

"GET OUT VOTE," ELECTION SLOGAN

a great "get-together" rally in Woolf's hall, in Forest street, this evening, and to-morrow evening there will be a joint meeting of the city and county committees and the Republican League in the courthouse. At the courthouse meetings the changes in the election laws will be explained and final instructions to workers will be issued. The meeting promises to be largely attended. Alderman Hovetter is getting about the city and said to-day that he finds the voters responsive and will be elected by a majority larger than that accorded any candidate for mayor in years. A last-minute effort is being made to stir up interest in behalf of his opponent, but little real work is being done. Philip S. Moyer, who is certain of a big majority throughout the county, has been getting about the city this week, also paying his respects to voters in the upper end, and finds conditions very favorable everywhere. Mr. Moyer is one of the best known of the younger members of the bar and has been active in Republican circles ever since he came out of school. He is a self-made man and admittedly a lawyer of ability. County Commissioners Henry M. Stine and Charles C. Cumber, who are out for reelection, are also meeting with success in their canvass and upon their return from the upper end of the county yesterday said there is no question that the whole Republican ticket will be elected. "It is only a question of majority," they said, and urged the voters to be sure to go to the polls Tuesday.

Democrats Up in the Air

The Democratic machine bosses, who have laid down on their job this time, are all worked up over the fact that their failure to support the ticket nominated in September has come to public notice. They are making a last-minute effort to cover up their failures, but nobody is fooled. The rank and file of the Democrats understand the situation very fully and realize that were it not for the activity of the Central Democratic Club, which will hold a rally to-morrow night, the campaign in Harrisburg would have been allowed to fall flat. That means a fight when the bosses try to grab control of the primaries next year to elect delegates to the national convention.

Lieutenant Governor E. E. Beideman and W. Harry Baker attended a great Republican "get together" rally at Chambersburg last night. The big hall was crowded to the limit by its capacity and Mr. Beideman, who was the principal speaker, received an ovation. Mr. Baker said to-day: "It was one of the largest and best Republican meetings I have attended in years. The best people of the community were present and the entire county was represented. Lieutenant Governor Beideman made a wonderful speech. The Republicans of Franklin county are awake to the importance of this fall's campaign. They understand that the vote cast in November will be an indication of Republican strength in the Presidential elections next year and they are determined to make it as large as possible. That, I think, is the attitude Republicans in Dauphin county and everywhere should take."

GUARD UNITS FOR

announced for some time as virtually everything to-day was tentative.

"We came here to get together and to talk over things" said General Price. "We want communities which sent out units to have a chance to organize new ones and as the Guard expands, as it will, other communities will have opportunity to organize units. There is much work ahead, but we are getting together."

Among the colonels present were: D. J. Davis, Joseph H. Thompson, Frederick A. Snyder, Millard D. Brown, George E. Kemp, E. J. Stackpole, Jr., W. S. McKean, Jr., R. M. Vail, Edward Martin, C. E. Smithers, William H. Dunlap and John P. Wood. Majors Q. T. Reitzel and William H. Zierdt were also here. The men present were given a luncheon at the Penn-Harris and then resumed their session this afternoon.

QUIT TOO SOON

Vienna, Tuesday, Oct. 28. (French Wireless Service) — General Von Arz and Waldstaen of the Austrian Army, who have been sentenced to severe terms for ordering the cessation of hostilities on November 3, 1918, thirty hours before the armistice with Italy became effective, were heard to-day at a secret session of a commission appointed to investigate the allegations made against them. It is claimed that the Italians concluded their offensive and captured more than 300,000 prisoners during the period mentioned, all Austrian posts having been ordered to stop firing.

Need of New Armory Is Felt in City

Incidental to an important conference between Adjutant General Frank D. Beary, Major General Price and the recently appointed colonels of the National Guard of Pennsylvania to-day the matter of an adequate armory for the units to be located in Harrisburg was considered in an informal way. Of course, this will be a matter for final determination of the general headquarters at the Capitol but it is entirely probable that the new armory will be located here.

