CARL BECK WILL BE BACK IN LINEUP WITH TECH SATURDAY---BIG BOXING BILL

THIS LOOKS LIKE BIG JOKE; WANT DEMPSEY TO GIVE WILLARD ANOTHER CHANCE

Chiengo, Oct. 16.—There are two mm who are eager to have 1888 Will-lard enter the ring again and fittempt to wryst the title from his conjueror, Jack Demysey. One of them is flay Archer, Willard's business iminagen, and the other is Tex Richard, who promoted the Toledo battle. Tex believes the two men will draw again, contends that Willard end to him better the next time and declares he is willing to dig up a spot and talk business if Jess and Jack will consent.

Tex has not much hope of inducing Willard to got through a severe training grind again and take the short end of the purse just to get even with Dempsey, but he is ready and anxious to start the ball rolling if the fighters give him the word.

They argue that Willand was too confident, took recktess chances and was licked by a punch he took because he did not think he could be hurt. Now, that he knows better, threy say, Jess would fight earefully, as he always did before, and perhaps do things to Jack after the latter, tired trying to accomelish what he did at Toledo when Yess was holding his chin out for him."

Here is the way Archer talked about it when in Chiengo recently:

"I don't know how Jess feels about it. I am on my way to see him now and will learn all about hie plans. Jess has plenty of money and is all, wrapped up in the oil business. He i promote it."

Manually agene to another fight, but I haven't minch highet high I shin to Willard ean while the strend in Strayling and to therefore the intern.

"Williard and not be badly stung by it has been did not try seriously to require the would him the touch be badly stung by it. Also he would know better than that it they signed by one, here the latter, tired trying to accomelish what he did at Toledo when Yess was holding his chin out for him."

Here is the way Archer talked about it when in Chiengo recently:

"I don't know how yess feels about it. I am on my way to see him now."

He say the first man and the would him the septim to start again.

"Wellard did not from the time the promote it."

Marysville Wants Games

For Saturday and Later

HAVE FOOTBALL Marysville football team is anxious to arrange a game for Saturday at Marysville. Mail communications should be addressed to the acting manager, Haven Mutch, Marysville. Arrangements may be made by telephone with Chester Sheaffer at 10-4 on the Marysville Cumberland Valley exchange. The team weight averages 140 pounds. Columbia Will Get Into Grid

New York, Oct. 16.—When Columbia re-enters the football world on a large scale next Fall it is going to mean a much broader participation than was at first expected when the university authorities last week sanctives and the standard processing and the s than was at first expected when the university authorities last week sanctioned unlimited competition. Lester C. Danielson, the graduate manager of athletics, announced last night that the number of students eligible for football beginning with the season of 1920 would be nearly three times as great as the number eligible during the present year.

Followers of the gridiron game, and particularly Columbia alumni, have come to realize within the last few days that for the first time since 1955 the city is to have "big league" games and Philadelphia has had satisfactory games. Boston has had its Harvard teams and Philadelphia has had satisfactory games with the University of Pennsylvania, playing three locally, but since 1905, when the last big Columbia eleven was battling on the gridirons in this city. New York has had no place in football on a footing with the other big cities, with the exception of the occasional games between West Point and Annapolis. or other varsity elevens at the Poio Grounds.

cher varsity elevens at the Polo Grounds.

More Students Eligible

Denielson said yesterday that whereas only about 700 students have been eligible for the game since 1915, when the game was resumed by Control of the strongest line-up of its long career. The players are: C. Rhoads, C. Gaul, F. Adams, forwards; E. Biscler, center; S. Trupp I. Brossler, center; S. Trupp I. Br

CARL BECK IS BACK IN GAME

Has Been Nursing Injuries For Ten Days; Maroons Hard at Work

CARL BECK

Coach Smith sent the Technical planned to place a strong squad on aration for the contest with the Bala ration for the contest with the Baltimore Polytechnic School on the Sland Saturday afternoon. It was the first practice of the week, and because of the wet and slippery condition of the field Coach Smith was unwilling to take a chance with any of the players being injured.

After having been off the gridtron for ten days Carl Beck again donned his moleskins and was in the regular practice. He will be in the game Saturday afternoon. Word from Faculty Manager R. B. Watson is to the effect that the Monumental City eleven will arrive in the Capitol City, Saturday morning about 10 o'clock. The Tech student body will send a committee to escort the visitors to the principal points of interest in the city.

Captain Callis Right End

As was the case last Saturday when Chester played here, the right end of the team is captain. Captain Callis holds down the right wing for the Baltimore team.

The Tech tutor showed the Maroon players three new plays that will be tried out Saturday afternoon. Baltimore played Mercersburg a close contest last week, and there is no doubt to it but that the game Saturday will be the closest contested of the year. Tech will use the regular lineup, and it is possible that "Zip" Malick will be in condition to play an end position. The Kick-off will be at 3 o'clock.

Lebanon Valley Eleven

Lebanon Valley Eleven Includes Young Recruit Who Is One Big Surprise

Who is Une Big Surprise

Annville, Pa., Oct. 16.—One of the biggest surprises of the opening of the football season at Lebanon Valley College was the rapid development of Warren Fake, whose home is in Pine Grove, from an untrained athlete into a football player of 'Varsity caliber. When Fake came to Lebanon Vailey College he had never played in a football game and had seen very few real games. When the call for football candidates was made he was one of the first to respond, and has been on the field for workout and scrimmage each evening since practice began.

His improvement was steady and when Coach Strickler was looking over his men to select the players for the opening game with Villanova, he picked young Fake to hold down the right guard position. Fake went into his first real game with pep and confidence and his playing was remarkable in view of the fact that he had never before participated in the pigskin sport. Fake also played in the game with Muhlenberg last Saturday.

Tramerick Club Is Ready For Basketball Contests

York, Oct, 10—The Tramerick Club, of York, has reorganized a basketball team for the coming season and the manager is at present working on a schedule. Communications is regarding games should be addressed to Philip G. Loucks, Tramerick Club, York, Pa.

Rutgers Captain Joins Yale For Rest of Season

Yale For Rest of Season

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 16.—
Captain Frank Kelly, of the Rutgers football team, who has been out of the game all this season, has been definitely lost to the team. He will enter Yale at once.

French, the great haltback, will not be back until the Syracuse game in New York on November 4. There will be no game this week, but Rutgers will play the New York Aggies here the following week. There was no practice for the Rutgers men, but Foster Sanford, the coach, has decided on a big shakeup in the line. He wants more apeed and bigger men in the year. The backfield is badly crippled by the loss of Kelly and French, and Garrett also is in bad condition as a result of injuries.

The Aggies game on October 25 will be used by Sanford to try out a number of new men who have been showing up well in practice, but who have not had a chance to show their mettle yet in real competition.
