More Than Selling Glasses

There are some optometrists to whom you could go, who would sell you glasses without would sell you glasses without regard to your needing them. Not so with Rubin and Rubir. We recommend glasses only in case you need them. And if your eyes need medical attention we tell you—more; we help you to receive such attention.

Such is Rubin and Rubin service. Our prices are moderate, some glassos costing as little as $1.50. No charge for examination, and no drops used.

DICKINSON SOPHS OUTWIT FRESHIES

Every Member of Class Eludes Pursuers and Attends Banquet at the Penn-Harris

The class of 1922, Dickinson College, held the annual Sophomore ban-quet at the Penn-Harris last evening with practically every one of the 99 members in attendance. Each year the sophomores and the freshmen of the institution make desperate efforts to prevent the other class from staging a stunt of some description sort. Last night the Sophs complete ly outwitted their opponents after forcibly compelling 20 of their mem bers to remain away from the freshman affair given the preceding night at Mentzer Hall. The event was in the nature of an informal dance giv-the nature of an informal dance given by the rreshman girls and the nonappearance of so many of their expected guests was indeed a crushing blow adding greatly to the sophs complete victory. On the contrary, the freshmen captured nary a one of their wiser brothers.

George Hess, president of the class of '22, arrived in this city late Tuesday evening, concealing himself successfully from his 'verdant' pursuers, who, following a 'leak' occurring early in the day, were hot on his trail. Yesterday the remaining members of the class came down in various ways, at various times. Every attempt made by the class of '23 to detain them was futile and last evening all members of '22, with the exception of four, who were unable to attend, were seated at the banquet table.

the exception of four, who were unable to attend, were seated at the banquet table.

The committee for the event comprised John Peters, chairman: Clifton Hartman, John Klingman, Raphael Rupp, Harry L. Stearns, and George Hess. In the absence of the chairman, Clifton Hartman assumed his duties and also acted as toastmaster.

Speakers for the Event

The speakers were Harvey Allen, president of the class last year, who gave a toast to the girls to which Miss Ruth Erb, class secretary, responded; Charlie Collins, vice-president; Sergeant Grando, a member of the class who recently returned from overseas; George Hess, president, who spoke on "General Class Spirit," and A. S. Gifford, a member of '22, who made some humorous remarks in reference to the poor, outwitted freshmen.

erence to the poor, outwitted freshmen.

At'the close of the banquet part of class went to the grill for dancing, while others went to the theater.

Due to an unfortunate mistake, Dean Filler and Mrs. Filler, and Dr. Guy Shaddinger, dean of the class, who were to have been the honor guests, were not present.

The sophomore class, aside from showing good class spirit, is active in all college activities, already giving promise of being one of the best classes ever to have been turned out by the institution. The officers are George Hess, president; Charles Collins, vice-president; Ruth Erb, secretary, and Maurice E. Swartz, a former local lad, treasurer.

Bloomsburg Alumni Plan Banquet Next Monday

It was announced this morning that the annual banquet of the Bloomsburg State Normal School Alumni Association will be held Monday evening. October 13 at 7 o'clock at the Penn-Harris.

L. H. Dennis, of Camp Hill, the president says this will be "the best ever" and that several teachers from Bloomsburg will be here for the event as well as half a dozen members of the faculty who will make after-dinner speeches. About fifty guests are expected.

Tickets may be obtained from Miss Mary Pendergast, 918 North Sixth street.

opening at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening.

The social committee met on Tuesday evening to make final plans for the event and the federation members are anxious to have as their guests any girls in the city who may be interested in the club or classes. The program will begin at eight o'clock with the singing of club and popular songs, followed by a Distraction Meeting showing club meetings before and after adopting the standards for club work. Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones will speak and Miss Hartman will make the announcements of coming events in the department. Music, games and refreshments will follow.

French Classes at the Y. W. C. A. Classes in French taught by Mrs. Paul W. England will be organized next Monday evening from 6.30 to 7.00 o'clock. All interested should come to the association at that time. Mrs. England will employ the conversational method in her teaching, accustoming the pupil from the beginning to the use of simple French phrases and the asking and answering of simple French questions, until the vocabulary of the class increases. The lessons will be conducted almost entirely in that language. English being employed only where the explanation of some grammatical point absolutely demands it.
