[Continued from First Page.] delphia, who with the aid of lantern slides, spoke on the value of the Roentgen Ray. Dr. Pancoast's lecture was exceedingly interesting and was well received by the audience.

Scour Explorations John H. Gibbon, Philadelphia, spoke briefly of the tendency to look on conditions as emergencies and do exploratory operations when an approximate diagnosis can previously be made. He said that this tendency too often resulted in a multiplication of incision, a repetition of the operation, and occasionally in the unnecessary death of the patient.

Alfred C. Wood, Philadelphia, spoke about the surgical treatment of ulcer and cancer, and compared the various operative procedures employed. He was followed by John Leitch, Pittsburgh, who gave a short address on all treatment which is not surgical. He warned his hearers against polypharmacy as an indefinite understanding of the case.

Should Be Careful William E. Robertson, Philadelphia, spoke of the attitude of the general practitioner, and the general lack of attempt in the direction of more definite diagnosis. He said that the lack of more definite knowledge of dietetics and the more or less blind adherence to drugs and unnecessary use of proprietary medicine, caused doctors to be inconspicuously the advance agent of many useless, aliezed remedies.

DECENT JUSTICE IS DEMANDED

[Continued from First Page.] district, including Chicago and Gary, Ind. No Unions Before 1918 "The men in the steel mills," Fitzpatrick continued, "were looking for relief. They had no hope. They responded in large numbers and it was only a short time until we had a very successful organization."

"Up to that time there had been no unionism in the steel mills," asked Chairman Kenyon. "About that time—October 1918—the steel corporation was resorting to every effort to force action on the part of the men or of the labor organization to spread their influence. They announced establishment of the eight-hour day and we took it as an effort to prevent our organization."

Senators Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, asked whether the employees had made application to the American Federation of Labor for organization, or whether the movement had been initiated by the American Federation of Labor. Fitzpatrick replied: "The American Federation of Labor initiated the movement," Fitzpatrick replied. "There was no movement of the men inviting the organization," asked Senator Jones.

Sproul Warns That State Will Not Stand For Disorders and Rioting

Governor William C. Sproul last night made it plain in a letter sent to William Z. Foster, the leader of the strikers at Pittsburgh, that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would not stand for disorder and that any armed mobs that attempt to come from any other state into Pennsylvania to menace the lives of this State citizens, to destroy property or to subvert order will be considered as invaders and dealt with accordingly.

The Sproul declaration, which was couched in no uncertain terms, was contained in a telegram sent in reply to a letter by Foster against the State police. His telegram says: "I am glad to hear that you are so concerned for the peace and order of Pennsylvania. I am sure that you will do all in your power to prevent any further outbreaks of violence. I am sure that you will do all in your power to prevent any further outbreaks of violence."

Experience has shown that it is dangerous to permit the congregation of large numbers of people during times of stress and excitement, and the sheriff as the official charged with maintenance of law and order, was acting for the public welfare in forbidding the gatherings and in enforcing his decrees. I am carrying out my policy, the sheriff said, and I will have the full assistance of the State.

Fourth Death Occurs at Farrell When Sniper Is Shot by Trooper

Farrell, Pa., Sept. 25.—The fourth fatality in connection with the steel strike here occurred this afternoon when a member of the Pennsylvania State Police shot and killed a man whom they claim had been sniping at the plant of the American Sheet and Wire Company. The man who was shot was badly beaten by the State Police for resisting arrest.

Sniping, according to the police authorities, had been going on during the greater part of the morning. The place where the firing was coming from was located and troopers with field glasses watched to identify the man who was doing the shooting. Later a squad of the State Police was summoned and a shed near a boundary house in the vicinity of French street and Broadway was surrounded. Presently Grogan appeared. The State Police charge that the man put his hand behind him as if to draw a pistol, and that before he could make a further move he was killed with a rifle.

Opposition of county farmers to the plan of establishing a wholesale market in this city, is expressed in a resolution of a committee of county farmers, presented yesterday to Stanley Jean, chairman of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce fair price committee. Action opposing the plan was taken some time ago, but the report to the Chamber committee has just been received. "The market would aid in reducing the cost of living in the least, the producers affirm. City ordinances will not aid in the least in causing a downward trend in prices," the producers say. Their resolution contains a petition to the Chamber of Commerce that it use its influence to bring about the repeal or amendment of present anti-foreclosing ordinance. It has failed in its purpose and is working to the detriment of both producer and consumer, the resolution says.

On the contrary, the department, he asserted, has observed "at all times in letter and in spirit" the presidential order forbidding the certification of the candidate with the highest rating. To substantiate his statement, Mr. Burleson included in his letter a tabulation showing "conclusively" that the charges so frequently made violating the executive order are unfair, unjust and without foundation in fact.

The telegram follows: "The same speakers and organizers who addressed all meetings at the same class of people in peaceful Youngstown were used in outraged New Castle and Farrell. Schleisner Millinery Typical of the exclusiveness and fine quality which the fashionable dresser requires. THERE is a great distinction between ordinary trimmed hats and Schleisner millinery. Our millinery is selected with the same critical eye that chooses our garments. Merely because a hat is trimmed does not signify that it is an artistic creation. It requires the touch of the artist to accomplish the masterpiece. Our hats are true interpretations of those illusive Parisian millinery modes which dominate the fashion centers the world over. It is pleasing to the woman of refinement to know that in this extensive collection of the new fall millinery there is but one of a model. And with this feature, the distinctiveness and the quality of our hats, the prices are extremely moderate. $7.90 to $25.00 Attention is directed to the many new arrivals in fall dresses for all occasions for the woman and miss. These charming dresses are featured in the new materials. A full range of colors is represented.
