JAIL LIFE HARD ON 54 STRIKERS

Relatives Send Them Rich Food and Doctor Is Called to Relieve Them

Chambersburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—Jail life doesn't agree with the 54 Waynesboro strikers, who are now serving a 30-day sentence in the local jail. To begin with, the rich food that relatives are sending some of them does not go well in a body suddenly cut off from exercise. As a result the jail authorities have had to call a doctor to care for some of them, who have suffered attacks of indigestion. Yesterday 25 women arrived from Waynesboro, all carrying big baskets of food.

Another condition that is serving to make the men ill is that nearly all of them constantly are smoking, owing to their nervous condition. The jail is not equipped with a modern ventilating system and the prison is murky with the nicotine exhalation of the smokers. This increases the tendency of the men to have indigestion.

CHURCH WOMEN END CONVENTION

Lutherans Elect Officers at York and Choose Hanover For Next Year

York, Pa., Oct. 25.—St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Hanover, was chosen as the 1920 place of meeting at the closing session yesterday of the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of West Pennsylvania Synod, which was in session in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The election of officers was also held in addition to the adoption of the recommendations suggested in the report of the president yesterday.

In the interest of expansion of mission work in India, it was decided to contribute within the next two years the sum of $1,500 to help support the "House of Blessing," a Bible training school in India. This synodical and congregational constitutions were submitted for changes and recommendations by the delegates. These changes were made necessary on account of the recent Lutheran merger.

The following officers were chosen for this year: President, Mrs. H. D. Becker, Hanover; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. O. Mullen, Spring Grove; Mrs. F. C. Sternat, Abbottstown; Mrs. W. Kent Gilbert, Camp Hill; recording secretary, Mrs. C. F. V. Hesse, Red Lion; treasurer, Mrs. G. C. Henry, Shippensburg; statistical secretary, Mrs. C. Gordon Snyder, Chambersburg; historian, Mrs. William J. Snyder, this city. The department secretaries were all re-elected for the ensuing year.

Changes and recommendations to the synodical and congregational constitutions created by the recent merger were left to the members of the executive committee for final consideration and adoption. One of the most important of these was that of changing the official name of the organization from the Women's Missionary Society of West Pennsylvania Synod to the Women's Missionary Society of West Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Miss Annie E. Sanford, the returned missionary, addressed the convention, and after her able presentation of the needs in India the body decided to raise $1,500 toward this worthy missionary cause.

The secretary of the junior department, Mrs. D. S. Martin, of Chambersburg, reported that the juniors had raised over $1,000 for the African mission during the past year. The banner was presented to the Chambersburg First Lutheran Church. Miss Helen Lins, Carlisle, then gave a report of the progress of the young women's societies and presented the banner to the Chambersburg First Lutheran Church for having the largest proportionate membership. Seals were also given to all front rank societies. Miss Lins informed the convention that a new slogan had been adopted, as follows: "Twenty-eight societies and every one of the 28 a front rank society."

PERRY'S APPLES TO BE AT SHOW

New Bloomfield's Postmaster Reclaims Neglected Farm and Makes It Yield

New Bloomfield, Pa., Oct., 25.—Perry county at the State Apple Show, held annually at Harrisburg, has carried away on one or two occasions the grand first prize for quality, the size of exhibit and this year bids fair to repeat at the annual competition if Postmaster William S. Clegg's yield of 1,500 bushels is a fair criterion for the entire county.

Fifteen years ago, Clegg, an enthusiastic orchardist, purchased from the heirs of D. M. Rhinesmith, a tract of neglected farm land, once tilled, but at that time grown up in jack pines and blackberry briars, in Centre Township, one mile south of New Bloomfield. Immediately after the transfer he proceeded ambitiously to convert fifteen acres of the waste land into a model orchard, setting out 1,000 winesap, York imperial and other standard young trees.

After his appointment to the postmastership in 1913, his actual overseeing of the orchard necessarily ceased, but he still managed and directed the cultivation. This week was finished the picking and storing in an immense cave, the 1500 bushels of select apples—his first big harvest. Several hundred bushels of fallen apples have been gathered and converted into cider. Mr. Clegg also marketed 300 bushels of peaches the past summer.

This is but one of many similar fruit farms in the county, and, as every farm has its attendant orchard, a bumper crop is predicted.

Each tree bears a metal plate with the name of the soldier for whom it was planted. The ceremonies, which were of a patriotic character, were attended by a large numbr of people, many relatives of the departed soldiers being present.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the Army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Asheiman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of the Telegraph wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism," overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 127 J Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget! If not a sufferer yourself, c
