

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS OF THE THEATER AND MOTION PICTURES

"MAYTIME" the brilliant Shubert musical novelty, which Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert will offer for the first time here at the Orpheum next Friday evening and Saturday, matinee and night. "Maytime" is the work of Rida Johnson Young, one of America's foremost feminine playwrights. She is responsible for many successes but none of Mrs. Young's former hits, however, approach the record for popularity with all classes of theatergoers established by "Maytime," which in New York alone was seen by over half a million, during its run there that lasted over a year. The musical score with which the story of "Maytime" is embellished was provided by Sigmund Romberg, composer of many of the songs made popular in these elaborate Winter Garden spectacles. The hauntingly pretty "Will You Remember" song which recurs throughout the play, has made the fame of "Maytime" across the continent because of the large circulation it has had in phonograph records and piano copies. "Maytime," which is in four acts or episodes, employs the talents of sixty persons including an attractive youthful chorus.

EDNA GOODRICH IN "SLEEPING PARTNERS" One of the most delightful theatrical offerings of the present season is promised at the Orpheum, Monday evening, September 22, when Edna Goodrich will personally appear in "Sleeping Partners," a Garden of Eden episode in three acts, which has achieved remarkable success in Paris, London and New York and which is now on tour with but a single company and with the original production as seen during its phenomenal run at the Bijou theater in New York. Miss Goodrich is supported by an excellent company of players which includes Harry Hollingsworth, M. Tello, Webb, Oliver, Hall and Charles Peyton.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN SOLD INTO TURKISH HAREMS AS LOW AS 85 CENTS EACH—ONLY ONE OUT OF 500,000 ARMENIAN GIRLS LIVED THROUGH THIS EXPERIENCE

Aurora Mardiganian herself in "Auction of Souls"

The central figure in the large picture reproduced above is Aurora Mardiganian, the young Armenian girl who is the sole survivor of 500,000 girls taken by the Turks in 1915. These girls were forced to march miles without food, clothing or water to drink. At the end of their long journey across the desert they were sold at auction—many of them for 85 cents each—to Turks who wanted to replenish their harems. Unheard-of atrocities were committed by the Turks against these girls. In fact, the atrocities sounded so fanciful that Viscount Bryce, British investigator, and Henry Morgenthau, American Ambassador, were ordered to investigate. They did and their stories substantiated in every detail what these girls had lived through. Aurora managed to escape from a Turkish harem and succeeded in gaining transportation to America, where she wrote her famous book, "Ravished Armenia," upon which this play is based. To further the Armenian relief work, she consented to play in the photoplay entitled "Auction of Souls," which plays at the Victoria Theater all next week.

Waite Hoyt, of Brooklyn, Has Been Star Traveler; to Play at Elizabethtown

Waite Hoyt, the Brooklyn youngster, who was purchased recently by the Boston Red Sox from the New Orleans Club, has had a rather remarkable career in baseball, and although he is only 20 years old, he can be classed as a veteran of the game.

Hoyt was 15 years old and the star pitcher of Erasmus Hall High School, in Brooklyn, in 1915, when he was picked up by the Giants, and since that time he has played in Memphis, Montreal, Nashville and Newark, though the Giants always have had a string on him.

Last winter he was released to Rochester in part payment for Earl Smith, but refused to report. This spring Arthur Irwin, despairing of getting any service out of the boy, traded him to New Orleans, for Jimmy Nixon, an outfielder. Hoyt's performances with the Baltimore Shipyards attracted the attention of the Boston Club, and when he shut out the Cincinnati Reds some time ago the Sox bought his release from New Orleans. Hoyt will be in the lineup at Elizabethtown Monday evening. Many local fans will see the Dodger play the Klein Chocolate Company team.

"SOME TIME" With the imprint of Arthur Hammerstein all over it, "Some Time," the musical romance that charmed New York for an entire year at the Casino theater, will be disclosed at the Orpheum to-day, matinee and night with it is claimed, a high quality cast and production. Its novelty and excellence are pronounced fresh evidence of Mr. Hammerstein's sagacity in sending the popular taste and his artistry in staging a production with every endowment that can make it beautiful and alluring—not forgetting, of course, the universal appeal of lovely femininity, and the dominant desire for mirth, melody and harmonious color biens. Rida Johnson Young humorously contrived the story.

EDNA GOODRICH IN "SLEEPING PARTNERS"

Coming to the Orpheum Theater for an engagement of one night, Monday, September 22, will be Edna Goodrich in the famous French farce, "Sleeping Partners." Miss Goodrich will wear some of those wonderful gowns which has made for her the name of the best dressed woman on the American stage.

New Cumberland High Has Successful Meet

Ninety contestants engaged in the first field meet of the scholastic year held at the New Cumberland High School yesterday afternoon. The meet was in the nature of an experiment and proved to be a genuine success. In addition to the number of contestants, many of the parents attended. Upon the opening of the school on September 1, L. D. Crunkleton, the principal decided upon staging a field meet. He made all of the arrangements for yesterday's meet, and was responsible for its success. The winners of the various events were as follows: 100-yard dash, Clark Bai; 50-yard dash for girls, Martha Osler; high jump, Gerald Bryan; 220-yard dash, Arthur Desenberg; one-fourth mile relay, senior class; tug-of-war, freshmen class; potato race, Martha Osler; three-legged race, Lechtler and Hobart; peanut race, Gladys Willis; baseball throw for girls, Louise Spangler; shoe race, Naomi Conley; suit case race, Verna Bai; broad jump, Floyd Hemp. The senior-freshmen baseball team defeated the junior-sophomore nine by the score of 3 to 2.

who inject plenty of jazz into their musical offering. Helen Holmes, the greatest serial queen now in the movies, will soon be shown in her latest serial, "The Fatal Fortune." Stewart Edward White's famous novel, "The Westerners," hailed as one of the greatest ever written of the golden age of the Colonial Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. This production is said to be without a peer along its lines. Stewart White has long been hailed as the leader of modern fiction writers when it comes to Western stories as he has been born and bred among the snow-capped western mountains. "The Westerners" is hailed as one of the greatest film productions of the year — that is of Western stories. The admission prices for this feature have not been advanced. Ten and twenty cents plus war tax, as usual.

In his new Paramount production, "You're Fired!" Wallace Reid changes from heavy dramatic roles to light comedy. Wallace Reid roles to light comedy at the Regent. Some of his late production have been straight dramas, but his latest starring vehicle, "You're Fired!" which will be shown for the last time at the Regent Theater to-day, is one of the funniest and most entertaining comedy-dramas ever produced. The title very fittingly describes the main situation in the story, which is about a young man who has to work for three months without being fired, before he can win the consent of a wealthy financier to marry his daughter. These two words are constantly ringing in his ear and he has to act quickly two or three times to keep some employer from speaking them.

Winterdale Dances 15 North Market Square Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening, admission 40 and 60 cents. Hall for rent other evenings. Private lessons by appointment.
