

OPTOMETRISTS OF STATE WILL MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Three Hundred Delegates Expected to Take Part in Big Program

Arrangements are virtually complete for the convention of the Pennsylvania State Optometrists which will be held at the Penn-Harris Hotel Monday and Tuesday of next week. The delegates will assemble on Sunday to meet informally and to view the exhibit of which there will be quite a number.

Optometrists will be in attendance. There are about 20 exhibitors representing the leading manufacturing and jobbing houses from all over the East. Fully 300 persons will be present at the banquet on Tuesday evening.

YARN FOR SALE
Although the headquarters of the Harrisburg Red Cross chapter has moved away from the Public Library the knitters who desire to purchase some of the yarn which the Red Cross is selling may still go to the Walnut street address, as the yarn will continue to be sold there until it is all disposed of.

ACCUSES SOCIALISTS
By Associated Press.
Berlin, Wednesday, Oct. 8.—Independent Socialists were accused by Gustav Noske, minister of defense, in the national assembly today of "complicating Germany's position abroad by malicious and unjust criticism of the military administration."

INTERESTING PERSONAL NEWS

DAUGHTERS 1812 MEET THURSDAY

The Rev. Dr. Reisch Discusses "What Women Will Do With the Vote"

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Reisch, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, gave an illuminating talk yesterday afternoon before Keystone chapter U. S. Daughters of 1812 on "What Women Will Do With the Vote." He said in brief "that woman will not lose her identity nor unsex herself when she exercises the right of franchise. She will exercise the same fine instincts in applying the results of her struggles for freedom as she did in the conception of the ideal."

Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope, the regent, presided and during the program suggested that the chapter take the names of two service men in which the chapter is interested, Harry Freeman and Richard Fox Einstein, paying for their names in the city's memorial. This was done unanimously.

Miss Katharine Dubbs sang "The Slave Song" by Del Riego and "That's How the Shannon Flows," both accompanied by Miss Ruth Steinhour and John Morrell's fine baritone was heard in two English songs, with Mrs. Morrell at the piano.

Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones gave forty minutes of current events and Mrs. Anna Hamilton Wood told an original story, "Clubbing Cousin Caroline." The nominating committee reported the following list for officers to be elected at the December meeting: Regent, Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope; first vice-regent, Mrs. Charles J. Wood, Jr.; second vice-regent, Mrs. George Preston Mains; treasurer, Mrs. James Edward Dickenson; recording secretary, Miss Frances McIntock; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. May Fox; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John A. Sherger; historian, Mrs. R. H. Colburn; register, Mrs. John F. Whitaker.

Interesting Events Coming
The following tentative program was announced for the remainder of the year:

December 11, State Zoologist James G. Sanders will speak on "Why America Must Feed Europe."—Mrs. B. F. Blough hostess.

February 12, Lincoln's birthday.—Leon C. Frnee, professor of history at Dickinson College, will speak on "The Great Emancipator."—Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones hostess.

April 8.—Dr. Thomas Finegan, State superintendent of public instruction, will give a talk on "Living to Learn and Learning to Live."—Mrs. John A. Sherger hostess.

At the May meeting Nathan Keener, professor of expression and oratory at Susquehanna University, will be the speaker. The meeting will be held in an old tavern built in 1812.—Mrs. Shope hostess.

Social Season to Open This Evening at Y. M. C. A.
Everything is in readiness for the opening event of the social season at the Central "Y" this evening when the program is due to start at 8 o'clock sharp. The committee, headed by Jack O'Neil, say that everything is all set and they are only waiting for the crowd to come on.

"Doc" Miller is going to pull off some "stunts" in the gymnasium, but just what they are to be he would not say. But anyone who knows "Doc" will not worry; it's enough that he is to run them off. The gym part of the program will come after the Fahnestock Hall program, with which the party begins.

An act from the Majestic will feature the program in the hall, and the music of the Stevens Memorial orchestra will help things out. Food is another big item which is sure to bring the crowd to Jack O'Neil's party, and the Kiwanis Club and Rotary Club will be there with their wives. Everything points to a big evening when the opening gun of the season will be fired.

