WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND

E. J. STACKPOLE F. R. OYSTER, Business Manager

DUS. M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor

A. R. MICHENER, Circulation Manager

Executive Board

I. P. McCULLOUGH,

BOYD M. OGLESBY,

F. B. OYSTER

F. R. OYSTER, GUS. M. STEINMETZ.

Members of the Associated Press—The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Member American Newspaper Pub-lishers' Associa-tion, the Audit Bureau of Circu-lation and Penn-sylvania Associaated Dailies.

Eastern office.
Story, Brooks &
Finley, Fifth
Avenue, Building,
New York City;
Western office.
Story, Brooks &
Finley Process

Entered at the Post Office in Harris burg, Pa., as second class matter.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1919

Education is a capital to the poor nan, and interest to the rich man,-HORACE MANN.

PIONEERING

CLARENCE E. ZORGER addressing the Harrisburg Rotary Club on his work as superintendent of special activities in the Harrisburg public schools, drew attention to the increased opportunity for community work in this city and expressed his intention of taking full advantage thereof.

We have the School Board and Dr. Downes to thank for that-also or the engagement of Mr. Zorger to

THE CENTERPIECE

RNOLD W. BRUNNER, explain-A ing in detail his plans for the city's memorial to the men who saw service in the war with Germany, said that he had chosen the flagstaff as the central figure of the memorial scheme for the reason that all our ideals of Government, all our prospects for the future, all our hopes for generations yet to come, center around the Stars and

This is not only a beautiful sentiment, but it is a hard, cold fact. We need to think more of the flag of our nation. So long as it flies, so long will Americans continue to new depot. Our present structure, large though it is, is a mere make-shift. It was not designed to accommodate the traffic that now passes through it and all addition Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO.

Felegraph Building, Federal Square greatly bettered conditions except to greatly bettered conditions except to greatly bettered conditions. provide for a little more room. The structure is antiquated and inadequate in every respect.

MONDAY EVENING.

Superintendent Elmer recognizes in newspapers within this State this and has promised to do his best but in New York and Washington but he is handicapped by the present with its constant shortage of funds and its limitations of service. We Government control of railroads, have in this inability of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to make needed improvements in Harrisburg an illustration of what we may expect if the Government should be put permanently in control of the

In the old days, with private inritory, corporate management saw to it that depot necessities were met, no matter how great the cost, but since the Government has taken over the roads, no improvements to property have been made that have not been vitally essential to the movement of trains, and even some of these have been neglected. It is doubtful, indeed, if the depot situation here can be met until the railroads shall have been returned to their owners. Mcantime, it is proper that the officials should be giving thought to the subject and getting their plans ready for action the moment the opportunity arrives.

VETERANS OF THE CROSS

WHAT a fine thing Stevens Memorial Church did yester-morial church did yester-morial church did yester-morial church did yester-

WHAT a fine thing Stevens Memorial Church did yester-day and Saturday, when it

York or Harrisburg to San Francisco as nonchalantly and with no more thought of the risk involved than now attends the purchase of a railroad ticket. We have come to the place where freight and passenger traffic by air routes are accomplished facts. Harrisburg can no more afford to be without a landing field than it could have afforded to be left off the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad when it was surveyed. Private capital already is ploneering along this line in Harrisburg and it may be possible to develop something for the city in that connection. In one way or another, we simply must have a field.

OH, YES, IT PAYS

With the closest attention by officers of the State department because of 1919 and because of 1919 and because of reports of returns tangled up and regulations not complied with. The State authorities have to certify judicial nominations and sewed lefore their houses on the Menin road. There are no houses now; the rain line of the Pennsylvania Railroad when it was surveyed. Private capital already is ploneering along this line in Harrisburg and it may be possible to develop something for the city in that connection. In one way or another, we simply must have a field.

OH, YES, IT PAYS

RULY there is nothing like

An interesting slant in regard.

