

FOOTBALL TEAMS WILL GET START SATURDAY --- WORLD'S SERIES PLANS COMPLETE

PENNSYLVANIA LEADS IN WORLD'S SERIES PLAYERS; ILLINOIS STANDS SECOND

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Pennsylvania has the distinction of having the greatest representation in the baseball classic this year. Ten players from that State will battle for the highest honors in baseball, four of them are members of the Chicago White Sox, American League pennant winners and six members of the Cincinnati Reds.

The White Sox manager, William Gleason, heads the list of Quakers. Along with the fighting manager is Eddie Collins, Eddie Murphy, utility outfielder and pinch hitter, and J. Erskine Mayer, side-arm pitcher, are other members from Pennsylvania. The Reds have two pitchers, Ray B. Fessler and Ed. Gerner, an outfielder, S. R. Magee, and three infielders—Jacob Daubert, first base; Morris Rath, second base, and James L. Smith, third base, as members from Penn State.

Illinois is second in the number of premier events will be staged is next in the list. The Prairie state is represented by seven players, six of whom are members of the White Sox and one is on the pay roll of the Reds. Three of the White Sox live in Chicago. They are Sullivan, Ver and Gandil. Ray C. Schalk, who heads the list from Illinois for the White Sox. Along with Schalk is Byrd Lynn, George Weaver, Arnold Gandil, alias "Chick," guardian of the initial sack, Grover Loudermilk, the elongated right-handed pitcher, and John H. Sullivan, alias "Lefty," a former Chicago semi-professional. Schalk, make up the others. H. O. Eller, who one time was on the Comiskey payroll, is the only member from the state of Arkansas. Lyones S. Grant, on the Cincinnati roster.

Ohio, where the other end of the world's series will be played is tied with California for third place in the list of contributing states. It lays claim to four members. The Buckeye state's players are all members of the Reds. Henry Groh, star third baseman and Earle Neale, outfielder, Cincinnati, and Harry W. Schreiber, utility infielder.

California is represented with a split delegation, three of its players being members of the American League club and one the National League aggregation. The trio of Pacific coast men are Joseph Jenkins, catcher, San Francisco, shortstop; and Fred McMullin, utility infielder. William H. Ruether, former member of the Chicago National League and now one of the "aces" of the Reds' pitching staff is the other member from the Golden Gate state.

Michigan and Indiana will be represented by three members each. The Gopher state delegation is solid for the White Sox while the Hoosiers go strong to the Red Legs. Michigan is the home of Eddie V. Cicotte, Harry Liebold, alias "Little Nemo," outfielder and Big Bill James, also hail from Michigan. Eddie Roush, outfielder of the Reds, Lewin B. Duncan, another outfielder, and William A. Rarigan, are the Hoosiers on the Garry Herrmann payroll.

Two states have contributed two members each. These are Texas and Wisconsin. Richard Kerr, pitcher, is the Lone Star state representative on Comiskey's club, while A. Roy Mitchell, also a mound artist, is Nick Tex's representative. The Reds, Massachusetts has two veterans of the game. Patrick Moran, who piloted the Cincinnati Reds to victory is the National League representative, while John "Shano" Collins, outfielder represents the junior organization. Urban "Red" Faber, is the Iowa representative in the premier event.

Southern States

Three Southern states will be represented in the series—Georgia, Kentucky and South Carolina. The first of these states contributes one member each to the Reds and White Sox. Irv B. Wingo, makes his home in Georgia, while Claude Williams represents that state on Comiskey's club. "General" Joe Jackson, of the White Sox, hails from South Carolina. Hervey H. Huggins, Wisconsin, the home of thoroughbreds.

Vermont has sent Ral. L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on a pitcher, who is Nick Allen, catcher and one time member of the White Sox. New York state is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict, James J. Lynam, pitcher, Wisconsin, representative in the series, is one of the leading twirlers of the Reds and Charles H. See an outfielder is from Long Island.

Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, has one player on the White Sox payroll, he played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

The little island of Cuba, where baseball is becoming the national game and the place from which several players have gone into the major leagues in this country, will have its representative in the person of Adolpho Luque, a pitcher, who is a member of the Reds.

SNOODLES

EDISON PLANS NOW COMPLETE

The citizens of the Edison community have organized the athletic association. Since it was impossible to assemble all the students in one meeting each class voted during their home room activities period, and the results of these various elections were added together to determine the final results. All nominations were previously arranged and posted by a faculty nominating committee composed of Mr. Wallace, Miss Burns and Mr. Miller.

The results of the election were close and in no case did the successful candidate win a large vote over his nearest competitor. The highest number of votes for president were cast for Clyde Rosenberger, section 9B2. Rosenberger was a former student at the Lincoln building and was very active in all athletic activities of that school. George Bennett, section 8A3, was elected vice-president. Bennett was a former student of the Woodward building. The secretary-elect is Miss Dorothy Long, section 9B3, and a former student of Webster building. The assistants to the faculty treasurers are Virginia Lytle, section 9B3, a former student of the former building, and Laurence Hesse, section 9B5, who was a student at the Woodward building last year.

