WORLD LOOKS TO AMERICA TO RENEW ECONOMIC TIMES

Re-Establishment of Complete Peace Basis Will Put Labor and Capital on Their Feet and Readjust the Cost of Living, President Says in St. Paul Speech

By Associated Press. St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 10.—Re-Adjustment of the cost of living, President Wilson declared to-night, must wait the re-establishment of a complete peace basis which would put labor and capital on their feet.

In two addresses the President asserted that the connection between acceptance of the Peace Treaty and improving living conditions was a direct one, and that the world was looking to America to take the lead in restoring the world to a sound economic basis.

Mr. Wilson spoke in the morning at a special session of the Minnesota Legislature and in the evening at a public meeting at the St. Paul Auditorium. During the morning he addressed a meeting in Minneapolis.

When Mr. Wilson arrived at the St. Paul Auditorium to-night he was loudly cheered by nearly 15,000 persons, who arose and sang the Star Spangled Banner.

Mayor L. C. Hodgson, a Republican, introduced Mr. Wilson as a great spiritual leader of America and a "racer" whose power was written "in the hearts of his people."

Opening his speech, Mr. Wilson said there were no political considerations in his speaking trip for the Peace Treaty. It was an American issue, he said, and he had come out to the people rather than to counsel them to make a fight against anybody.

Despite the varied national origins of the people of America, said the President, a distinct American type had been developed and one of the distinctions of that type was the belief in equality as contrasted with the class distinctions of other countries.

Adding that here were "a great many hyphens" left in America, the President declared a "hyphen" the other holding the nation by the throat.

Because of its mixed derivations, the President asserted, America was destined to be the mediator of the world. It is the only nation, he continued, "that can sympathetically organize the world for peace."

President Wilson dwelt at length to-night on the mixed origin of the American people. "It is based upon long experience that in every part of the world I can recognize an American in the minute of his life," he said, "and yet the world is not because we are all of one stock."

"A great many millions of our people carry in their hearts the traditions of races never bred in America, and yet they are all Americans," he said.

FORTHCOMING PRODUCTIONS. Five directors are busily engaged at Universal City in the making of two-reef western dramas, under William Pott who is acting as supervising director of production.

Robert E. Wells has taken a company headed by Fritz Edgway, formerly Triangle star, to Colorado Springs to make "The Ranger" and "The Sheriff" in the famous mountain top as the location for the scenes. Herbert Hayes and Harry Shuman have the leading masculine roles.

Before going to Colorado Springs the Wells company spent a week at Cheyenne, Wyoming, filming the Frontier Days celebration staged there, in which the feats of the cowboys participating were recorded for the screen. These are being used for the two-reef western feature "Winning a Bride."

George Holt is producing "Tempest Cody, Sheriff," one of the Tempest series, in which during Marie Walcamp is seen as the chief peace officer of a wild western town.

Edward Kull is producing two-reef westerns with Pete Morrison and Josephine in the starring roles. His latest picture is to be finished is "The Return of Striped Shirt Ransom."

Reeves Eason has just completed "The Jack of Hearts," starring Jack Ferrin and Josephine Hill.

Jack Wells is now shooting "The Crow," the first of the two-reef westerns starring "Hoop" and "Mildred" Moore, former leading woman with him, and Moran, Universal comedienne. The picture is followed by "Shameless Saunderson."

Cheapest Domestic Anthracite Fuel BUCKWHEAT COAL is the most economical fuel you can use for hot-water and steam-heating furnaces. The price of Buckwheat Coal this month is $2.10 per 2000 lbs. less than Pea size coal and nearly $4.00 per 2000 lbs. lower than Egg and Stove sizes. Buckwheat coal gives excellent results when used with Broken Egg Stove or Nut Coal. Mixed in equal proportions of Buckwheat and larger sizes will save many good dollars in a year. Buckwheat for banking the fire at night not only reduces your coal bill, but enables you to more easily regulate the fire by means of the drafts. Buckwheat Coal is recommended for fall and early winter use. The coal will permit a low fire—without "going out." You can keep just enough heat in the radiators to keep off the chill. We strongly advise putting coal in early. The quality now is much better than will be shipped when cold weather comes to stay. UNITED ICE & COAL CO. Thin Men and Women Can Put on Flesh increase strength, endurance, vitality and greatly improve their health by building up their nerves and enriching their blood. Unquestionably one of the best things for this purpose is the great French discovery known among our druggists as Blood Iron Phosphate. People who have tried it say that one five-grain tablet taken with each meal quickly restores depleted nervous energy, enriches the blood, increases strength, vitality and endurance, and those who are too thin usually put on pounds of solid stay-there flesh in a short time. Inasmuch as Geo. W. Gorham and other druggists are authorized to sell Blood-Iron Phosphate under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back, every thin, weak, nervous or anemic man or woman should give it a trial without delay. IMPORTANT—Blood-Iron Phosphate is sold only in original packages, containing enough for three weeks' treatment, at $1.50 per package—only 50c a week.

yet we are all unmistakably and even in appearance American and nothing else. And there is only one possible way in which we can win the confidence and respect of the other nations, and that is that there is in the practice and in the tradition of this country a set of principles, which, if we are to have any influence in the conscience of every man who lives in this country.

Mediators of Mankind "We are the pre-destined mediators of mankind. Really then when I hear gentlemen saying we must keep out of this thing and take care of ourselves, I ask where did we come from? Is there nobody else in the world that we care for?"

"These gentlemen are doing a hard thing which they do not realize they want to testify to you here to-night, that since it has seemed to be uncertain whether we are going to play this part of leadership in the world, we have had to have started up in the country again."

"That hyphen which looked to us like a snake, the hyphen between German and American, has been the head again. You hear the bias of its purpose, and what is that purpose? It is to keep America out of the concert of nations in order that America may be some time in their mistaken dream unite to dominate the world, or at any rate the one to assist the other in holding the rest of the world off while its ambitions are realized."

"There is no conjecture about this, my fellow citizens. We know the terms of the German intrigue in this country and they are being revived. You cannot change the temper and expectations of a people by the mere holding of the rest of the world off while its ambitions are realized."

"I hear opponents of the League of Nations say that this does not guarantee us against human passion and error. But I like to put this business proposition to you—if it increases the price of your goods by ten per cent, don't you think it is worth while? (Yes, from the audience, cheers). And in my judgment it increases it about 99 per cent."

"There can be only one intelligible reason for America's staying out of this, and that is that she does not want peace, that she wants war some time and the advantage which will bring to her and I want to say now and here that the men who think that by that thought they are interpreting America are making the sort of mistake which will be useful for them to reflect in obscurity for the rest of their lives."
