500 Landed at New York to Attempt to End Strike Congestion on the Piers

New York, Oct. 20.—Five hundred soldiers of the Regular Army were landed here to-day from the transport George Washington to attempt to end the congestion at the Army piers in Brooklyn caused by the longshoremen's strike.

The troops were under command of Col. Jesse M. Cullison, who commanded the Twenty-sixth infantry of the First Division in France and received several decorations.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Secretary Baker to-day refused the request of Mayor Hylan, of New York, to postpone the use of troops at New York until further efforts could be made to settle the strike of longshoremen there.

Mr. Baker said maintenance of Army transport service out of New York was a part of the war operations of the government and that he intended to continue the operation of the ships.

SERGEANT KLINE HOME ON VISIT

Man Who Helped Flying Parson Cross Continent Now With Wife

Sergeant William E. Kline, Jr., the Harrisburg man who acted as mechanic for "Parson" Maynard on his successful transcontinental flight, was greeted in Steelton and Harrisburg by his friends yesterday during a short stay in the steel borough.

Quietly coming to Harrisburg and Steelton and leaving in the same unassuming manner, Sergeant Kline was seen only by a circle of intimate friends. He was the guest of W. R. Lewis, of Steelton, a cousin with whom he has made his home for a number of years.

Later in the evening he left for Gardner's Station, Adams county, where a proud and anxious wife was waiting to greet him.

Sergeant Kline, a son of William E. Kline, Sr., of 1317 Swatara street, is a native Harrisburger, having been born in Vernon street. He lived for a number of years preceding his enlistment with Mr. Lewis in Steelton. He enlisted in Adams county on March 30, 1917.

Entering the air service, he was sent to Kelley Field, Texas, where he received his preliminary training. He was sent to France where he served for 22 months, and since his return here has been connected with the air forces at Mineola, L. I.

Sergeant Kline was warmly congratulated by friends and a number of organizations. From the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce he received the following telegram:

"Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, with one thousand members in Harrisburg, Steelton and the surrounding district, congratulates you on your history-making achievement. People of your home community have anxiously followed you in your remarkable flight across the continent, and they rejoice at your safe return."

Endorsement to the establishment of flying fields all over the country, was given by "Parson" Maynard yesterday. He said: "I believe that landing fields should be established all over the country. At Battle Mountain, a town of 500, the people constructed a flying field in ten days at a cost of $10,000."
