

FUTURE BOXING SHOWS PROMISE MUCH FOR LOCAL FANS---TECH GAME FOR SATURDAY

NEW PLANS FOR BOXING SHOWS

Association to Offer Local Fight Fans Series of Good Bills

Plans will be completed within the next few days for a series of boxing shows and, if successful, will give local fans something to talk about all winter. Back of this movement is the Harrisburg Boxing Association. Officials yesterday gave notice that this organization is here to stay. "We want to help along this sport," said one official, "and make it still more popular here."

The plan is to run about two shows each month on fixed dates as far as possible. The talent is to include many boys who have a reputation and are considered as title aspirants. They will come from the local regions, east, west, north and south. One of the local officials will start to-day on a tour of cities to line up the fighters and all who are booked will have to show a record.

Chance For Local Bo's

Local boys who make good will be given every chance to meet those they desire. Printed contracts will be used and in the event of a cancellation the local promoters will be in shape to have a good substitute on hand at all times. There will be ten-round win-up and eight-round semi-win-ups when arrangements can be made.

The next show of the local association will be on November 10. Contracts have been out and cards will be out in a few days telling about the big program. Jamison and Dronoy will be the win-up boys. These fighters are limited to others signed up will be obliged to show condition not later than noon of the day the fight is to take place. The association will make a physical examination and pass upon all fighters.

Another feature under consideration is a new arrangement of seats. The plan is to provide a limited number of seats at the ringside which will be reserved; sell all but three rows in the back at a dollar each, and the rear seats at seventy-five cents each. The gallery seats will be fifty cents each. These plans will be taken up at the next meeting and the public given every incentive possible to bring along the boxing sport in Harrisburg.

Fans Are Talking About Joe Barrett's Fight Card at Olympia A. C. Tomorrow

Present indications point to a good show at Steelton to-morrow night. Manager Joe Barrett, of the Olympia A. C., has arranged a strong card and fight fans are manifesting much interest. At this show there will be several important announcements made regarding future attractions.

The win-up match to-morrow night will be between Sammy Schiff, of this city, and Young Mahoney, of Baltimore. The latter made many friends in this section by his aggressive fighting.

Jackie Parkes, of Lancaster, will meet "Kid" Richmond in the special bout of six rounds. Williams is anxious to show before Barrett's club again, and he has promised to fight Parkes there, providing Parkes beats Richmond decisively, to-morrow night.

Young Lehman, the local wrestler, who will take a chance at boxing, will meet Laurence King, of this city. Red Singer, of Dauphin, will meet Chester Bowman from a West Side, in Steelton; Gordi Carchadi and Ivory Eshelman, both from different sections of Steelton, will meet in the opening bout.

Will Be Some Battle Is Word From Mahoney's Boss

"Kindly grant me space in your valuable columns to state my version of the Mahoney-Schiff match, which takes place October 30, at Steelton.

"Due to an injury received in a match with Joe Marks, last season, I was compelled to call it off, now that they have been rematched I want to correct the impression created last season, that Mahoney fears Schiff. He fears no one, if I thought he did I would not handle him. In the past few months he has met some of the best boys in the country with success, and I hereby give warning to Sammy Schiff that he is in for a battle of his life, that's all."

"Kid" Richmond, who meets Jackie Parkes in the semi is fast as greased lightning, and I assure the fans that they will see some battle."

INDEPENDENTS IN STIFF PRACTICE

Start Season With St. Elizabeth Team Saturday Night; Haggerty in the Lineup

A stiff practice last evening will be followed by workouts to-day, will conclude the preliminary efforts of the Harrisburg Independents for their opening contest of the season, to be played in the Chestnut street auditorium Saturday night of this week with the St. Elizabeth quintet, of Philadelphia.

There were a number of candidates out with what is regarded as the regular squad of the local combination, and the practice last night was a lively one from start to finish. In the absence of Haggerty, who is unable to take part in the work-outs showing to his residence in Philadelphia, there was a slight switch in the lineup, Kline going in at center.

The squad that will take the floor on Saturday night as representatives of the Harrisburg Independent Association has not been definitely decided upon yet. It is probable, however, that Wallower and Kline will be in the forward positions, Haggerty at center and Gerdes and Gordon, forward guards.

Like McCord a Regular

"Like" McCord is to be a regular member of the team, but he may not be able to take part in Saturday's battle, owing to a business engagement out of the city. A definite announcement concerning his participation will be made by Friday, at the latest. It is the present intention of the management to work Kline in the forward position in McCord's place.

Haggerty has evidently changed his mind concerning his intentions of playing with the Reading Eastern League basketball team, for last night he took part in the opening contest between the Reading and North Philadelphia teams of the Eastern League played in the Quaker city. Haggerty put up a good game, scoring two goals from field, and holding the opposing center to one two-pointer. A five-cent each. The gallery seats will be fifty cents each. These plans will be taken up at the next meeting and the public given every incentive possible to bring along the boxing sport in Harrisburg.

