[Continued from First Page.] will be as active from now until No-vember as though a big fight were being waged by the Democrats. That is the kind of a campaign to which they pledged themselves last night. A Great Rally The big rally was held in the large auditorium on the third floor of the North Second street club-house, which had been beautifully decorated with American flags, the State standards and the banners of the club. A big bunch of chrysan-themums had a place on the speak-ers' table and an orchestra played at intervals during the evening. Lieutenant Governor E. E. Beidle-man complimented the committee on the beauty of the room and recalled mentioned the names of old Repub-lican warriors, many of them long since dead whose pictures, as presi-dent of the club, occupied places on the wals. The city and county candidates, in whose honor the recetion was dent of the club, occupied places on the walls. The city and county candidates, in whose honor the reception was given, occupied scats together at the front of the halt and during the meeting were introduced to the members whom they stood and faced, and later in the evening shook hands with hundreds of voters who promised them their support. Ashton D. Peace, president of the club, called the meeting to order and after welcoming the members and guests, introduced Charles E. Pass, prothonotary, and one of the most active Republicans in the county, who presided during the remainder of the rally. The first speaker was Emerson Collins, deputy Attorney General, who is one of the most eloquent lawyers at the bar of Pennsylvania and a general favorite with Harris-burg Republicans. Mr. Collins made a special trip here from Williams-port to accept the invitation to speak. He complimented the Dau-phin county Republicans on the quality of their leadership, praising W. Harry Baker and Lieutenant Gov-ernor Beidleman and saying that they are recognized as two of the staunchest Republicans and wisset leaders in the service of the State. He told his audience that on the