The state department because of 1919 and 1910 and regulations not complied with. The State authorities

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

Two matters connected with the Pennsylvania primary of last Tuesday are causing comment not only newspapers within this State, This is due to the prominence of the men whose political future is enormous preponderance of Republicans in registration in the cities, the collapse of the Democratic party and to the blunders made by places. It is always fashionable for commentators to work over time terests in control and each railroad bidding for the business of its territory, corporate management saw to it that depat pages with the ballot in Pennsylvania, but this time more evidence of carelessness and ignorance they care

WHAT a fine thing Stevens Memorial Church did yesterday and Saturday, when it entertained the veteran members of the congregation in honor of their long and faithful service to the church. It is remarkable that this congregation embraces fifty-six men and women between the ages of 70 and 90. Length of church membership indicates church interest and church interest betokens good home training and is reflected in right-living. "Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long upon the carth which the Lord thy God giveth thee" is more than a high sounding precept. It works out in life, as any one of these Veterans of the Cross might testify.

TALKING FOOLISHNESS

TVERY soap-box orator in the -With the Republican party in

TALKING FOOLISHNESS

The editorial view is well sumned up in the Philadelphia Evening sults of the primary says in part:
The number of citizens who envolled themselves as Democrats or who appeared at the polls as such was so small as to be almost sugative of the virtual extinction of that party in Philadelphia. The oldest Democrat now living here can hardly remember the time of them know it.

The great majority of Americans in momentum and popularity.

The need is here. Just how best to meet it remains to be worked out, in American was a state of the virtual extinction of that party in Philadelphia. The oldest Democrat now living here can hardly remember the time of them know it.

The great majority of Americans are taking the league debate calmly and revolution is an unknown word to the disclosures related to go to smash is being much discussed.

—The editorial view is well sumned up in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin which in d.scussing the results of the primary says in part:

The number of citizens who envolved the minous word in several of his western speeches, and now comes senator Johnson to say that the country will be on the brink of revolution if the Wilson league plan is not soon killed.

We may expect foolish chatter from irresponsible radicals, but both the President and Senator Johnson to say that the country will be on the brink of revolution.

The need is a land is talk'ing "revolution."

The number of citizens who envolved the minous word in several of his worden which in desuration.

The editorial view is well sum-ned of our nation. So long at it fires long and mericans continue to live under the principles of the first of the first not too bad, "they used in members and streatest true demoracy the world has ever known. The men in whose short this memorial will be sected fought for the preservation. Thursday's issue of the Tolera whose short this memorial will be sected fought for the preservation. Thursday's issue of the Tolera was all it is very rutting that the places and it is very rutting that the places and it is very rutting that the places of the first places and it is very rutting that the places of the first places and it is very rutting that the places of the first places and it is very rutting that the places of the first places and it is very rutting that the places to the defeat a special spile spil

Found Americans Groping Philip Gibbs in Harper's Magazinel

B31669/9

At dinner parties and evening

Symmatum orn for evening called, some of the author of chizens and some of the control of the period of the period

Jack London's Spring

ing the bridge from Harrisburg, and approaching the bluff where the gypsies were, facing said bluff, it seems that my right hand pointed along the railroad track to the north. From the bluff, I went north along the railroad track. It may have been two miles, but I really don't think it was more than a quarter of a mile when I came to the steep grade up which the freight-train bound for Baltimore would come slowly.

"Somewhere down the bank, from the edge of the railroad track, on the grade, you should find the spring—unless they have changed the railroad grade there—"

"JACK LONDON."

Perhaps, someone familiar with

Perhaps, someone familiar with Jack London's spring, will tell us about it, and what has become of it?

Can you find room for these few lines from the story "Pictures"?

"The game proceeded, and I learned the stake for which we played. Down the bank toward the river descended a steep and narrow path that led to a spring some twenty-five feet beneath. We played on the edge of the bank.

"The man who was 'stuck' had to take a small condensed milk can, and with it carry water to the winners.

The Underpaid Professor [From the Review.]

