STATE TO MARK HISTORIC SITES

Fort LeBoeuf and Bushy Run Will Be Commemorated by Commonwealth

Definite plans for participation in the erection of a memorial on the site of Fort LeBoeuf, in Erie county, and the battle field of Bushy Run, in Westmoreland county, have been made by the State Historical Commission with the approval of Governor William C. Spruell.

The Erie county project there will be erected a statue of Washington as he appeared when he first visited what is now that county before the Revolution, and the State will meet any subscriptions which may be made up to $3,500.

In the Bushy Run project the plan is to erect a monument on the Wanamaker tract. The State Commission, to whose charge was given the property of the Economy Society near Ambridge when purchased by the Commonwealth, has arranged with a local committee to administer it as a public place without cost to the State.

It is calculated that rents from the property will amount to $10,000. The State Game Commission has given notice that 22 counties of the State have been closed to hunting of certain kinds of game and twelve counties are closed to shooting of ring-necked pheasants. The counties which are closed to certain kinds of game are Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Bucks, Carbon, Chester, Clearfield, Crawford, Delaware, Erie, Fayette, Greene, Jefferson, Lancaster, McKean, Mercer, Monroe, Montour, Northumberland, Somerset, Wayne and Wyoming.

Pennsylvania will be interested in the coming general convention of the New York State Teachers' Association, which will hold its annual meeting in Albany on November 24, 25 and 26. It is expected that between seven and eight thousand teachers and educators from the State of New York will be in attendance at this meeting.

Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania, is to be the speaker at the session of November 25, when the teachers' association has arranged a farewell program in his honor. Dr. Finegan had 27 years' service in one capacity or another with the public schools of New York State, and according to the announced program of the meeting, "it is proposed to pay a fitting tribute to the excellent and successful services of Dr. Finegan to the State of New York."

Governor Spruell has been invited to participate in the meeting. State Health Department officials say that with the first anniversary of the inauguration of the influenza quarantine just passed, there are not more than the normal number of influenza cases in the State. The influenza quarantine was made effective October 4, 1918. At present some outbreaks of diphtheria and infantile paralysis are being followed up, but there is nothing else out of the ordinary.

Three first-degree murder cases are listed for the October meeting of the State Board of Pardons which will be held a week from today. Over 20 other cases are listed.

Corn in Pennsylvania is declared out of the reach of frost by men who have been studying the crop reports coming to the State Department of Agriculture. The crop may be a record-breaker and is much better than expected in some localities.

Potatoes are also turning out better than anticipated in some districts. Farmers are generally plowing and seeding wheat late to avoid the danger of the fly, according to reports from southern counties in the State "wheat belt."

The Public Service Commission has approved the application for a charter for the Eastern Aereo Service Corporation to operate an airplane express and passenger service with offices at Easton, but with the reservation that the commission should have the right at any time to regulate and define the business. The hearing was marked by presence of the licensed pilot engaged by the promoters of the company and statement that they could get $100,000 in cash to start business.

Danger to Cattle in Insecticides

The Bureau of Chemistry of the State Department of Agriculture, which recently analyzed specimens obtained from hogs and cows suspected of having been poisoned, found that death had resulted from arsenical poisoning.

In several cases of this kind recently investigated it developed that the poisoning resulted from the stock having access to insecticides containing arsenic, says a department bulletin. Cases of this kind will continue unless great care is taken that all insecticides and poisons used about the farm for the extermination of pests be kept away from the stock, and special care should be taken that no material used for feeding purposes has come in contact with the insecticides that are used in spraying.

It is frequently due to carelessness that these poisons find their way into the feed boxes, causing loss of livestock, and such cases can be avoided if care is taken. Owners of livestock, therefore, are cautioned to guard against poisoning from such materials by keeping them stored in a safe place away from stock.

Senate Asked to Act on Sugar Situation

Washington, Oct. 8.—Action by the Senate to prevent a threatened shortage of sugar next year is expected within a short time. It will be based on recommendations made to the Committee on Agriculture by a special subcommittee which was authorized to investigate the sugar situation.

Senator McNary, of Oregon, chairman of the subcommittee, said today that his committee would recommend either that the President, through a resolution of Congress, be asked to extend the authority of the United States Equalization Board to the 1920 crop of cane sugar and 1919 crop of beet sugar or that, in the event the President decides he has no power to authorize such extension, to recommend the passage of a bill which will give him such power.

Reports from the sugar planters of Louisiana say that although the crop in that State will be short, the world crop will be ample and that there is to be no apparent sugar shortage.

Preach Patriotism on Street Corners

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Buffalo's Four Minute men who organized during the Great War to promote the sale of Liberty Bonds have undertaken a new task. They are preaching patriotism and love of country at the street corners.

The soapbox has been the rostrum of those who preached class hatred and revolution; it was said in announcing the campaign, and the Four Minute men believed that this class of speakers should be met on their own ground.

Accordingly they reorganized as the Minute Men and one of their number speaks each night. The first meetings have been well attended and the Minute Men say they have been encouraged by sympathetic response from their audiences. It is planned to continue the "soapbox" campaign as long as there is apparent need for it.

A meteor of exceeding brilliance was seen near Los Angeles a short time ago. Jealous of the stars gathered there, evidently.

Friends and relatives of the men and young men of Harrisburg will give due credit to the good judgment they used in selecting their new Fall clothes this season if they are wearing any of the standardized known quality clothes that are sold by this "Live Store." We'll tell you frankly that it's impossible to improve your looks beyond what we can for you along those lines with

Hart Schaffner & Marx, Kuppenheimer and Society Brand Clothes

They represent all that Dame Fashion can produce by skilled designers and expert tailoring—The first cost is the most economy if you spend your money for good clothes—few stores have any very large assortments of good clothes—yet you might find plenty of ordinary clothes almost anywhere. Some stores believe in almost anything just so they have something.

The funny part about a great many nameless brands of clothing is they cost just as much as "good clothes" cost in a well-rated high-grade store—But you can very often attribute that condition to a small outlet—The larger the volume of business a store has the greater your chances are to buy at rock bottom prices—We're in a position to talk to you as big operators who buy tremendous quantities early in the season the moment the market opens—which assures us that we get in on the ground floor, enabling us to save money for our customers.

This year there have been great advances since the opening prices late buyers paid the penalty for waiting and if you buy from the conservative merchant who is in that class you will have to pay more. Come Here and compare our prices for equal quality and you will never question our ability to give you greater values than you can get in the ordinary store.