Manager Gordon Ford announced this morning that the change in Haggerty's plans concerning the playing of Reading would not interfere with his contract with the Harrisburg team, and that he would be on the job for Saturday night's fray.

Harry Rote, a prominent Harrisburg athlete, got into uniform at Lehigh University on Monday and returned to the varsity eleven. Rote had his cheekbone fractured and was operated on recently in a hospital where the bone was set.

According to a report from Lehigh University, Rote directed the varsity team in signal drill for twenty minutes, but did not figure in any scrimmage. He appears to be in shape, however, for play at any time.

SNOODLES

DOUGHBOY WINS FIRST MATCH

BOB MARTIN
Akron, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Bob Martin, of Akron, heavyweight champion of the American Expeditionary and Allied forces, won his first professional bout from Joe Bonds, of New York, at the end of the tenth round of a scheduled fifteen-round contest here last night, when Referee Matt Hinkle stopped the bout, Martin having outclassed his opponent in every round.

May Eclipse Colt Record Held by Famous Domino

New York, Oct. 29.—Had Samuel D. Riddle's great two-year-old colt, Man o' War, come on the scene next season instead of this year he might have won more money than any race horse since Domino and possibly more than any two-year-old in the history of the American turf. With the first running of the Maryland Futurity, worth probably $70,000, and the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, estimated value $10,000, added to the Futurity, the Hopeful, the Grand Union and United States Hotel Stakes, as well as several other rich prizes already established, the possibilities for a colt of Man o' War's caliber in 1920 will approximate those of Domino's in 1892.

Of the nine races won by Domino seven were worth upward of $15,000 and three ran above $20,000. Last year the Futurity, worth $48,885; the Matron Stakes, at Morris Park, $24,500; and the Great Trial Stakes, $2,100, at Sheepshead Bay. His other races were the Great American Stakes, at Gravesend, $18,875; and the Great Produce Stakes, $16,750, at Morris Park; the Hyde Park Stakes, $16,000, at Chicago; the dead heat race with Dobbins at Sheepshead Bay, $1,200; and a purse of $888 at Gravesend.

It is significant of the transitory character of racing in America that every track on which Domino ran is now closed or destroyed, and the steeplechase is the only fixed event won by him that still survives. And yet racing is perhaps a bigger game today than it was in 1892.

F-M Badly Crippled but Is Still in Grid Game

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 29.—The already badly crippled Franklin and Marshall football squad, has started a drill for the Haverford game at Haverford on Saturday, with still more varsity players on the side line. Mark Leinbach, who was rapidly developing into a dependable backfield man, suffered a fractured shoulder in the Dickinson game and will be out for the season. He joins "Dot" Mellinger and Boyd Newcomb, varsity backs who were injured earlier in practice, who are also out for the season together with Snyder and McIlvaine, two of the most promising scrubs. "Ed" Mellinger, who had been expected to fill a backfield berth, has been declared ineligible by the faculty.

Hooster and Andy Truxal are nursing injuries from Saturday's game, but will be in shape to play against Haverford on Saturday. Truxal has a pulled ligament in the hip and Hooster has severe side injuries.

Brother Against Brother in Penn Cross-Country Run

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—Eddie Shields will carry the colors of the University of Pennsylvania and his brother Larry will wear the Blue and White of State College in a dual cross-country meet over Cobb's Creek course this coming Saturday morning. The Shields brothers are noted distance runners. While at Mercersburg Eddie beat Larry in a heart-breaking mile run in the fast time of 4:23 which broke the world's interscholastic record. Larry will probably beat Eddie this coming Saturday, however, as the latter has not yet fully recovered from pneumonia, which he contracted in a hydro-airplane accident off Cape Cod last winter.

ACADEMY SHOWS SPORT ACTIVITY

Cross Country Candidates Are Out; Football Games This Week

Sport activities at Harrisburg Academy are keeping the athletes busy. Interest is strong in the tennis matches which will be continued for some time. Football is getting close attention and yesterday cross-country candidates were called.

Football is the leading sport this week. Camp Curtin Junior High this afternoon lined up against the Academy team in a practice game. To-morrow afternoon the Alumni squad will be out for the second practice game, and on Thursday the eleven will go to Gettysburg for a second game with Gettysburg Academy.

Hear Interesting Talk

David Shotwell a former Academy athlete and Princeton track star, gave an interesting talk on "Winning" at the cross-country try-out followed. Many of last year's men are back, and the call brought out a bunch of new material. Camp Curtin Junior High is having the services of Coach Smith, who is an old Dickinson runner, and a fine coach. Coach Smith will start his men at work shortly, preparing for the big annual cross-country race between Greek and Roman clubs of the school, as well as other races in which the Academy will run.

