KLEIN IS WINNER OVER DODGERS

Hit Timely in the Game With Brooklyn; Big Game in This City

Brooklyn lost to Klein Chocolate Company team yesterday score 2 to 1. The Dodgers could not help it. The Klein boys played rings around Wilbur Robinson's crew. The game was played at Elizabethtown and attracted a big crowd. The big feature of the game was a triple play by Cranston, Groff and Kaufman. The game was a pitchers' battle.

Mitchell the Dodger Southpaw had the Klein boys guessing at the start but they found him later. Pitt was secured from Brooklyn put it over his former teammates. Back of him was a fast fielding team. Back of the plate for Brooklyn was Mack Wheat, the corner. His brother Zach Wheat played center field. Another familiar face with the Brooklyn team was Kelley, a former coach with the High, and who came here with the Newark International League team as a trainer.

Trout is Big Factor
Trout was a big factor in yesterday's victory over the Dodgers. He drove in both of the winning runs and the whole team played great ball on the defense.

In the fourth inning, Thompson singled and stole second. He scored when Trout singled. In the sixth, Graff singled and when M. Wheat threw to catch on the outside, he continued into the third. Trout's blow sent him home.

The leaguers scored in the seventh. Konechey walked, the only runner who received a life from Pitt. He moved to second on an out at first and scored on Mitchell's single to home. Klein won the game 4 to 1. Tomorrow afternoon on Middle field. Thursday the Chocolate boys come here for a game with Boston Red Sox. The latter will include the greatest home-run hitter, "Babe" Ruth and all other stars.

Harrisburg Players Bring Hope to Gettysburg Team
Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—The return of Victor Emanuel and James Richards, of Harrisburg, star players of the Gettysburg College football squad several years ago, has greatly strengthened the eleven which will this year represent the institution. There were enough candidates on the field to make up four elevens and the material is the most promising of many seasons.

Almost the entire squad is composed of men with former football experience, and Coach Wood and Leathers are confident that the strength of the outfit will be fully shown in the early games and maintained as the season progresses. Gettysburg this year has the hardest schedule which it has faced for a long time, but the athletic authorities are free to say that the team will fully justify the management in having arranged the heavy program.

NEW ASSOCIATION TO BOOST SPORT

Fighters Are More Inclined to Keep Contracts, Says Local Promoter

"Dave" McConnell, secretary and business manager of the new Harrisburg Boxing Association, has entered the game here with an additional idea to that of making money out of it at the expense of the public, according to a statement made by him yesterday. "While the organization expects to realize something from its investments, it also desires to place before the fans something that will be a suitable return for their money," McConnell says, "and only boxing of that kind will be countenanced."

"There are possibilities of boxers throwing us down, but with us something will only occur once for any man that we secure to fight, for a return match will be awarded no person who does not give satisfaction in his first appearance."

Sport Is Popular
"Boxing, the Oliver Twist of sport, which for years has been used as a tool by professional reformers and maltreated in the house of its supposed friends, apparently has emerged from its drab days to a position of respect and is about to take its proper place in the brotherhood of rough, vigorous pastimes."

"I feel confident that the persons who attend the opening show in Europe, boxing promoters and managers and the boxers themselves, to a large extent, have mended their ways and are conducting the sport in a commendable way. True there still is room for improvement, but the trend is in the direction of a higher standard all around. The future prospects of the sport are indeed rosy."

Fighters Improve

True there still is room for improvement, but the trend is in the direction of a higher standard all around. The future prospects of the sport are indeed rosy."

HARD WORK FOR TECH GRID TEAM

Maroons to Meet Allentown High in Opening Contest Saturday

In preparation for the initial football contest of the 1919 season in Harrisburg to be played over on the island Saturday afternoon by the Technical High Squad against the Allentown High School team, Coach Paul Smith put the Maroon warriors through the hardest scrimmage last night. Each evening will see a slackening of the heavy work until signal practice will be run off Friday night.