By BRIGGS

[From the Review.]

He is being cramped and humiliated on all sides, is conscious that he is becoming quasi-miserly through over attention to pennies—in fact, is himself living a petty and sordid life, and, what is much worse, sees those he most cares for, and for whom he is responsible involved in the same destiny. He willingly took on the vow of poverty for himself, perhaps, but not for them. He would go into plumbing if he knew enough. He is in the clutch of an out-and-out exasperating experience, one that is destructive both of his dignity and his self-respect.

Into a dusky land of dreams
The sunlight falls in moted beams
Where lie, in ordered disarray,
The relics of an elder day;
Dead scents of lavender and chance,

And as the zephyr passes by
It croons an ancient lullaby,
Soft as the sweep of angel's wings—

[Forbes Magazine.]

Influence

[Forbes Magazine.]

The only influence worth having is the influence you yourself create. Money can be bestowed or bequeathed by a rich man, but the things most worth while cannot. The man who wields a wide, wholesome, helpful influence is the man who has mastered both his job and himself, the man who has acquired wisdom by painstaking study, effort and experience, the man whose parts and character are respected by others, the man whose parts and character are respected by others cannot do much for you unless you have done something to enlist their influence on your behalf.

A letter of introduction cannot do that. An invitation to lunch or dinner in order to meet the man whose influence you court cannot do it.

You have to make your own impression upon him. You have to do to something or say something or exhibit something that convinces him you are all right, that you will deliver the goods.

You have, in other words, to "sell" your worth to him. Deliver the goods.

Part of your reward will consist of Influence.

A Lethal Answer

[From Punch, London]

[From Punch, London] laundry company's announce on the advertisement screen of a provincial mi sic hall:

"Why kill the wife?

Let us do your dirty work."

Elm Most Popular Tree The consensus of opinion seems to be that the white elm, or American elm, is our most popular tree. It is a shapely, dignified producer of thade and grows over a large area.

the chief freight car repair places?

HISTORIC HARRISBURG —Harrisburg's baseball grounds ed to be up in what is now the eventh ward.

Evening Chat

steel on all sides, is conscious that he is becoming quasi-miserly through over attention to pennies in fact, is himself living a petty and sordid life, and, what is much worse, sees those he most cares for, and for whom he is responsible involved in the same destiny. He willingly took on the vow of poverty for himself, perhaps, but not for them. He would go into plumbing if he knew enough. He is in the clutch of an out-and-out exasperating experience, one that is destructive both of his dignity and his self-respect.

Whether, under this harrow, he reveals Bolshevoid tendencies or not, a man in such a mood ought not to be teaching our sons. He is bound to be wearied and distraught, if not bitter and cynical. It takes enthusiasm and fervor to fire the heart of youth. There is call for the clear and equable mind, sufficiently at rest as respects its own concerns to be able to spare that force upon which his charges ought to have the right to draw. As things now go, the best men will keep out of teaching, and presently the inferior ones, less robust and resistant of nonsense, may actually fall, as some have already fallen, into the status of suggestible malcontents. The heads of most professors are not vyet weak enough for Bolshevism; but certain journals that dish uprain softening compounds, full of insinuation and suggestions are far too popular among them. To such influences they are becoming ever more "open-minded." This is dangerous, If the cure of Russian-Bolshevism is more food, the prophylaxis of professional Bolshevism is more salary.

In An Attic

[By D. B. Van Buren.]

Into a dusky land of dreams The sunlight falls in moted beams Where lie, in ordered disarray, The relies of an elder day; Dead scents of lavender and thyme a contract of the contract of

Where lie, in ordered disarray, The relics of an elder day; Dead scents of lavender and thyme Still linger in the dust and grime, While through the sleepy afternoon Mispiring of long-forgotten noon The wind that round the attic sings.

And as it sipes its world-old song, Pale shadows rise, a phantom throng Of quaint, fantastic belies and beaux Who lived and loved long, long ago, The shattered mirror's dusty face Reflects a spectral beauty's grace, While stretched across two arm-less chairs

County.

