Personal of the church music programs in the columns of the Telegraph this evening show Harrisburg churches capable of singing the best church music written. In many instances the same compositions are on the programs that are sung in the big London churches. It has been established that the singers of the city do work similar to those in the larger cities of the country, and it is a matter of surprise that the city's a few weeks ago, who has been in many churches of the United States, volunteering their services that Harrisburg musicians compared most favorably with the best in the country. With the splendid teachers here, it is only natural that the music of the city churches should improve.

Robert Horn, a Chambersburg baritone, who has sung with the choir of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit, and Zion Reformed Churches in this city, is a pupil of John W. Phillips, of this city, and is making splendid progress.

Mrs. Ada Culp Bowman is to sing "Suffer Little Children," a solo especially appropriate to baptismal ceremonies, at Second Reformed Church tomorrow morning and the choir will sing an arrangement of Mendelssohn's "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own."
