Charged at Washington Washington, Oct. 16. — Open charges are being made by Senators and Congressmen that western beet-sugar refiners are hoàrding large quantities of sugar, which, if placed on the market, would help ma-terially the sugar shortage, if not entirely relieve it. With the government distributing agency which supervised the dis-tribution of beet sugar during the war no longer in existence, it is charged that beet sugar refiners are planning to hold a large part of their stocks off the market until January 7, when it is expected prices will advance. Talk around the cap-ital, however, is that unless these refiners come forward partiotically and help relieve the present short-age. Congress will take matters into its own hands and force them to unload. One method being consid-ered is the repeal of the tariff on raw cane.

and other hardy plants on lawns. City Forester Louis G. Baltimore in response to numerous inquiries about the best varieties of shrubbery for garden and lawn planting, has prepared a list of the various kinds which can be used. Mr. Baltimore explained that in developing lawns for planting there should be a systematic plan, but there is no need for carrying it out all at one time. Varieties of shrubbery best suited for hedges which can be trimmed and shaped include the following: Thunberg's barberry, Japanese rose, Van Hout's spirea or bridal wreath, Lemoins deutzia, amur privet, Tar-tarian honeysuckle and arbor vitae or white cedar. For border planting the following: Shrubs are low growing and do not need to be shaped by trimming: Slender deutzia, Thunberg's bar-berry, globe flower, snowberry, coral berry. Thunberg's spirea. Medium growing shrubs for border planting are yellow flowering cur-rant, Van Hout's spirea, plum-leav-ed spirea, Japanese rose, white ker-ita. Lemoin's deutzia. Tall growing shrubs include rose colored weigelia, bush honeysuckle, spolen bell, mock orange, lilac in variety and strawberry bush.

It Took Bunch of Junk to Give Him Indigestion to Give Him Indigestion Boston, Oct. 16.—Discovery of a "human junk heap" was announced by officers of the House of Correc-tion at Deer Island, when Charles W. Buzzell, serving one year for forgery, complained of indigestion. A surgical operation resulted in the recovery of two pounds of mis-schedianeous articles from his stom-ach. The collection included parts of a dog chain two feet long, a safety razor blade nearly whole, suspender buckle and 179 fragments or pieces of glass, hay wire, staples, nalls and screws. Relieved of these substances, Buzzell has almost en-tirely recovered, it is said. The prisoner had been accumu-lating the collection with suicidal intent, according to Dr. Rockaell, site ast December. He had pre-viously made a similar cumulative attempt to end his life, but it was frustrated by an operation perform-ed in New York, he said.
