Society Women Use New Wrinkle Remover

Since the discovery that a solution of ordinary axolite and witch hazel has a peculiar effect upon wrinkled skins, it has been learned that many prominent society women all over the country have used this simple home treatment with great success. The formula is: powdered axolite, one ounce; dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. Use daily as a wash lotion. The beneficial action of this wash is felt at once. There's an agreeable refreshing sensation and feeling of exhilaration. Flabbiness and all wrinkles are immediately affected, and the skin soon becomes firmer and more youthful looking. No woman need hesitate to get the ingredients at the drug store and make the remedy herself, for there are no harmful effects whatever.

100,000 FAMILIES IN NEED OF HOMES

RITCHIE LAWRIE, JR., Director Housing Bureau State Chamber of Commerce

bureau chief and has entered upon his new duties. Practical Plans Director Lawrie is preparing various plans of financing the housing corporations which have found to be practicable in various places and sorting building plans that are suitable. He will be available to go to any community which has attacked the housing problem and aid them in the solution of their difficulty and will be glad to have correspondence with such communities at once.

The addition of the housing bureau is another one of the progressive moves which the State Chamber is adopting to make itself a bureau of genuine service and follows the passage of a resolution at the recent annual meeting and subsequent action of its directors to install such a bureau. F. R. Babcock, of Pittsburgh is chairman of the housing committee.

Lack of Facilities

The lack of housing facilities has largely come about through the lack of adequate building prior to our entry into the war and the stoppage of building during the war. The results of a preliminary survey conducted by the State Chamber covering public housing throughout the State establishes the fact that 100,000 need homes. At the present time these families are living as best they can in every conceivable kind of shelter. As a result the efficiency and health of a considerable portion of the population is jeopardized, causing discontent.

Industrial Handicap

Director Lawrie was a first lieutenant in the Ordnance Department. He was executive assistant to the commanding officer of the Inspection Division of the Bridgeport Ordnance District, directing and supervising all administrative matters. His training and experience, especially qualify him for his new post. For a number of years lack of adequate housing has been an industrial handicap and urgent steps are taken it will develop into a national danger. In the past, Pennsylvania has attacked such problems vigorously and now with the State Chamber of Commerce movement, it has a great impetus. The State Chamber of Commerce is proving itself an active, aggressive commercial body and is assisting in building up the State in an energetic and sound, business-like manner.

Clemenceau Has Not Recovered From Effects of Cottin's Bullet

Paris, Oct. 14.—Premier Clemenceau's delivery of his Peace Treaty ratification speech in the Chamber of Deputies was very laborious and he coughed repeatedly. This was regarded as evidence that he had not completely recovered from the effects of Cottin's bullet. His voice at times became almost inaudible, deputies and spectators alike fearing a collapse of the old statesman.

Responding to the criticism that the Peace Conference had lasted too long, M. Clemenceau cited the Westphalian Congress ending the Thirty Years' War, which lasted seven years; while the Paris Peace Conference had lasted only seven months.

"I am sure," said M. Clemenceau, "that the work accomplished by the Conference will occupy a greater space in history than the entrance of Mohammed II into Constantinople."

Steel Situation Is Remaining Deadlocked

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14.—The steel strike situation in the Pittsburgh district remained deadlocked today. According to the latest statement from the Carnegie Steel Company, large subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation that concern is rapidly returning to normal conditions, with 75 per cent. of its blast furnaces operating and an average of about 500 men returning to work daily. From strike headquarters comes the statement that many men have returned to work in the Pittsburgh district recently. As to conditions in other steel centers in the country, union leaders said they were well pleased with reports, which indicated that mills in Ohio, New York, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia were "down."

Missing Child Is Reported in Hands of Gypsies Near Reading

Hannamont, N. J., Oct. 14.—The search for three-year-old Billy Danzy, who disappeared from his home here Wednesday, covered two states today assistance having been requested by the local authorities from the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and the Mayors of a number of cities in those states. Although the theory that the child was lost in the woods or cranberry bogs has given away to a belief that he was kidnaped, more than 200 persons, who have gone over nearly every foot of ground within a radius of several miles during the last five days, continued their search of the surrounding country today.

A number of supposed clues from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Jersey City have been run out, but none of them so far has proved of much help in solving the mystery. The latest clue came in a letter received by Hercules Danzy, the boy's father, signed "J. W." The letter was in a woman's hand writing and said the writer had seen a child answering the description of the missing child in a gypsy camp outside of Reading, Pa.

LIBRARY WORK TO BE EXPANDED

Trustees Arrange For New Lines of Activity During Coming Winter Season

Trustees of the Harrisburg Public Library last night adopted a budget calling for various new lines of activity to meet demands upon the institution now that the war is over and numerous things are coming up wherein the library can play a part. The twenty-one school libraries will be established as soon as the books arrive and conditions in the schools are adjusted. A considerable outlay of money to meet this demand for books for the schools has been authorized and some of the best literature suitable for the youngsters will be provided. Technical books asked by the returned soldiers so that they can continue studies which they began while in the service have been ordered and at request of men who are taking courses in night schools special books have also been arranged for. The library of the late Judge John B. McPherson has been nearly all cataloged and will be placed on the shelves. A number of books have also been bought from the Lyman D. Gilbert Memorial fund. The Library will assist in the observance of Children's Book week, November 19 to 18 in the country and in a number of other projects in this city and vicinity which were discussed last night and referred to the Library committee for action. The annual meeting of the Library will be held next Monday night.

"Pape's Diapepsin" puts Sour, Gassy, Acid Stomachs in order at once!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Defends Sale of Futures in Cotton

New Orleans, Oct. 15.—Defense of the practice of buying cotton was made at to-day's session of the World Cotton Conference by Randall N. Durfee. Admitting that there is much harmful speculation in the cotton crop, the speaker defended the sale of futures as necessary for the conduct of industry. What is needed, he said, is not so much new methods as a better spirit of business dealings.

Transportation of cotton was discussed by W. S. Turner and a plea for uniform classification of cotton was made by D. S. Murph. At yesterday's session of the conference the question of stabilizing the price of cotton was discussed by Theodore H. Price. John H. Parke spoke on the growing of cotton and W. D. Nesbitt described methods of compressing cotton.

Removes Superfluous Hair

Roots and All—Instantly! (A Marvelous New Method)

The new phelactine process is as different from the depilatory, electrical and other methods as is night from day. It actually removes the entire hair, roots and all, before your very eyes. It does this in just a few seconds, easily and harmlessly. Just try it! You can get a stick of phelactine at any drugstore, with directions, which are quite simple. There is no odor to it, no irritating or poisonous constituent—you could even eat it without the least injury. It will leave your skin as soft, smooth and hairless as a baby's.

Up the slope like a mountain goat

The Atlantic-fed motor negotiates the tortuous wind of the mountain climb with the ease and agility of the short-horn born to the region. The pounding motor and the threatened back-slide are unknown to the driver who uses Atlantic Gasoline.

Because Atlantic is packed with pull and power that set the wheels awhir in forward flight the instant the clutch engages. Up, up, up you go, conscious only of the thrill of the climb, with never a thought of the propelling force.

Wherever you drive—in the hills or vales or city-streets—use Atlantic Gasoline to get the most out of your motor for the least investment in fuel-cost and repairs to mechanism. Remember the name—ATLANTIC.
