CHILD WONDER TO PLAY HERE

Magdeleine Brard Here From France to Take Part in Symphony Concert

It has been said of Magdeleine Brard, the brilliant little child pianiste of France, who will appear here on Saturday afternoon of this week in Chestnut Street Auditorium as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra, that since the boyhood days of Josef Hofmann no child has been accorded such serious recognition by American audiences.

This brilliant little French pianiste will play Saint Saens G Minor Concerto with the New York Symphony Orchestra in Harrisburg on November 1. She was especially requested by Harrisburg musicians to play this particularly beautiful concerto because it was known that Saint Saens himself had personally criticized and praised in the highest terms her wonderful interpretation and playing of his G Minor G Minor Concerto and others.

Spent Summer in France She has spent the summer in France, playing like other children, giving a recital in Paris, and preparing for her extended American recital tour this fall. She arrived on the "La France," which was delayed several days because of a severe cyclone. Her New York recital, therefore postponed several days, but last Friday she was accorded a reception seldom given to so young an artist.

The next morning the New York Tribune wrote: "This young girl has rightly been brought to America in aid of a Franco-American artistic enterprise, for she is at once one of the most unusual and the truest artists of the pianoforte that France has produced in the last decade. Miss Brard possesses a rare combination of technical virtuosity and poetic feeling." The New York Sun critic wrote: "This girl of sixteen possesses an extraordinary piano talent, the greatest revealed by any juvenile prodigy since the advent of Josef Hofmann."

NEW CLUB OPENS IN CHAMBERSBURG

Lieutenant-Governor Beidleman Principal Speaker at Republican Rally

Chambersburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—At a Republican rally in the courthouse here last night Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman made a stirring address, appealing to the loyalty of the workers to stand by the party candidates and policies. The courthouse was crowded. Raymond W. Lemaster, president of the Chambersburg Republican Club, presided. Former State Senator John W. Hoke made the address introducing Mr. Beidleman, at the conclusion of the rally the new rooms of the Republican club in the Chambersburg Trust Company building were thrown open to the public.

The inability of the Democrats to control the affairs of the district, State or nation during the past years of international strife, said Mr. Beidleman, "shows that we must support a party representing Americanism and aid in the reconstruction of the country's resources and industries." Mr. Beidleman declares that Woodrow Wilson would not have been president for a second term if it had not been for the war. In the first year of the administration, it was brought out that men were idle and the country was showing signs of industrial unrest. "It was a mistake," he declared, "when the President refused to declare war when the Lusitania was sunk and if war had been declared, at that time, the number of our boys who went abroad would have been far less than was actually the case." It has been said by some that the only thing the United States got out of the war was cooties, influenza and a national debt, but more than that we learned a great lesson of preparedness. "Mr. Beidleman referred to the war records of the states under Republican control, stating that in Pennsylvania 225,000 soldiers were contributed to the army, 250,000 of whom fought on the field of battle.

The speaker then paid tribute to Judge Gillan for the attitude of the court towards the lawlessness concomitant with the strike at Waynesboro. He urged the deportation of all aliens who did not intend to become good citizens of the country. Mr. Beidleman expressed the belief that the members of the Senate would not allow the Peace Treaty to pass without reservations. The League of Nations came in for a sweeping attack upon almost every provision, with particular emphasis on the equality of voting strength, the right of the United States to declare war without the consent of other nations and the advisability of sending American soldiers across the seas. "The time has not come," he said, "when American sons shall be sent across seas to be military policemen in foreign lands." In speaking of sending troops to Siberia, he stated that there were foreigners in this country making as much money in one day as our soldiers in Siberia are making in a month. He then cited the case of a "Feville" boy, whose father approached State Auditor Snyder, to ask for aid in getting his 17-year-old son out of the army. The lad had enlisted when bantered by his friends and was on his way to Siberia before the machinery of administration could get in motion to get him released.

"Republicans must buckle on the harness as never before," asserted Mr. Beidleman, "and give the people an assurance of the re-establishment of Republican principles that will make them loyal to our party." The way to do this, he continued, is to start in your county elections. The speaker expressed the hope that there would not be a Republican who would not be in the primary contest who would co-operate to make a sweeping Republican victory in November. He told of the great sentiment over the country towards Republicanism, due to the streets. Joseph T. Winters acted as chairman. The company has petitioned the court for a charter. City Commissioners C. W. Burnett, E. Z. Gross, W. H. Lynch and F. L. Morrow were present and said they would do everything they could to co-operate with the company. Speakers during the evening were Mr. Lynch, George L. Reed, Mr. Burnett, A. J. Patton, Harry C. Wells, Clark E. Diehl, Mr. Gross, H. F. Oves, Henry M. Stine, Dewitt A. Fry, J. Harvey Taylor, T. B. Marshall, George W. Karman and Dr. Hassler.

PARIS NEEDS COAL Paris, Tuesday, Oct. 28.—Governmental and municipal authorities and coal merchants virtually admit the impossibility of finding a remedy for the situation which has arisen here because of the coal shortage. Although cold weather has not yet really begun, Paris is already feeling the pinch and there is some suffering in the poorer quarters of the city.

Famo Stops Seborrhea The Dandruff Disease

No other hair remedy even remotely resembles FAMO. FAMO kills the dandruff germ and stops the unhealthy flow from the sebaceous glands. Every ingredient in FAMO is well known to physicians. But none of these ingredients were ever before applied to saving the hair. Science perfected FAMO in one of the oldest pharmaceutical houses in Detroit—famous for its laboratories which supply physicians all over the world with medical goods. FAMO not only kills the seborrhea microbe but it makes the scalp and hair as clean as that of a baby. It ends all itching of the scalp. Even where baldness has already appeared (unless the hair roots are absolutely dead) FAMO will encourage and stimulate the growth of new hair. Many women say FAMO has caused their hair to grow from four to six inches. FAMO retards grayness and strengthens the natural color. It contains no alcohol to dry the scalp and produce gray hairs. It makes the hair luxuriant and lustrous and if there is a tendency to waviness FAMO intensifies it. FAMO should be used by every member of the family.
