

U. S. Asks Japs to Fix Definite Date For Return of Kiaochau

Honolulu, Sept. 16.—The United States has asked the Japanese government to fix a definite date for the return of Kiaochau to China according to cable advices received here today by the Nippon Jiji, a Japanese daily newspaper. The cable added that the Japanese government had not answered the communication.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Officials here in the absence of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing will not comment upon the report that the United States has asked Japan to set a definite date for the return of Kiaochau to China. The general impression in official circles is that the report is well founded.

Japan's answer to such a request by the government would have an important bearing on the Senate's consideration of the Peace Treaty, as it is being centered, is the Shantung provision. Administration supporters of the Treaty feel the absence of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing will not comment upon the report that the United States has asked Japan to set a definite date for the return of Kiaochau to China. The general impression in official circles is that the report is well founded.

"Blue Ribbon" Coal

Dissatisfied miners continue to threaten strike, but, regardless of what may take place, the situation is serious enough as it is, and householders who have failed to act may feel the pinch of the actual scarcity of fuel.

It is not far distant to the time of frost and cold weather. If you knew how excellently Kelley's "Blue Ribbon" anthracite heats with the least waste of any fuel, you would get your supply "while the getting was good."

SAYS LEAGUE CARRIES OUT LODGE IDEAS

Portland, Ore., Sept. 16.—Quoting from an address made in 1915 by Senator Lodge, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, suggesting that nations must unite as men unite to preserve peace, President Wilson told a Portland audience last night that the League of Nations covenant carried out what Mr. Lodge had suggested. It was the first time during his speaking tour that Mr. Wilson had mentioned by name any of the senators opposing the League.

When the President went from his hotel to the Auditorium for his night speech he again rode through densely crowded streets and was cheered all the way. The audience stood up and applauded for three minutes when he entered the hall. Asserting he had found few men opposed to a League of Nations, the President said the great objection seemed to be to this particular league.

He recalled his conference with the Foreign Relations Committee on his first return from Paris and said every suggestion for improvement made by the committee members had been written into the covenant. One of these suggestions, he continued, was that the Monroe Doctrine be protected. He asserted that not only had the Doctrine been specifically reserved to administration by the United States but it had been extended to all the world.

CAPITOL FOLKS WATCH PRIMARY

Women Cannot Vote but They Are Closely Following Doings to Get Pointers. Women connected with the departments of the State government took the greatest interest in the primary today that the women have ever been known in Harrisburg. The various offices were closed, but a number of the stenographers and other clerical employees were in the parlors in the afternoon and discussed the primary. As one expressed it, they were "comparing notes" and were here to see the woman suffrage amendment passed. They concluded they would get prepared for the time when they would vote and some of them visited polling places and watched the men vote.

The progress of various primary contests was closely followed by Capitol Hill people. The men taking a big interest in the Philadelphia, Harrisburg, York city, Lancaster city and other contests which have aroused state-wide attention because of prominence of the leaders involved or the ways things have developed. The greatest interest was shown in the Governor's campaign in Delaware county.

State Highway Department officials said today that State inspectors would not be started out on their road investigations for some time yet, certain arrangements having not been completed, especially as regarding testing of highways and their details. However, things will move vigorously when the department is ready.

Student Classes to Be Library Feature

Eaton, the librarian, will hold the first examination for the class on Saturday at the library. This class is to train young women in library work and it is interesting to note that graduates of the Harrisburg institution have gone to other cities. They have obtained positions in libraries in Newark, Utica, Cleveland, St. Joe, New York and Washington. Two young women who went from the library received places in the National Government in Washington without examination, while others were in library work overseas and in camps in this country.
