GERALDINE FARRAR AT THE REGENT

Of the stellar big pictures now being shown, a real mammoth production, "The World and Its Woman," with Geraldine Farrar and Lou Tellegen in the leading roles, auspiciously opened a week's run at the Regent Theater yesterday.

The great cost necessitated in making this picture is evident. There are many great scenes surpassing in magnitude any yet shown on the screen in their own phase.

The story of "The World and Its Woman" deals with the rise of an American girl in Russia from a position of obscurity as the daughter of an American engineer, to the enviable role of the greatest prima donna of the Petrograd Opera.
