RAISE MONEY TO DEFEND HUSBAND

Wife of Slayer of Sunbury Man Attacks Attorney; Is Rebuked and Restrained

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 26.—Long into evening Paul D. Bailey, who yesterday was acquitted of the murder of George W. Samsam, whom he killed because of his intimacy with Bailey's wife on the evening of May 29 last, heard the congratulations of men and women here upon his acquittal. After the trial had been concluded Bailey went to his home in Third street, followed by a crowd who insisted on shaking him by the hand.

It was learned here today that railroad men had contributed $725 to a fund to retain counsel for the defense of Bailey, who is a Pennsylvania Railroad engineer. Bailey is a member of the Brotherhood of Engineers and that organization has been a movement to use funds to obtain counsel for him.

A. G. Townsend, treasurer of the committee in charge, announced today that the fund had been paid to Attorneys Welsh and Shaeffer, who defended the prisoner.

Mrs. Bailey, the wife, attacked Attorney Shaeffer in front of the court house. Her eyes flashing fire and surrounded by a crowd which had followed her from the court room, the woman who had been excoriated by her husband's counsel, struck the attorney across the chest with her open hand.

Schaeffer, who stood with his foot on the running board of Judge Cummings' roadster, conversing with Judge Fred B. Moser, who presided in the trial, shook himself free and admonished the woman to go home to her babies, reminding her that if she had stayed within the sphere of her household as she should have done, her husband would not have been in jeopardy of his life.

Several women very audibly hissed and whistled into the air, striking right and left. She was about to enter onto one woman in particular for a fierce encounter, when restrained by throwing her head in the air, she strutted out Market street a short distance, stopped and sneered at the crowd, then haughtily walked out Market street as far as Fourth with a male friend.

Former Constable Finds Warrant Issued Baseless; Says He Was but Spectator

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 26.—Former Constable Samuel Rock, served with a warrant to appear before Squire Haulman, at Chambersburg, to answer a charge of assault and battery and riot in connection with the strike disturbance at the Machine Company last Saturday morning, says he had been in his potato patch in South Waynesboro that morning and was on his way to the court house to appear before Squire Haulman, when he was arrested. He stopped to witness it, but had no part in the trouble. Rock says he has served many warrants in his time, but recalls none where there was so little basis for it as the one in his own case.

Army Physician Tells of War From His Viewpoint

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 26.—A large audience greeted Major F. A. Rupp, of this place, in the court house last night to hear his address, "Bird's Eye View of the World's War as Seen by a Physician." Dr. Rupp enlisted in the medical department of the service shortly after the United States entered the war and found plenty work on the battlefields and in the hospitals of war-torn France. He returned to this place to resume his practice a couple of months ago. A silver collection was taken up for the benefit of the Post No. 30, American Legion.

Costs Bank Cashier $5.65 For Foot of Town's Space

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 26.—Cashier W. H. Gelbach of the Citizens National Bank stopped his car linear foot inside the ten-foot dead line in front of the bank, and on that of Constable Bretzler was fined $5.65, with the added cost of Gelbach paid the bill to Squire Potter, but believes he was all of ten feet away from the plug, though he did not measure the distance while his car was standing there. After he had taken it away it was too late. Observant citizens figure that street space here is worth $5.65 per foot.

Thieves Ethesize Family and Loot Florin Home

Marietta, Pa., Sept. 26.—In daylight thieves forced an entrance to the Henry A. Gainer home, in Florin, ethesized the family and stole a sum of money and eatables. In the attempt to get away, they overlooked $5 which was in a small drawer they had opened.
