BURLESON UNDER DIRECT FIRE

Ordered to Report Vacancies in First Move For Probe by House

Washington, Sept. 12. — Postmaster General Burleson was brought under the direct fire of Congress yesterday when the House passed a resolution by Representative Lehlbach, of New Jersey, calling on the postmaster general for lists of postmastership vacancies and certifications made to him by the civil service commission of eligibles for appointment to fill the vacancies.

The resolution was passed by a vote of 247 to 22, eight members voting present. This action is the immediate outgrowth of the situation in the civil service commission which resulted in the forced resignations of two members.

Republican members of the House charged in the debate that the postmaster general had disregarded the ratings of the civil service commission, and had refused to submit for appointment candidates with the highest grades in a large number of cases where the civil service ratings did not conform to M. Burleson's wishes.

Borough Activities Will Be Continued by Local Organization

The first of the fall activities of the local Red Cross Chapter is to introduce the new plan for obtaining subscriptions for the Red Cross magazine. The entire business and editorial management of the magazine has been reorganized and new forms of subscriptions have been made out.

The new plan for rates and subscription is as follows: The old membership subscriptions at $2 will be no longer accepted, nor will the contributing, sustaining, life or patron membership subscriptions at $5.

There has been a wrong impression circulated about the borough and the effect of the classes in Home Nursing and Elementary Hygiene, will be discontinued by the local Red Cross, but Mrs. George P. Yarnier, chairman of the activities, declares that this impression is entirely wrong and that the girls now taking the course will be finished within several weeks and after examination will be given diplomas in their graduated subjects.

Welsh Sets Forth Plan to Curb Armaments

Washington, Sept. 12. — Large armaments were responsible for the World War, Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, declared and the United States should prevent their resumption by refusing to advance money or credit to any foreign government, except upon satisfactory evidence that it will not be used to increase armaments.

Senator Walsh believes the financial power which the United States now exercises can be utilized, through withholding its resources, to prevent creation of war instruments, "the very existence of which is a menace to our national security and our national prosperity."
