Evening Chat

Harrisburg's Natural History Society, composed of some naturalists and lovers who have given study to some of the beautiful as well as historical spots in the vicinity of the State Capital and probably found more interest in the general public without sight of the State House dome than the public knowns, has arranged a series of excursions for this season.

This is certainly a remarkable period of our country. It is a time from the country who was looking into the store windows along Market street yesterday afternoon.

The meeting of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce the other evening was a most interesting one.

The farmers of Pennsylvania are working too hard and are not using their heads enough, according to some statements in the bulletin of the State Department of Agriculure.

Some excellent wild duck shooting is being reported from the Susquehanna river counties by men who are consequently are not doing the ducks have been coming up from the southern states in large flocks and many of them are fat and plump.

DO YOU KNOW

That Harrisburg had almost a regiment in the War of 1812? HISTORIC HARRISBURG—Cannon balls were cast at furnaces in this vicinity in the Civil War. The Lord maketh poor, and maketh rich; he bringeth low, and lifteth up. He raiseth up the poor from the dunghill, and he maketh them from princes, and to make them inherit the throne of glory; for the pillars of the earth are the Lord's, and he hath set the world upon them.
