

STATE MEDICAL CONVENTION ENDS

First Aid Demonstrations and Pictures Conclude Sessions

The State Medical Society ended their convention last evening with a meeting in the ball room of the Penn-Harris. The first aid team of the Bell Telephone Company gave a very interesting demonstration of the most recent first aid methods, giving three examples of common accidents and the steps to be taken in caring for the injuries.

Major M. J. Shields, of the American Red Cross, made an address following this demonstration in which he told of the great advance in first aid work which has been made throughout this country in the years of the war, both by industries and the Red Cross itself.

The doctors who remained in the city to-day attended several clinics which were held especially for them at the Department of Health Tuberculosis Dispensary, the Harrisburg Hospital and the Polyclinic Hospital. The physicians and surgeons were at work this morning from 10 until 12 o'clock, the dispensary operated from 2 until 4 this afternoon, and this evening the Genito-Urinary Dispensary will demonstrate venereal diseases. The diagnosis and treatment of these as undertaken by the State will be shown at this demonstration.

Dr. William L. Clark, of Philadelphia, conducted the clinic at the Harrisburg Hospital before 30 visiting physicians. His subject was the Electro-Thermic Treatment of Superficial Malignant Diseases. Dr. Clark is an X-Ray specialist.

Held Clinics

Yesterday through the effort of the Red Cross in Harrisburg, two clinics were held at the Harrisburg Hospital dispensary. Dr. Jesse Lenker brought Dr. J. Torrance Rugh and Dr. T. H. Weisenberg, both of Philadelphia, to the hospital where they conducted the clinic. About twenty-two children were taken to these clinics, the majority of the cases being with infantile paralysis, club feet or some other disease of this sort, and the Philadelphia physicians expressed themselves as being exceedingly interested in the cases.

Both doctors were of the opinion that something could be done for the majority of the children taken in and they were given the names and addresses of the case which they considered curable. The Red Cross will carry on this work at further clinics.

CHILD WANDERS AWAY

Annabelle Knupp, 8-year-old daughter of Harvey E. Knupp, an attorney of the county bar, wandered away from her home at 227 Herr street, yesterday afternoon and was found at Penn and Seneca streets by residents there. The police were notified and had already received word from the mother of the child, so that within two hours, the girl was returned to her home.

CAPTAIN JENKINS RECOVERS

Captain Robert D. Jenkins, Company 1, 115th Regiment, 23rd Division, who had been ill at his home at Cly, with influenza, has recovered and is back again at his duties in the timekeeper's office at the Pennsylvania railroad station.

BELL COMPANY IN FIRST AID DISPLAY

BELL COMPANY'S FIRST AID TEAM

Treat cases and three men carry patient for 20 feet as if in passage which is too narrow to permit the use of a stretcher.

In connection with the regular program of the sixty-ninth annual session of the State Medical Society the first aid team of the Bell Telephone Company gave a practical demonstration of first-aid work which gave an idea of the progress made by the Bell Company along this line. Bell Company physicians and surgeons were also entertained at an informal dinner at the Penn-Harris hotel at 7 o'clock.

The demonstrations included the following:

Man has been run over and right arm cut off close to shoulder; several ribs broken on right side. Treat and carry on a stretcher using bent elbow as stump.

Patient found unconscious, lying on his back across live electric wire. Rescue and give artificial respiration for one minute. Then treat burns on back and right upper arm. Carry 30 feet on any kind of an improvised stretcher.

Man found under wreck with punctured wound of abdomen; broken rib on left side; cut on right side of head, bleeding in spurts.

Mixed Scotch Foursome at Country Club Tomorrow

Announcement was made to-day that a handsome cup will be awarded to the woman winner and golf balls to the male winner in the mixed Scotch foursome, scheduled for Saturday afternoon on the links of the Harrisburg Country Club. It has been decided to hold an 18-hole tournament for women later, the winner to be presented with a cup.

