SPORTING NEWS HOD ELLER IS MOUND MARVEL

However, Williams Was Doing Great Work in Yesterday's Game

Chicago, Oct. 7. — While Elller's work was unusual, Williams pitched a fine brand of ball and made a credible record. He had 43 strikes in eight innings and only 128 balls, a performance which was far ahead of his exhibition at Cincinnati in the second game of the series.

Williams was working the inside corner constantly and it was a pitch of this species below his knees that Elller lifted between Jackson and Felch after waving weakly at similar offerings.

Williams yielded four hits to Elller's three, struck out three to Elller's nine, and gave two bases on balls, as compared with Elller's one.

Mayer, who pitched the ninth inning for Chicago, exhibited a lack of control, giving one pass and missing the plate 12 times out of 21 attempts. All told, the Chicago pitchers threw 126 times. Elller got through with 94 throws.

Detailed figures on each of the pitchers follow:

Join Volleyball Crowd! It Is Some Real Sport

Volleyball is spreading all over the city and is attracting to those who are in close touch with athletes, senior and junior, there will be no less than 50 teams within the next two weeks.

The admission fee is nominal, and it costs very little to dance. Good music is furnished by the Franklin two-piece orchestra. The games are open to the public.

REPLY UNSATISFACTORY

Paris, Oct. 7. — The German reply to the Allied note demanding the withdrawal of General Von Der Goltz troops from the Baltic provinces was discussed by the Supreme Council at the resumption of its meetings this morning.

It was learned that the reply was unsatisfactory and that Marshal Foch was instructed to draw up a new note to send to the Germans.

TROOPS GOVERN STEEL CITIES

Major General Wood Is in Charge, With Martial Law Declared

Chicago, Oct. 7. — Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Central Department of the United States Army, today is in charge of the Indiana steel cities of Gary, Indiana Harbor and East Chicago with 1,000 overseas veterans of the Fourth Division, armed with cannon, machine guns and rifles, and has declared martial law in Gary, while Adjutant General Smith with 1,000 state troops declared martial law in the other two steel centers. No soldier uniforms may worn in Gary by civilians under the general's orders.

No disorder preceded the action of the military yesterday, but the troops movements were brought about by a parade without permit of 2,000 strikers from the steel cities in Gary, led by a large number of former soldiers in uniform, and a mass meeting in a Gary park, where speakers demanded the release of strikers arrested after a riot on Saturday and the withdrawal of troops sent by Governor Goodrich of Indiana, at the request of city officers.

This was the first action by Federal troops since the steel strike started on September 22. It came unexpected as there had been comparatively little disorder in any of the steel centers since that time.

No sooner had Mayor Hodges of Gary, asked Governor Goodrich for troops than they were ordered to be held in violation of his orders and in defiance of the 300 state troops they had recently withdrawn.

Other persons are withholding their contributions, it is thought, because they know of no particular soldier for whom they care to contribute. This is a mistake, too, the committee says, for every soldier is equally worthy, and every Harrisburger who is financially able to do so, should contribute in multiples of $20 to be assigned to some service man. Those who have contributed before, it is pointed out, have the same outlet for their philanthropic impulses to-day as during the war campaigns, for a stipulated fund of $70,000 is to be raised, and everyone must turn out and aid.

The plan of the campaign was devised merely to prevent personal solicitation and to honor each service man equally and individually.

The Patriot announced last evening that subscribers for $50 or more were to be recognized in the service flag during the war campaigns. This is a mistake, too, the committee says, for every soldier is equally worthy, and every Harrisburger who is financially able to do so, should contribute in multiples of $20 to be assigned to some service man. Those who have contributed before, it is pointed out, have the same outlet for their philanthropic impulses to-day as during the war campaigns, for a stipulated fund of $70,000 is to be raised, and everyone must turn out and aid.

French Senate Takes Up Peace Treaty

Paris, Oct. 7. — The Senate meets this afternoon to begin to consider the Treaty of Peace.

