SHOWS NEED OF HOME NURSING

Mrs. Mehler, R. N., Tells of Value of Knowledge of Nursing

For the past year the local chapter of Red Cross has maintained a school of Home Nursing and Care of the Sick. The course has been taken by a good number of women and girls and has proven to be a practical matter.

It is of particular value to the woman in her own home because she is responsible for the health of those who are dependent on her for every need, rich or poor, young or old, single or married, housekeeper or worker, living with her family or living alone.

Often times when a person is ill, the conditions of emergency pending the arrival of the doctor, give practical care to the patient. It is in these emergencies that the nurse is most needed.

Many lives could have been saved and much suffering alleviated if there had been a sufficient number of nurses to care for the sick and the aged. It is a sad fact that in many homes there are no nurses available.

Great Spiritual Awakening at the First Baptist Church

The community has been greatly stirred by the series of evangelistic services being held in the First Baptist Church, the Rev. O. P. Goodwin, pastor, for the past ten days. The Rev. J. Jackson Bellamy, of Chicago, is directing the campaign.

"We have had many reputable evangelists come to the churches in this borough," said a churchman today, "but none has done more constructive and effective work in the interest of the Kingdom of God than our dear Brother Bellamy." Great good has been done by the coming of Dr. Bellamy, for believers have been edified, backsliders reclaimed and sinners converted.

The First Baptist Church has made wonderful progress under the pastoral oversight of the Rev. O. P. Goodwin. The personnel of the membership has undergone a most complete transformation.

FORT PITT WINS OVER P. R. R. TEAM

Local Shooters Finish Third in Final Rifle Match; Scores

The Fort Pitt Rifle Club of Pittsburgh, won the fifth and final match in the five match series of the season's matches held by the Pennsylvania State Rifle League.

The conditions of these matches consisted of each club shooting on their home range and the six high men in each club constituting the club team for that match.

In the fifth and final match, the Pennsylvania Railroad-Keystone Rifle Club and the Harrisburg Rifle Club both shot on the Keystone range but the Harrisburg Club had a very poor turnout as five of their first team men were out of town and could not be present and the Keystone Club very easily defeated them.

The Pennsylvania State Rifle League has proved a decided success throughout the year. The Pennsylvania State civilian team that was selected from the members of this league won nineteenth place out of 72 service and civilian teams competing for the national team championship at the national matches at Caldwell in August.

The scores in the fifth match were as follows:

CECIL FANNING, AMERICAN BARITONE

Middle West materialism may be a sturdy and abundant soil, but it is scarcely the one from which one anticipates a rare artistic florescence. However, from the obscurity of a stenographer's desk in Columbus, Ohio, Cecil Fanning has gone forth to the great art centers of the world with a message, plus a voice, superimposed on personality of distinction and charm.

WOMEN SLOW ON MARKET ANSWER

Some Say They Would Rather Buy From Stores Than City Markets

Some of the Harrisburg housewives who have sent replies to the State Bureau of Markets on the questionnaire sent out as a starter of a State-wide survey of marketing conditions have stated that they can not afford to buy at the markets when time, effort and car fare are taken into consideration, while others have said that rather than go to the trouble of getting up early and driving to a heavy backfield player and was counted on to bring victories to the Lebanon Valley eleven will probably do very little if any playing owing to his bad knee.

URGES LEAGUE MEETING IN U.S.

Clemenceau Writes to Senate Advocating Sessions Early in November

Paris, Friday, Oct. 4.—President Clemenceau has written to Colonel M. House, a member of the American Peace Delegation, urging that a meeting of the League of Nations be held in Washington under the chairmanship of President Wilson early in November. The President's letter outlines his reasons for the calling of such a meeting, was officially published to-day. It was written on September 4, 1919, and says in part: "I would suggest the meeting be held the first week of the coming November, and would propose the invitation of the greatest possible number of statesmen whose names were associated with the creation of the society of nations. Undoubtedly there would be only a small amount of current business to transact, but the program would have the capital advantage: It would put in action the society, which still exists on paper.
