

DOMESTIC ARTS WELL UNDER WAY

Nearly All Pupils Are Making Rapid Strides in Popular Course

Teachers of Domestic Arts have their work well under way at the Edison Junior High School. Every girl in the school is enrolled in these courses. The girls in the Commercial and Academic sectors will have one period in this work each while those who have enrolled in the Manual Arts courses will have two periods per week. Some special students will have three periods per week. This program can not be carried out, however, until the school is able to operate on a full-time basis. In the meantime very satisfactory results are being attained.

Miss March who teaches the seventh and part of the eighth grade and Miss Heagy who teaches part of the eighth and ninth grades report that fully ninety-five per cent. of the girls thoroughly enjoy the work and are showing rapid improvement, the girls take great pride in doing neat work and are rapidly learning the pleasure that comes from work well done.

One of the underlying aims of the course is to teach the student how to help themselves and thus serve the community. With this in view the girls have addressed themselves to the task of preparing linen for the Domestic Science Department. Thus far they have made several hundred towels for the Domestic Science kitchen and a number of other individual use while working in the Domestic Science kitchens.

The girls of the Domestic Science courses are not only taught how to prepare food but how to serve it at a formal dinner to their invited guests. For this purpose table linen is necessary and the Domestic Arts girls are making this linen which consists of several table cloths and several dozen napkins. Other girls are at work making covers for the ironing boards which will be used by the Domestic Arts Department. Still other girls are making curtains for the shower baths. Because the girls are helping in this way to provide equipment for the school they are acquiring the feeling of personal ownership which will have a marked effect upon the way they will care for this property when using it. They will thus feel that Edison belongs to them. The girls are also making sewing bags in which to keep their scissors, thread, needles and so forth, needed while pursuing their work in these courses.

At the present time the Domestic Arts Department has two sewing machines, five ironing boards, and many sewing tables. Three more sewing machines will be added in the near future. The department is housed in two large and well-lighted rooms with a fitting and a store-room situated between them so that the rooms are convenient for the students from either workroom. The school provides all the material from which these articles for school use are made.

Landing Fields Through Pennsylvania Towns Are Essential For Flyers

In line with the policy of the Air Service, Lieutenant J. H. Sullivan appeared before the 20th Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania League of Third Class Cities. Lt. Sullivan selected as his subject the advisability of each city having a landing field. He told them about placing the name of the town on the roof of their railway station and the advantages of a municipal map for use in the assessor's department. The value of a municipal aerial photographic map for use in the assessing department was explained by the statement that all natural advantages and real estate improvements, municipal and private, were very plainly shown on such a map. The appraising of valuation of property in a municipality could thus be more fairly made. A definite plan of operation was adopted by the convention whereby each city interested through the administration of the Mayor, would form a committee on aviation in their respective community. The functions of this committee would be to select a landing field and devise ways and means to maintain it; to arouse public interest in the development of commercial aviation, using their community landing field as an operating center.

Among the cities represented at the Convention was Scranton, Pa. It will be noted that Scranton is the site of the main field on the Lackawanna Air Trail which was opened recently by the Scranton Air Club with the co-operation of the United States Air Service.

General Ireland Honored by Edinburgh College

The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, Scotland, has conferred Honorary Fellowship on Major General Merritte W. Ireland, the Surgeon General of the United States Army.

This ancient and famous college decided to mark the termination of the world war by conferring an honorary fellowship to a representative of each group of the medical forces of the British Empire and its Allies, as indicating appreciation of services rendered. It is explained that Major General Ireland was selected as representing the American Army Medical Corps.

The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh dates from the year 1505. It conferred only 33 honorary fellowships from 1671 to 1838 and the total number conferred to date does not exceed 75.

General Ireland has been further honored, by an invitation to deliver the address at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston on October 17th in celebration of "Ether Day."

As early as 1805 inhalations of ether were recommended by a Dr. Warren of Boston and in 1812 ether intoxication by inhalation is said to have been frequently practiced. It was first used as an anesthetic by Dr. C. L. Long, of Georgia, but it was not until October, 1846 that Dr. Warren at the instance of W. T. G. Morton, of Boston, used ether as a surgical anesthetic at the Massachusetts General Hospital and made its value public knowledge. A few days subsequently G. T. Jackson, of Boston claimed to have first made known to Morton the use of ether for the prevention of pain in dental operations.