The Hempt-Sipe Bridal Solemnized in Goldsboro
A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Lydia Sipe of Goldsboro, Pa., when her attractive young daughter, Miss Esther May Sipe, became the bride of Clarence O. Hempt, of New Cumberland. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. V. T. Rue, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, New Cumberland. The bride was attended by Miss Eleanor Harrold, of Mechanicsburg. The bride was very prettily gowned in a dress of navy blue Georgette crepe and carried a shower of bridal roses. Mrs. Hempt is employed as stenographer in the Industrial Board offices. Mr. Hempt is the son of Robert Hempt, of New Cumberland, and is employed as draftsman at Steelton. Mr. and Mrs. Hempt left on a wedding trip to eastern cities and will be at home after November 1 at 1628 North Third street, this city.

WEDNESDAY CLUB IN A NEW WORK

Philanthropic Committee Begins Second Year With Concert at Loysville

Last year's Wednesday Club, ever progressive, started philanthropic work, giving concerts at various industrial plants and institutions, making such a success in the pleasure they gave that the committee has been continued this year. On the committee are Mrs. Arthur H. Hull, Mrs. Robert E. Reeves, Miss Lenora Fry and Miss Agnes Hess.

The first entertainment was given Wednesday at the Tressler Orphans' Home, Loysville, before two hundred pupils ranging in age from 18 months to 18 years, so it was rather difficult to arrange a program pleasing to all. Mrs. Hull sang several "stunts" and a group of songs and Mrs. Edna Groff Delih told some charming stories for children in her inimitable way.

The committee expects to do a great deal of musical work and engagements planned for entertainments at the Masonic Home, Elizabethtown; U. S. General Hospital, Carlisle; Mochhead Knitting Company, Harrisburg Silk Mill and many like places.

Miss Mary Estelle Thomas, of Mechanicsburg, was a luncheon guest of Miss Winifred Meyers, 213 North Front street, yesterday.

PRESBYTERIANS IN BIG CONFERENCE

Many Prominent Speakers Discuss New Era Movement at Market Square

The Rev. Dr. Merle H. Anderson, secretary of the Eastern district of the New Era Movement of the Presbyterian Church, was one of the principal speakers to-day at the institute held in Market Square Church.

Other speakers included the Rev. M. S. Bush, Philadelphia; the Rev. Dr. S. W. McKelvey, of Wilkingsburg, and Miss Rachel Lowrie, of Philadelphia. The program this morning included a thorough discussion of the New Era goals and objectives, as classified into seven departments. The calendar program for the year, the autumn loyalty campaign and stewardship plans and promotion were other subjects included in the morning session.

This afternoon the special phases of the spiritual program for fall and winter were taken up, and the perfecting of an organization of the New Era objectives discussed. The New Era committee was selected and group leaders gathered for instructions and reports.

The finance objectives and methods were likewise discussed and the work of the women in the New Era program. Announcement of the New Era magazine and general publicity work in connection with the campaign was made.

At the men's dinner this evening and in the conference which succeeds the dinner, the Rev. Dr. John T. Reeve, of Lancaster, will be the principal speaker. Other speakers will be the Rev. Dr. John A. Marquis, secretary of the Board of Home Missions in New York, and the Rev. J. D. Lindsey, of Shippensburg, representing the Sunday school and young people's societies. Miss Rachel Lowrie, as the representative of the women's boards, likewise will speak.

The purpose of the institute being held in this city and throughout Pennsylvania at this time is to make in every church a clear and definite understanding of the New Era aims and methods and to help the pastor and other church leaders to adopt the program to the church. Those who attended the meetings to-day were the pastors of Harrisburg's Presbyterian churches, elders, deacons and trustees of the churches, Sunday school superintendents and special representatives of young men's and women's societies.

OLDER FOLKS DAY
Older Folks Day will be celebrated by Camp Hill M. E. Church, to-morrow. The reunion will begin with a meeting in the church at 10.30 o'clock, when a motor ride will be taken. Luncheon will be served at noon by the "Willing Workers" Sunday School class. There will be a musical program in the afternoon.
