that never before previously had there been such difficulty in getting the ordinarily industrious people of common sense down to work.

Deportation as the most effective means of solving the problem of radicalism in this country was advocated before the attorneys general by Charles D. Newton, attorney general of New York.

Attorney General John G. Price, of Ohio, advocated complete Federal supervision of cold storage plants. His suggestion that the association draft uniform laws regarding hoarding, margins of profits, etc., for submission to all States was followed by the introduction of a resolution to this effect by Deputy Attorney General William M. Hargest of Pennsylvania. The resolution, which suggested that the national conference of commissioners on uniform State laws, now in session here, co-operate in drafting legislations to govern price fixing was tabled temporarily.