Last night Coach Smith made several changes in the "Varsity lineup." Garrett was played at center, and his place in the backfield was taken by George Germer. When Garrett is at right half back, Johnny Smith will be the pivot man.

Beck Good Punter
Carl Beck has been featuring the work on his splendid punting. He will do the booting for the Maroon team. Wilsbach and Lingle are as dependable as ever, and will make life miserable for opposing lines and backs. Tech never had their equal on any one team. Beck, Lingle and Wilsbach are an unbeatable triumvirate.

Undoubtedly Captain Frank and Arnold will start at tackles. No one so far has been able to displace them. Half a dozen players have a chance at guard, Comfort and Hoffmann so far seem to have the call, but Ellinger, Pleam and Eaton are on the job at all times. Comfort is the Terry Blake who joined the squad this season. He will be a valuable adjunct to the Tech line once he learns Coach Smith's style of play. The line becomes accustomed to the Eastern method of stopping an offensive.

Two on Injured List
"Zig" Malick has a bruise of his left leg above the knee due to a kick. "Snaps" Emanuel has been suffering from bruises for several days, but will start at practice last night. Books, a junior, has been showing flashy work, and may make a place at end or in the back field. "Midge" Matter has been showing good form at end. Although he is handicapped by his lack of weight, he will surely earn a try-out in one of the earlier contests. Erdley is also an aspirant for a wing position. Allentown High will be the attraction Saturday, and the largest turn out in the history of Tech is expected.

TECH HIGH GIVEN CREDIT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM BY FAMOUS GRID COACH

Spalding's football guide for 1919 gives Tech credit for having had one of the best high school teams last year ever developed in the United States. George W. Orton, a coach at the University of Pennsylvania, under the heading "Scholastic Football in the Middle States," says: "There was no doubt of the championship high school team in the Middle States last season. The Harrisburg Technical High school out-ranked every team they met. They scored 597 points to 10 against them."

Johnny Gill Big Winner in Boxing Show at York; Barrett's Next Program

Johnny Gill put it all over Pat O'Malley last night at York. Gill was the aggressor all the time. O'Malley is a second Joe Grim and takes hard punishment and smiles. Gill was given an ovation by his home town friends.

Another big sensation was Billy Atticks of Allentown. He put his man, Pat Grive, out in the third. Grive's seconds were ready to throw the sponge into the ring in the second round but the bell saved him. Atticks had his wallop working all the time.

Joe Barrett, will not have Ed Williams at his next show in Steelton, which is scheduled for October 1. He wants to get a good man for the bantam. The bill will be another thriller. Billy Angelo and Billy Logan will meet in a ten-round battle. These boys had the best fight at the last show. Billy Atticks will meet Jack Cleaver of Allentown. This means the hardest battle in Atticks' career. Ed Shry, Young Fulton, Jack Parks and other boys who make good are being paired off for this show.

Washington, Sept. 23.—America's future military policy as advocated yesterday before the House military committee by Major General J. W. McAndrews, chief of staff of the American Expeditionary Force throughout the war, should call for "peace on the Pacific on our own terms." This, he said, can be assured by control of the Panama canal and the Hawaiian Islands.

Although General McAndrews told the committee he was "loath to disagree with the general staff," he took issue with its reorganization plan on the basis of an army of 509,000 men, proposing instead a force of 300,000 "at the utmost." While joining with the general staff in advocating universal training for 19-year-old youths, General McAndrews disagreed with its proposed three-month period of training, declaring it was "inadequate" and should be at least six months.

Atlantic Gasoline—Master of Miles

Season-mileage looms big on the meter of the car propelled by Atlantic Gasoline. For, when Atlantic was originally created, the table of linear measurement was incorporated in the formula.

Therefore, Atlantic Gasoline has the stretch that makes each wheel a reel, unwinding miles and miles of ribbon-roads. That is its measure of worth, so to speak.

For consistent, month-upon-month mileage, there is one motor-fuel that answers "present". Its name is Atlantic Gasoline, and it has no doubles or near-relatives. Absolutely none.