Both of these tournaments are handicap events, and this encourages not only the better players but those who are off on their game. From the returns that are coming in, it is believed that Saturday's play will not only attract sixty players, but many others who are interested in the club. All entries for Saturday must be filed before noon to-day with Mrs. W. H. Gaither, captain of the women's golf, or A. H. Armstrong, captain of the men's golf. The players are expected to arrange their own foursomes.

For Between Meals and After School

THE children get hungry many times a day for busy, growing little bodies need a great deal of nourishing food. Mother must have something that is wholesome and easy to serve when they come in from play and return from school. JERSEY CORN FLAKES are just the thing to keep the children happy until meal time.

JERSEY CORN FLAKES are relished by every member of the family. At breakfast, luncheon or dinner they are always welcome. Our superior toasting process imparts a golden brown crispness that is retained after serving in milk.

A triple-seal package keeps them always fresh and sweet. If you think you don't like cereals, it's because you haven't tasted JERSEY CORN FLAKES.

ry veterans, whose appetites will be whetted by a day replete with welcome home events.

Dozens and dozens of tables, under the capable direction of V. Grant Forrer, are being placed in River Front park, in the area just south of the Civic Club. These tables will be attractively decorated with bunting, and will be covered with white cloth. When the men march there from the baseball game on the Island, where the Klein Chocolate Company team will play the Washington Americans with admission free to soldiers in uniform and their "girls," and from the theaters and other places of interest, they will find a half a cantaloupe waiting for them at their places at the tables, to keep them busy until the tables are heaped with luscious chicken, potatoes with brown butter dressing, french peas, and a dozen other good things.

Salute of 21 Guns

Other arrangements for the big welcome home are progressing so rapidly it is difficult to keep in touch with them. A salute of twenty-one guns will be fired as the vanguard of veterans marches onto the Island Sunday afternoon for the arrival and welcome home services at 3.30 o'clock, when Governor Sproul, Mayor Keister, the Rev. Henry W. A. Hanson, Major Mahin, and others will speak and community singing and bands will live the occasion.

Four huge searchlights with an expert to operate them, will arise from the Philadelphia Navy Yards in time for the celebration, and the lights from the tops of the tallest building, will cast their radiance up and down the street adding to the festive appearance of the city.

Wear Your O. D.'s

The parade Monday afternoon at two o'clock, when veterans of former wars and the Reserve Militia, will escort the Harrisburg contingent of World War service men and women about the principal streets, is being awaited with interest by fathers, mothers, relatives and friends are more than ever anxious to see the boys march in one grand review before time finally disbands the gallant Harrisburg band. All service men and women are especially desired by their relatives and friends, and the committee in charge, to wear their uniforms during the welcome home. These uniforms will admit them to the theaters, dances, dinner and baseball game, free of charge.

Old Time Cider

The canteen service, under the direction of Mrs. Francis Jordan Hall, met yesterday and planned the part that they will take in the welcome. Information booths will be established at prominent places in the city where canteen workers will be on duty Sunday and Monday. Members of the service will be at Island Park Sunday afternoon to help present the bronze commemorative medals which the city is presenting to its soldiers. But best of all, at the dances Monday night, the canteen service will have good, old time cider, rosy-cheeked apples and pretzels, as refreshments for the guests. The cider is at present being made over in the Cumberland Valley and it is said that the short time will not permit it to get hard.

Governor's Troop in Line

It was announced last evening that the Governor's Troop will take part as a unit in the celebration meeting at the Hope firehouse an hour before the general meeting downtown. They will march under the command of Major Roberts, who took them away in 1917.

Casey, Too

The Boy Scouts will also have a big part in the parade preparations, keeping order in the crowd during the march and also at Island Park. Killiam G. German, scoutmaster, has organized the city troops and is prepared to take care of anything that comes along, working in conjunction with the police.

The Knights of Columbus will have in line of the parade of Monday, twelve secretaries who saw service overseas. They will also have a booth in Market Square, which will be located on one corner on Market street, where they will give free of charge to all men in uniform, throughout the celebration, candy, cigars, ice cream, cake and