Should a battery of field artillery be located here a considerable drill field will be necessary with suitable buildings for the protection of horses and the men. The armory would require perhaps a frontage of 100 feet with a depth of 200 feet, the front being two stories by the enlistment of an administration office the remainder of the building covering the drill field, being a one-story extension with floor capacity for 200 men at a time. There is much interest here in the reorganization of the National Guard and there appears to be no doubt that the various units could be quickly filled by the enlistment of a large number of men who have seen service at home and abroad.

STRIKE ORDER STANDS IN DEFY

threatened strike on the verge of winter. Discontinuance of the production of coal would more effectively tie up the industries of the country than would a strike of any other body of workers and in addition such action would cause untold suffering among millions of the country's inhabitants. Despite the efforts of the railroads to furnish extra cars to the mines for transportation of fuel, it will be impossible to provide an adequate supply for even a short period.

Country Needs to Be Hard Hit
The big industries of the country would be hard hit by the stoppage of their coal supplies, and domestic consumers in every city and many rural communities would suffer the effects of the tie up. In the larger cities few of the big hotels and flat buildings have facilities for storing a winter's supply of fuel and dealers with whom they have contracts would be unable to supply their demands, or they in turn depend upon continuous shipments from the mines. Railroads also would be seriously affected by the strike, for in most cases the supplies of locomotive fuel would be entirely exhausted. This would mean annulment of trains, and consequent shortages of many necessities. Right up to the hour of the conference this morning, mine officials reiterated that they were willing to negotiate with the operators, but said that the latter had shown no inclination to discuss the demands.

Possibility of Government operation of the mines has been advanced by some of the delegates who apparently were receptive to the idea. On the other hand high officials of the organization scouted the idea of Government control, adding that they could not see what power could be exerted to make men work when they did not want to work. Mr. Lewis said that the National Executive's idea that the need for wartime prohibition had passed, because the emergency had ended, expressed exactly the union's attitude toward its wartime wage contract. "There is no further use for wartime prohibition, according to the President," said Mr. Lewis. "Neither is there further use for the wartime Washington wage agreement. We, therefore, resent the imputation that the strike is illegal."

The suggestion that work be continued pending appointment and report of an investigating tribunal was denominated by Mr. Lewis a measure of delay. "That would mean months of waiting while men ignorant of mining problems sit on the fence and try to solve them," he said. "Meanwhile the miners would be working under the present intolerable conditions."

Advantage to Operators
Other officials of the union agreed heartily with this view. In addition some of them pointed out that the operators would take advantage of the delay to work the mines to capacity, piling up reserve stocks and placing the burden of a big disadvantage should the tribunal's efforts come to naught. Direct negotiation with the mine owners, however, would be welcomed by the union. Vice-President Lewis, Secretary Green and such members of the executive board as had reached here last night were unanimous in declaring that they stood ready "as before, to negotiate a wage scale without reservations." They emphasized the last two words and charged that the employers would not negotiate except on conditions which the union men were powerless to fulfill.

LOOKS FOR REPLY
Washington, Oct. 29. Government officials think that Joe Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who had summoned his full scale committee to meet today, will receive an immediate announcement of the reply to his letter. President Wilson's letter. According to the view held by Secretary of Labor Wilson, however, there may be no answer until the very next moment. An eleven-hour decision to postpone or cancel the strike would not be surprising, it was said, but there was some doubt here as to whether word could be sent to the men in time to keep them at work. The railroad administration is putting forth every effort to move the coal already mined to districts where present stocks are running dangerously low. Meantime, government agents were taking a quick census and trying to find out how long the stocks on hand might last. In the absence of an authoritative statement, stock reports were conflicting, but it was said that estimates of enough to supply demands for thirty days were not far wrong. "The government is ready for the worst, but is hoping the best," it is not the belief that the miners will respond patriotically to the President's appeal and keep the mines running while negotiating a new wage agreement, but the summing up of a government official in touch with the situation. "Everything depends," on what is done at Indianapolis."

