Social activity at the Elks' Home, on North Second street, during fall and winter is expected to eclipse all former seasons. Both the social and entertainment committees have been busy for several weeks, planning. Something doing every week. Local Elks are already fixing up their date books so they will not miss anything. On Wednesday, October 15, a pig roast and entertainment is the program. The social committee will be in charge. Just what the entertainment part will include is to be a big surprise. The festivities start at 8 o'clock.