A friend in the Grand Army of the Republic in commenting upon a paragraph in this column the other evening about the organization of the posts, says that Post 58 was mustered on April 24, 1867, and was one of the largest in the State in a short time. It still has a remark-able roll, there being about 175, possibly more, veterans who are members. This post has furnished two commanders of the department of Pennsylvania, the late George G. Boyer and the present commander, George Rhoads. It was joint host with Post 116 when the national encampment of the Grand Army was held in Harrisburg in May, 1883. It has a fine history, indeed.

Pennsylvania's official golddish

Reflects a spectral beauty's grace, While stretched across two arm less chairs

A grim old codger writhes and swears;
A testy sufferer, no doubt, From twinges of a ghostly gout. Such visions of the past it brings—
The wind that round the attic sings.

Deep hidden underneath the eaves, Where his frail home the spider weaves, An old worm-eaten cradle stands, Carved by unremembered hands; And filtered sunbeams softened fall where bends the fairest face of all, Lit with immortal radiance, Defying death and time and chance, And as the zephyr passes by It croons an ancient lullaby, Soft as the sweep of angel's wings—
The wind that round the attic that the stream of the sweep of angel's wings—
The wind that round the attic that the stream of the sweep of angel's wings—

It is a race with the first in Penn
Was held in Harrisburg in May, 1883.
It has a fine history, indeed.

Pennsylvania's official goldfish placed in the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation thains in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State Capation the basins of the four-atins in the front of the State C soft as the sweep of angel's wings—

The wind that round the attic sings.

Yon antique spinet's chords are hushed,
Its vibrant strings together rust,
Volceless and mute, the silent keys
Echo no more love's harmonies;
Yet ever o'er the keyboard strays
The filmy hand of one who plays—
A form in crinoline and bands,
While close beside another stands Whose gently prying fingers seek
The ringlet on her cheek;
Still, as the airy fingers touch
Once more the keys that told so much,
The wind's Aeolian minstrelsy
Evokes a phantom melody
In plaintive murmurs from the strings—
The wind that round the attic sings.

Hanna.

It is a race with the frost in Penn-sylvania now, say State Agricultural Evparation, say State Agricultural Evparation of the statks.

It is a race with the frost in Penn-sylvania now, say State Agricultural Evparation, say State Agricultural Evparation of the statks.

It is a race with the frost in Penn-sylvania now, say State Agricultural Evparation of the statks.

It is a race with the frost in Penn-sylvania now, say State Agricultural Evparation of the produce and of much corn still on the statks.

It is a race with the frost in Penn-sylvania now, say State Agricultural Evparation of the produce seems to be rather heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there was the produce seems to be rather heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there was the produce seems to be rather heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there was the produce seems to be rather heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there was the produce seems to be rather heavy, probably due in a measure to the weather conditions and there was the produce and of much corn still on

Through the long autumn afternoon
Ever it drones its drowsy tune,
While all the peopled corners stare
With lofty, supercilious air
At one who with unhallowed feet Invades the spider's last retreat A year or so too soon, at most, For fellowship with bat and ghost;

Although 1919 automobile tags have still over three months to run, there have been a number of requests made for 1920 numbers. Many of them are from people who want to continue their present numbers or to get some one which they failed to draw last whiter. The usual freak requests for "poker hands" and od combinations are being made.

Owen Johnston the action of the state of

A year or so too soon, at most, for fellowship with bat and ghost;

And then? Why, then, as oft before,
The ghosts will welcome one ghost more—
Such melancholy presage brings
The wind that round the attic sings.

Such melancholy presage brings wind that round the attic sings.

The State Medical Society, whose members meet here to-morrow, is one of the oldest societies in the country. It has met in Harrisburg almost every five years and several Harrisburg men have been honored by the presidence.

DO YOU KNOW

-Harrisburg is now one of