HERMAN TO MEET MOORE

New Orleans, Oct. 29.—Pete Herman, of New Orleans, bantamweight champion, and Pal Moore, of Memphis, will meet in a twenty-round bout for the title here December 15. Riddle's great two-year-old colt, Man o' War, came on the scene next season instead of this year he might have won more money than any race horse since Domino and possibly more than any two-year-old in the history of the American turf. With the first running of the Maryland Futurity, worth probably $70,000, and the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, estimated value $10,000, added to the Futurity, the Hopeful, the Grand Union and United States Hotel Stakes, as well as several other rich prizes already established, the possibilities for a colt of Man o' War's caliber in 1920 will approximate those of Domino's in 1892.

"KID" REGAN WINNER

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 29.—"Kid" Regan, a local bantamweight, won the newspaper decision over Jack Sharkey, of New York in an eight-round bout here last night.

SPREAD OF BOXING BRINGS NUMEROUS NOVEL INCIDENTS; KNOCKOUTS BIG SURPRISE

New York, Oct. 29.—The spread of boxing to countries which previous to the war were not familiar with the ring game has resulted in a number of novel incidents viewed in the light of American pugilistic traditions. Berin has been the scene of belated attempt to develop the athletic art, and at a recent series of contests the announcer gave a little harangue in advance, pointing out that, as Germany wanted to be on terms in all sports, boxing as fostered by French, English and Americans had been introduced.

The first pair of boxers came, respectively, from Berlin and Vienna and weighed in at 115 and 120 German pounds, respectively. The German pound is one-tenth heavier than the American. It was characteristic that no two boxers weighed the same. One was invariably heavier and had the advantage.

The first victim, after putting up a fair show for two rounds, ran afoul of a wild swing of his opponent, and so crude was the opponent, the "swipe" was with an open glove and was really nothing more than a slap in the face. They were eight-ounce gloves too.

Down went the "boxer" who had done so well for two rounds. He took the count of nine, rose, and in a few seconds went down again, from a blow that could not have been more than a tap. He seemed to have lost courage, and though he was never "out" or anywhere near it, he lost all interest in fighting, and obediently perched himself on elbows and knees as the referee counted him out.

The last bout was very short and sweet, principally because the far heavier man was a German who had lived in San Francisco for a long time. Hans Breitenstrater, he called himself on the program. Hans showed just a bit of class, and the knowledge that he had been in America and presumably knew something about boxing evidently awed his eight-pound-lighter opponent.

It was soon after the opening of the second round that Hans hit Friedrich a tap on the chin, and he promptly gave up the ghost. He was no more "out" than the other defeated pugilists. He had had enough and he lay quite quietly until he had sounded, then bounded to his feet and ran from the ring.

In sharp contrast were the unusual circumstances attending the victory in London of Eugene Criqui, the Frenchman, over Walter Ross, the Englishman, for the premier bantamweight honors of Europe. The final blow was delivered when Ross did not know the fight was "on" and when the ring was crowded with seconds and other enthusiastic spectators.

Near the close of the fourteenth round a right hook to the jaw sent Ross to the mat apparently finished. After a few moments seconds from both corners with spectators clamored into the ring. Ross was carried to his corner helpless and the French contingent began to celebrate. Amid the usual confusion attending a knockout, Eugene Corri, the referee, announced that the fight was over and that the referee was trying to clear the ring, all the while calling "bout on," a familiar London expression after an interruption. At first no one paid any attention to him. Criqui finally realized that with the referee calling "bout on" he had a right to fight, so he made his way through the crowd and planted a solid right on the unsuspecting Ross' jaw. There was no question about Ross being "out" after that and Criqui was officially credited with winning the championship by a knockout in the fifteenth round.

FAIRMOUNT WANTS GAME

Because of a late cancellation the Fairmount football team of York is without a game for Saturday, November 1. To date they are undefeated and have been scored on but once. Any first class team who desires a game away from home can get same by communicating immediately with William T. Eaker, Bell 4751-W.

SUNDAY "Q" MEETING

Professor H. K. Ober, president of Elizabethtown College, will speak on Sunday afternoon at Pahnstock Hall during the regular weekly men's meeting. Secretary Reeves, of the Central "Y," announced to-day that Professor Ober will take as his subject "The Bible in the Present Crisis." The music of the afternoon will be by John P. Gibson, tenor soloist of Pine Street Presbyterian Church.

Faculty Director P. L. Grubb of Tech this morning closed negotiations with Perkiomen Seminary to play on the Island Saturday afternoon. Pitt May Practice

Tech may have a workout Friday with Pitt players. Glenn Warner and his squad of thirty will be in Harrisburg on that day enroute to Bethlehem for a game with Lehigh University. An invitation has been extended to Glenn Werner to take his men to the Island for a workout if they reach Harrisburg on time. The Pitt team will be at the Pennsylvania over night.

Yesterday morning Professor Grubb and "Haps" Frank spoke to the student body after Dr. Paker had congratulated the team. Headmaster Irvine also sent his congratulations to the Tech principal in the splendid team Tech has. Chief Cheer Leader Keller led in the cheers and songs for the boys.
