

PLAN ONE SEAL FOR ALL FILMS

Chairman Knapp Putting the State Censor Board on a More Efficient Basis

A series of changes which it is believed will materially benefit the business policy of the State Board of Censors was announced here tonight by Chairman Harry L. Knapp, of the Board, following weeks of study of the operations of the Board.

According to the plan put into effect by Chairman Knapp each film approved by the Board will hereafter have one approval seal instead of two, thereby saving the State many dollars in costs.

Through this plan it is expected that the Board will be able to issue approval seals and certificates of approval for pictures immediately after they are approved and also from the Pittsburgh office. On and after December 1, a numbered seal will be used.

The Board is also arranging to issue a monthly bulletin containing a list of changes ordered by the Board for the preceding month together with a list of subjects disapproved.

Mr. Knapp was for years dramatic editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer and has taken hold of the work of the Board with vigor and plans to speed up its administration considerably.

State Game Commission officials say that from reports received here there will be more rabbits when the rabbit season opens on Saturday than for the last two years.

The shortage due to a disease which prevailed during the spring of 1918 has been overcome in some districts and it is expected that there will be good rabbit hunting in many counties.

Reports on small game continue to be favorable. The bird season will run until the end of November.

State Agricultural experts have been sent to parts of New Jersey to make an investigation and report upon the campaign being waged against the Japanese shrubbery beetle, an unusually annoying pest which has been appearing in that section this fall.

Close inspection has been ordered on everything coming from New Jersey.

Recommendations for approval of charters for ten electric companies to operate in counties on the Susquehanna river between Sunbury and Danville have been made by the Public Service Commission.

The papers are now in the Governor's hands.

The Public Service Commission has sent to the Metropolitan Edison

Company, of Reading, for answer the complaint of several iron and steel companies of Reading, Lebanon and Harrisburg against the proposed new rates of the company.

It is one of the largest electric cases outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to come up. The Commission will sit in Harrisburg, Williamsport and Philadelphia to-morrow.

The State Police Department will enlist twelve men for the five troops at an examination to be held here Saturday.

Members of the Public Service Commission last night approved the preliminary report of Commissioners Samuel M. Clement, Jr., and James S. Benn on the hearing held in Philadelphia on the taxicab and jitney situation and have authorized the making of arrangements for expeditious handling of applications for certificates under the new regulations.

Reports have also been made and approved on the hearings held in jitney cases in Pittsburgh. The Commission is expecting that the proposed ordinance in Philadelphia and the new regulations in Pittsburgh will materially lessen the number of illegal operators of such vehicles.

Governor Sproul has sent the following telegram to the White House upon the President's statement on the threatened coal strike: "The President's statement on the coal strike situation is superb. You may count upon the complete co-operation of Pennsylvania in such plans as he may decide are necessary in this great emergency. Public sentiment in this industrial State will back him up in his courageous and patriotic stand. Command us when we may be of service."

State Health authorities have called attention to the dangers of mistaken diagnosis in smallpox cases in the situation in the Goddard family at Parnassus. Three persons who had not been vaccinated are down with the disease, a quarantine for chicken pox having been established. Five others are under quarantine because of contact.

Street railways operating at Jersey Shore and at Williamsport entered protests before the Public Service Commission against granting certificates to operate jitneys to R. C. Shadle, who wants a route from Jersey Shore to Antis Port and C. J. Kahler, who wants to run between Williamsport and Picture Rocks. The point made was that trolley service is sufficient.

Officers of the Auditor General's department believe that something like a million dollars has been reported by Pennsylvania banks and trust companies as liable to escheat to the State as unclaimed bank deposits. The constitutionality of the act for escheating has been upheld by the courts and the procedure will come up for hearing in the Dauphin county court next month. It is thought that more will be discovered.

The Public Service Commission in an opinion by Chairman Ainey has directed the Home Heating Company, of Erie, to make an extension of mains and also if it desires temporary assistance to accept loans for the purpose of making the extension from H. N. Fleming, the complainant. The Commission says that the company's obligation to render public service requires this extension to be made and that the laying of mains "should be accompanied by some assurance of continued patronage and consequent revenues." It is suggested that the guaranty be not less than $1,500 annually. This is the first order of the kind to be made.