Former Mack Star Will Play Here With Boston; McInnis in the Lineup

Rowland Lyon, section 9B4, a former student of the Webster building, was elected student manager of the football team. While at Webster he was prominently identified with the athletics of that school. His assistant will be Harry Huber, section 9B5. Huber comes from the Woodward building. The officers will serve one semester. All of these boys are candidates for the football team.

Miller is coaching the football team. His record as a player at Central High and State and as a coach at Tech are known to the boys and they are doing their best to please him and make a record for Edison. Miller, assisting the coach, Miller is a former Forney football player and has since played with Albright College and Williamson Trades School eleven. Under his leadership Williamson Trade had one of her most successful football seasons.

Mr. Brunner and Miss Knox have been appointed faculty treasurers for the athletic association and are at present conducting a membership drive. The class treasurers and secretaries are canvassing their home room sections and reporting the results to the faculty treasurers through the home room teachers. A number of the sections are nearing the hundred per cent mark. After common expenses have been deducted the results of this drive will be divided between the athletic activities of the boys and girls in the proportion in which each have contributed.

The color committee, Miss Julia Ryan, Miss Jennie Lutz and Mr. Miller, met the representatives of the various sections. When these delegates had all reported it was found that all but two rooms had instructed for maroon and white. These colors were then unanimously adopted as the school colors. This was a pretty compliment to the principal on the part of the students for the colors of his Alma Mater, Lafayette, are maroon and white.

Harrisburg fans have seen more big league teams play this season than in many seasons past. Manager John Brackenridge of the Klein Chocolate Company team, says there are more coming if the good weather holds out. He is now at work on plans for a big game Monday as a part of the Welcome Home program. To-morrow the Klein team will play the Boston Red Sox. This game is scheduled to start at 3:45 p. m. All the big stars will be in the Boston lineup, including "Babe" Ruth, the home run king. There is much interest in this city as to whether Ruth will be able to hit a four bagger. It is the belief among fans that Ruth hits harder with a fence in front of him. This question will be answered to-morrow.

Other stars will include Hooper, "Wally" Schang and "Stuffy" McInnis. The latter was one of the Mack stars when the famous Athletic aggregation was dismantled. McInnis will be here with the big bunch to-morrow.

The Klein Chocolate Company's team will meet the Washington American League nine on Biddle Field at Carlisle this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Biddle Field is the athletic field of Dickinson College, and there is ample room for the large crowd which will witness the conflict.

Walter Johnson, premier hurler of the big leagues, will accompany the Senators to Carlisle, it has been announced by Manager John Brackenridge of Klein.

Jack Coombs Is Shot While Disputing Right of Way

Palestine, Texas, Sept. 24.—Jack Coombs, former major league baseball player, was shot in the leg while engaged in a dispute over the right of way on a country road near here last night. Coombs was driving his car along a narrow road, closely followed by Dan Laree, a road contractor, who, according to Coombs, tried to pass him. Coombs said he stopped his car and the quarrel followed.

Laree asserted his gun was accidentally discharged when he struck at Coombs as the latter attempted to leave his car. Both men expressed regret over the accident.

TECH ATHLETES DEFY WEATHER

Maroon Squad Has Practice on Soggy Field; First Game Saturday

The wet weather of last evening kept down the attendance at the evening scrimmage of the Tech High football squad. Captain Frank and Coach Smith were on hand and ran the players through signals, while "Tony" Wilsbach was given plenty of practice kicking goals from placement and from the field. The big fullback also practiced goals after touchdown. Doubtless he will have plenty of opportunity in the games this year to kick a great many goals after touchdown.

Allentown First

The team is being primed for Saturday afternoon when Allentown High School will visit this city. Allentown has become a natural rival of Tech's through being a member of the Central Pennsylvania Basketball League. During the past year Allentown entered one of the finest High Schools and gymnasiums in the State. While Tech is sure of winning, Allentown will without a doubt give the Maroon warriors a good run.

After enjoying a fine season of baseball, local sport followers are keen for the thud of the pigskin. Tech will start the season with six or seven Varsity players in the lineup from last year's championship squad.

Liverpool Wants to Play Game With Strong Team

Liverpool is anxious to play in Harrisburg and will meet any team West End is preferred, but any good team will be considered. It was planned to have Liverpool take on the Pennsy Elects, but the latter was defeated at Liverpool last Saturday. It will not be an expensive attraction as the Liverpool management would like to have local fans see his team at work. Liverpool has defeated the Elects, Shamokin Dam, Danville, Ickesburg, McAllisterville and other strong teams.