Leon Bugeuld, chairman of the peace commission of the Senate, delivered the report of the commission on the Treaty to the senate this morning. The report calls for immediate and unanimous ratification of the Treaty, it states that the question at issue is not to compare advantages which other allied nations receive from the Treaty of Peace with those attained by France but that the Treaty must be regarded from the point of view of its safeguards to French interests.

The report further argued that France must ratify the Treaty immediately in order to assume a seat upon the committee of organization of the League of Nations which has commenced its work in London.

MANY NAMES YET TO BE COVERED

[Continued from First Page.] the stay-at-homes. To date, no more than two hundred and fifty have responded to that call.

"Of that crowd of 40,000, are only 250 sincere" the committee is asking. "Is all of Harrisburg lacking because it is asked to render its patriotism and gratitude to the soldiers, in terms of cash?"

The fact of the matter is, according to the committee, that the people of Harrisburg have lost none of their old-time enthusiasm for a campaign to oversubscribe every war quota, but they have not yet grasped the meaning of this new campaign. It is easy to go out and raise $70,000, collecting here and there, and everywhere, say the committee. But this memorial is to honor the soldiers. And the officials in charge refuse to degrade the uniform by begging memorial funds from door to door.

A select group of several thousand Harrisburgers have already done their duty when the townspeople were called upon for their contributions to the fund. They will be glad to contribute a worthy cause. Those thousands would have contributed long before this if canvassers had called upon them. And it is the history of war campaigns that a great many of them would have contributed considerably more than $20.

They are still waiting for canvassers to gather in their twenty-dollar bills. Detailed figures on the number of no collectors, and other Harrisburgers will have assumed the privilege of adding their bit to the fund which will build a permanent memorial at Thirteenth and State streets.

Other persons are withholding their contributions, it is thought, because they know of no particular soldier for whom they care to contribute. This is a mistake, too, the committee says, for every soldier is equally worthy, and every Harrisburger who is financially able to do so, should contribute in multiples of $20 to be assigned to some service man. FOUR AVELLOS WIN APPLAUSE

Xylophone Artists Are Popular With Large Majestic Audience

Xylophone numbers by the Four Avellos, who start the Majestic program for the first part of the week, were applauded for minutes last night by an enthusiastic and well-pleased audience. No encore resulted, but probably the entertainers preferred to have their other numbers remembered.

That they knew how to play a xylophone everyone will say who heard them last night. Crashing cymbals, a passage in pianissimo were played in artistic fashion, and Harrisburgers will wait a long time before they have an opportunity to enjoy music from this instrument played as well as by the Avellos.

Murray and Vosik follow in songs and patter after a comedy opening with the usual "stage hand" troublemaker who turns out to be a singer. "The Book Shop" served as a title which certainly concealed any advance information about Regal and Mack, who presented it. Instead of the usual sketch it turned out to be a song and dance offering, and the dances certainly were graceful, lacking in any of the acrobatic hand-springs and the like.

Clare Howard, after giving a little round of song and jokes, turned the floor into a uproar by imitating "Charlie Chasin". For an encore, she brought "I'm a Wild, Wild Woman," sung her almost as much as usual.

Alex Sparks and company in "Kat Naps" have a novelty offering that would probably be better at the start of the bill this week. A girl and a boy, who are the only entertainment with song and dance.

Congress to Go Home Nov. 1, Penrose Says, After Ratifying Treaty

Washington, Oct. 7. — The end of this month was fixed by Senator Penrose, Republican leader, of the Senate, as the probable date of adjournment of Congress.

After conferring with a number of his colleagues and discussing with them prospects for prompt action on the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations, Senator Penrose said he saw no reason why the Treaty cannot be ratified and all other work of the session completed in time for adjournment by November 1.

Mr. Penrose believes none of the textual amendments to the Treaty will be adopted, but he feels certain there will be embodied in the ratification resolutions and reservations covering all principal objections raised against the covenant of the League.
