Dickinson Changes Its Fraternity Ruhing Rules

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 6.—The new fraternity rushing rubs went into effect at Dickinson Colbege this year. Instead of having scotts here and along the main line of travel for several days prior to the opening of college to snatch and pedge apparently eligible new students, a rule has been adopted where there is to be no preliminary pledging, the activity to start one month after college opens. Various fraternities have been assigned special nights to meet new men and to get them to join fraternities. The old method caused much interest and was most picturesque, but the lew plan is thought to be better and more scientific.

Where Do YOU Eat?

Mr. James Foust Food Commissioner for the State of Pennsylvania, eats daily at Davenport's.

Mr. Foust is mo re concerned about food than any other man in the State.

He is the big man in Pennsylvania who keeps his eye on the food stuffs of our great State for your protection.

Naturallyhe comes in contact with a great many places where food is sold.

And like every other person who likes something good to eat, he has his choice places to lunch.

The writer, having met Mr. Foust at Davenport's, asked him point blank, "Do you eat here regularly?"

Putting his reply in his own words, Mr. Foust said, "Three times a