Ohio Mines Will Be Closed if Strike Comes
By Associated Press
Columbus, Oct. 29. — If the strike of soft coal miners becomes effective Saturday it will affect more than operation is to continue without modification for two years. Operators said to-day that with a full supply of cars the unorganized fields would be able to produce as follows: Guyan Valley, 1,500,000 tons a month; Thacker, Pocahontas and Tug River, 2,500,000; Winding Gulf, 1,000,000 and Elk River, 250,000.

GRAVE DANGERS TO BE FACED BY LABOR

tude towards our Government, whether in peace or war, and labor made good. "The armistice was signed November 11, 1918. Automatically hostilities have ended. Technically we are yet in a state of war. The return of industry from a war footing to a peace basis is not readily accomplished. The patriotic fervor of our country in peril, brought about by the dangers which threatened the overthrow of democracy and freedom, seem to have subsided. In this critical reconstruction period of labor is confronted with grave dangers affecting the very foundation of its structure. So grave is the situation regarding the executives of the meeting, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor and the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods agreed that the executives of the National and International unions should be invited to participate in a conference at the headquarters at the American Federation of Labor at 10 o'clock in the morning of December 13, 1919, and there to take counsel and to formulate such action as may be essential to safeguard and promote the rights, interests and freedom of the wage earners, the workers, who form the great mass of the people of our republic.

Resolved to Attend

"It is imperative that the responsible representatives of the labor movement shall, therefore, consider the situation in the industrial and legislative field and agree upon fundamental principles and a program which the wage earners will accept in performing their duties as citizens and at the same time maintaining the right of free men in order to conserve human interest and welfare. We conferred with the representatives of the various farmers' organizations. The conventions of these several bodies will be held within the next 30 days. The representatives of the farmers while in sympathy with the purposes of the conference, did not feel that they had the authority to append their names to this call. However, the formal communication will be sent to their convention inviting them to appoint representatives to participate in the conference of December 13 with authority to speak in the name of the organizations they represent. "You are earnestly urged to attend the conference in person, and thereby give the most effective and responsible expression of the needs to meet the situation."

WORMLEYSBURG TOWN HALL ENDANGERED

Prompt action on the part of Wormleysburg firemen, saved the town hall from destruction this morning. Smoke was seen coming from one of the windows on the second floor. A chemical stream stopped the spread of flames. The damage is estimated at $100.

CASUALTIES MOUNT TO 40
Utica, N. Y., Oct. 29. — Textile strikers in this city did not attempt to prevent the workers from entering the mills this morning, although large numbers of the strikers made the usual demonstration of parading through the mill section in single file. Numbers of them were searched for weapons and several who were carrying revolvers were arrested. It is said that about forty of the strikers were wounded in yesterday's fighting but all but five of them were conveyed away by their friends. The five who are in the hospital will probably recover.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes
Strong—According to Dr. Lewis
Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent
In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home
Philadelphia, Pa. — Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that, according to Dr. Lewis, there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with eye strain glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes, which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now, and have discarded my long-distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what has been done for me." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever feeling glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time. Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and would be prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or mist glasses. I highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, as referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula before it was printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by the Kennedy, the Croll Keller, J. Nelson Clark stores and others.

The Sort of Man
I Wanted--
Quite recently it was my pleasure to spend several very interesting days in your beautiful City of Harrisburg.
But first, let me introduce myself.
A. Swain Mitchell is my name, of Richmond, Va.
I occupy the position at the head of the Scientific Department of the Associated Optometrists and Opticians of America, Inc.
And the object of my visit?
I was looking for what I considered the most progressive Optometrist and Optician in your city.
Like Diogenes, I went gunning for my man with a lantern. But MY lantern was a complete knowledge of the local Optical situation.
I wanted a man of high character; a man who stood head and shoulders above the rank and file of the Optical profession and who in accuracy and reliability could safely be trusted with your eyes and the eyes of those near and dear to you.
I was looking for a man to represent in your city, the Association which I represent—The Associated Optometrists and Opticians of America, Inc. Did I find him?
More anon!
