Coca-Cola

in bottles

for the HOME in Case Lots

Be prepared, Mrs. Entertainer, next time guests arrive. That ever perplexing problem; "what shall I Serve?" has solved itself.

Here's the story of how delicious, refreshing Coca-Cola solved it.

Not through any particular suggestion on our part, the general use of Coca-Cola, in case lots, has found its way into the home.

Today you'll find Coca-Cola being served in the best homes.

And why not?

At all fountains—and in bottles—everywhere—for 35 years — Coca-Cola has been quenching jaded thirsts.

And now, at tea-times; lunch-times; and 'tween-times, Coca-Cola is spreading thirst-cheer in homes — homes that entertain—everywhere.

Bottled under ideal conditions, compounded by artisans, the sparkling, bubbling, goodness stays within until the cap is lifted.

Learn to keep a few bottles on the ice at all times—for Coca-Cola is an all-the-year-round drink — and when guests arrive—

Serve in tall thin glasses, pure, delicious, sparkling Coca-Cola, fresh from the bottle. Add a bit of cracked ice. That's all.

Notice how your guests brighten up at the first tiny sip.

Served in this dainty fashion, Coca-Cola, as a Home Drink, makes the lagging party a lively party; the bright party a brighter party. Try it. There's nothing else so easily or quickly served—nor so dainty.

Order a case today from any dealer or grocer — a case of 24 bottles for $1.20 — and your home-drink problem is solved — permanently.
