MRS. JESSUP WILL LECTURE AGAIN

Former Resident of Harrisburg Living in Egypt to Tell Her War Experiences

Those who heard Mrs. William Jessup tell her remarkable war experiences in Egypt and Palestine last May will be glad to know that she will deliver another address in Harrisburg before leaving for Cairo, where Mr. Jessup will resume his duties as general secretary of all English Y. M. C. A. work in the East.
Mrs. Jessup will talk upon Africa on Tuesday evening, November 4, at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Guild of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church. The address will be illustrated with lantern slides and the most thrilling and remarkable of these will show a fierce tribal fight between warring African savages. Mr. and Mrs. Jessup had gone on a furlough to pay a brief visit to a missionary compound. They found the compound in a turmoil owing to the precipitation of a long threatened conflict between hostile tribes in the neighborhood. The missionaries were unable to stop the fight and Mr. Jessup succeeded in taking a number of pictures of the warriors in full combat.
The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the lecture room of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church and all persons interested are cordially invited to attend. While in Harrisburg Mrs. Jessup will be guest of her cousin, Mrs. John Y. Boyd, who will preside over the meeting.

Opportunity for Young Women
Young women of Harrisburg have an exceptional opportunity to secure profitable employment under ideal working conditions with The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Not only do telephone operators find the work clean and the surroundings pleasant, but there is an unusual attractiveness in their duties, either in establishing local connections, or in connecting Harrisburg telephones with New York, Chicago, Washington or other distant points.
During the four weeks of her training period an operator is paid nine dollars a week. Her first increase comes at the end of four weeks, and thereafter her pay is increased at short intervals as she becomes experienced. Promotions to positions of responsibility are made from the ranks, on merit, and every operator can be sure of receiving consideration for the position with their higher rate of pay. Applications are being received by Miss Kline, Operators' Employment Department, Second Floor, 208 Walnut Street.—Adv.

I Found The Man
The other day I told of the Sort of Man I Wanted to act as the Harrisburg representative of the Associated Optometrists and Opticians of America, Inc.
I said I wanted to locate the most progressive and most competent Optometrist and Optician in your city—a man who stood head and shoulders above the rank and file of the Optical profession and who in accuracy and reliability could safely be trusted with your eyes and the eyes of those near and dear to you.
I found that man!
He is a man whom you already know—the one logical man, I believe, to represent in Harrisburg and vicinity the Associated Optometrists and Opticians of America, Inc.
It is with keen pleasure on my part that I may now announce the selection in the person of J. S. Belsinger, 39 North Third street, (Penn-Harris Hotel Building).
Mr. Belsinger has been selected, first, because of his long experience in, and his intimate knowledge of the Optical profession; and secondly, because of his reputation as an Optometrist for clean, open-handed methods.
We can recommend most highly this man, whose scientific knowledge of the eye and corrective methods required, we have carefully investigated.
