The story is not a defense or justification of the German crimes, plots and atrocities. It is a frank confession in detail of the most colossal failure of might against right in the history of the world. Ludendorff avows his hatred of America and Americans—reveals the imperialistic dreams of his imagination—explains unblushingly that his great personal "victory" in Rumania was really a crushing defeat. Ludendorff's story is the most amazing—most interesting feature article that journalism has ever fallen heir to. It is the fitting climax to the Public Ledger's comprehensive war reporting service.