Governor Sproul finished his speech-making in Massachusetts with many complimentary things said about him. He has been invited to speak in Philadelphia.

Propagation and preservation of fish during the winter were taken up yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Board of Fish Commissioners in Philadelphia Monday. The importance of the various fish hatcheries scattered throughout the State was the subject of several addresses.

These hatcheries are located at Torresdale, Cory, Union City, Bellefonte and Pleasant Mount. Their yearly capacity is the breeding of 100,000 fish. Fish hatched are not put out immediately, but held for a year in order that there may be greater chance of their surviving.

The distribution of these different species of fish hatched and put out in the State waters was also discussed. Nathan R. Buller, Commissioner of Fisheries, stated that all streams and lakes in the State have been stocked with trout, bass, catfish, bluegills and yellow perch.

Redemption of the rebate slips issued by the Scranton Railway company to its patrons when it increased its fare first to six and later to eight cents, previous to the ruling of the Public Service Commission last May, is asked for by the city of Scranton in its paper book in the appeal from the Commission's decree, filed with the Superior Court in Philadelphia.

Different Schemes For Daily Foods Now

In a statement, Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust contrasts the way people managed their food supply a generation ago and the conditions now.

Except in the big cities 40 years ago practically every home of the State of Pennsylvania was a food-producing establishment. The people raised their own pork, there were few without chickens to furnish an abundant supply of eggs. All had their home gardens where they raised their own vegetables and berries and fruits, and it was not uncommon to see buried cabbage and apples for winter use.

Fruits and vegetables were canned in large quantities and put away for winter consumption. Flour was purchased in the fall, there was the butchering day, hams were butchered and pork pickled and smoked. Those homes bought very few groceries. In fact, the grocery store in those days was a small institution.

All these things have been changed and the small communities have turned their attention from the home garden to the large pay received in the industrial establishments. Many persons thought it useless to worry along with the garden with money plentiful and food purchasable. In fact, many homes have gone out of the food-producing business, and the consumers have become more numerous.

Grocery stores-to-day are big, thriving institutions. They are the storage room and refrigerators of the homes. The baking of bread is almost a thing of the past, for the housewife and everything for the meal is bought in the can, package or in bulk form.

Thin, Weak Folks Need Blood-Iron Phosphate

If you are thin, weak and emaciated and lack strength, energy, vigor and endurance; if you have that worn out, all gone, tired feeling, the chances are that it's because your nerves need phosphate and your blood needs iron. Get the phosphate or iron by itself is insufficient; both must be supplied at the same time. For this purpose pure Blood-Iron Phosphate is unequaled. A 5-grain tablet taken at meal times three times daily restores nervous energy, enriches the blood and helps you to put on pounds of good stay-there flesh in a manner that is little short of marvelous.

Get enough pure Blood-Iron Phosphate from George A. Gorgas or any other good druggist for a three weeks' treatment—costs only $1.50—50 cents a week—and take as directed. If at the end of three weeks you have not gained several pounds in weight and don't feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your eyes aren't brighter and your nerves steadier; if you don't sleep better, and your vim, vigor and vitality aren't more than doubled, you can have your money back for the asking and Blood-Iron Phosphate will cost you nothing.

Better than an ordinary store, we try to make it that way by selling better merchandise the kind that will give you more satisfaction and service, and when you guarantee such a reality as this "Live Store" does its very necessary to be careful to sell only dependable merchandise. That's why we go after the best products in the land, such as

Hart Schaffner & Marx, Kuppenheimer & Society Brand Clothes

There are many stores which do not handle nationally known products, in some cases it's because there's not quite so much profit for the merchant. There's a fixed price, and of course they cost the dealer more than "ordinary clothes" yet they sell for about the same price as unknown brands. There's another reason, however, why every store does not have high standard known quality goods and that's because some manufacturers are very careful about the store that distributes the merchandise, they make.

They prefer a store that pleases its customers best, does more to satisfy them and in that way they themselves get larger orders and enjoy the good will of those who buy their products, so you see it's mutual and works to an advantage to all concerned--when you want good clothes come to this "Live Store" and
