Disbursements by the State Treasury rose to a new high mark in October, payments of over $2,000,000 for highway construction used in the large sums for educational and charitable work causing the total to rise to $7,519,602.28.

The balance at the end of the month, including $9,063,505.44 in the road bond issue fund, was $14,266,021.55, against $16,324,295 at the end of September.

P. R. R. Employee Able to Work Full Time Now

Says the Man-Hell Kept Him On the Job and Gave Him More Relief Than Anything Else He Ever Found.

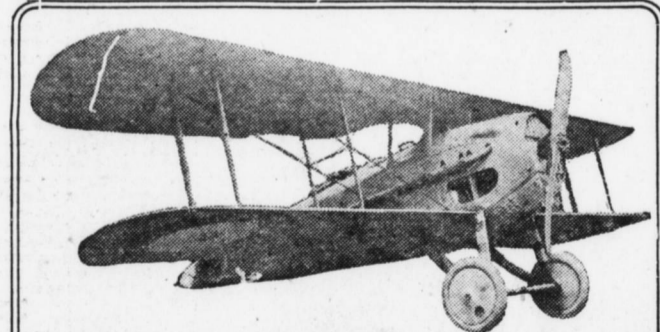

W. F. McNaughton, 323 Main St., Steelton, Pa., says: "I have used the Man-Hell Inhaler two months for Hay Fever and tightness in the throat, having been a sufferer for two years. The Inhaler is the only relief I have ever found, although I have tried many remedies. I have been able to go to work every day during the extreme Hay Fever season. This I consider has paid for the Inhaler many times, as well as prevented much suffering. I was off from work in 1918 just 21 days suffering from Hay Fever; set up all night, could not lie down, was so short of breath. This year the Inhaler has allowed me to go on just like the rest of the family. I will always be glad that I read the advertisement of the Geo. A. Gorgas Drug Store and investigated the Man-Hell Automatic Inhaler. This letter can be published, as I want to help others as I have been helped."

The State Highway Department has let a contract for immediate construction of five concrete buildings for storage of the automobile trucks and other motor equipment for road building given to the State by the War Department from army surplus stores, which are now stored in Capitol Park extension. The contract was let to the Belmont Iron Works of Philadelphia, and calls for five buildings each 60 by 160 feet to be erected one a week on the State Arsenal property. The sheds will each provide storage for from 50 to 65 trucks, according to size.

Organization of the new tank battalion of the Pennsylvania National Guard, which is to be attached to the corps headquarters, will be undertaken as soon as further orders from the War Department. The question of location of the units has not been determined, as State Guard officials are seeking information about officers and men trained to tank service. Col. Joseph H. Thompson, inspector general of the Guard, who graduated from the tank instruction school in France, is taking a big interest in the formation of the new arms of the State Guard. War Department orders will also govern the establishment of a State aircraft service and Major General Price has asked that men experienced in this service and desirous of entering the Guard communicate with him so that they can be listed.

As a result of the extraordinary demand for hunters' licenses which has been reported from every county in the State, State Game Commission officials believe that the total number of hunters licensed this year will run to 350,000 instead of 335,000 calculated as the maximum some time ago. Rush orders have been given for tags, but men have been hunting with white bandages or brassards for several days because of lack of the tags.

Hearings have been scheduled by the Public Service Commission for next week in Sunbury, Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia and Harrisburg. The Harrisburg sittings will begin Wednesday when complaints against the Lykens Valley Light and Power Company's new rates will be heard. An executive session will be held the following day. The Wilkes-Barre hearing will relate to a bridge at Shickshinny against which Luzerne county commissioners have complained. The Philadelphia sittings will be on Monday relative to applications affecting funeral cars and automobiles on demand, and on Friday when the Ridgway Auto and Cab Company will ask right to do business in Pennsylvania.

Governor Sproul will speak at Chester-to-night.

Ex-Judge E. L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, was among visitors to the Capitol yesterday.

Immediately upon the filing of complaints by the cities of Erie and Corry against the proposed new rates of the Pennsylvania Gas Company for gas, the Public Service Commission last night ordered a hearing to be held here next Friday. The Commission issued a statement in which it said: "The Commission has for some time been investigating the rates and service of this company in connection with its general investigation relating to the conservation of the natural gas supply of Pennsylvania. As the complaints have been filed prior to the effective date of the proposed increase in rates (November 2), the burden of proof at this hearing will be upon the company to show that the increased rates and that the new classifications and regulations are just and reasonable and in conformity with law." The new rates filed provide for a rising scale of prices in blocks of 5,000 feet.

These commissions have been issued to Dauphin county notaries public: Clarence H. Whireman, Harrisburg; E. L. Baumgardner and Mrs. A. M. Mowry, Hershey. More contractors appeared for the opening of the bids for roads yesterday than have been seen at the State Highway Department in many months. The prices ran high, but it is believed that some contracts will be let. The State Capitol was virtually closed today, as most of the men had gone home to vote, and the orders were out that some offices would not reopen until Wednesday. Adjutant General Beary left last night for eastern counties to discuss National Guard matters.

Will Banish the Old Milk Pitcher

As a result of an investigation made in restaurants and hotels in a dozen cities of the State, there will shortly be issued from the State Bureau of Foods a requirement that all milk be furnished in bottles instead of being poured from a pitcher into a glass or a cup. In numerous instances the State agents found that the required butter fats and that there was also contamination following handling.

In some instances the milk was found to have been watered while in others it was manifest that in pouring from the original container the butter fats had collected in the mass at the top and left the rest of the quantity short of the legal requirement of 3 1/2 per cent. The so-called "top milk" was rich enough, but the rest some times got the owners of the hotels or restaurants into trouble. Director James Foust, of the Foods Bureau, who plans this move toward the old time pitcher from the board of health, said that he will request persons in charge of public eating places, hotels, cafes and the like to adopt the method of the State, which is to use the milk ask the next Legislature to require it.

Moore Will Sweep the Quaker City

The Philadelphia Inquirer to-day says: "A complete collapse of the Charter party political tussle was evidenced yesterday. It resulted from a refusal of Republicans potential in their respective ward organizations to follow a cause which they know is destined to defeat. "All deals are off," was the trite way in which a practical politician expressed it last night, and he added: "Everybody that knows anything about the game knows that Moore is going to be elected Mayor next Tuesday and that the 'big fellows' that were defeated at the primaries have told him they are for him and they are going to make good because they cannot help themselves. The 'little fellows' have sided up the situation and are going to vote the straight Republican ticket for their own protection." A stamped to the Moore band wagon has set in."

New Jersey Profits With State Boxing Commission

New York, Nov. 1.—Evidence of the immense popularity of professional boxing in New Jersey is furnished in the annual report of the New Jersey State Boxing Commission for the fiscal year ended September 30. This report discloses that the state across the Hudson received a revenue of $50,629.09 through its tax on all flat activities up to September 30. Another item affecting the increasing interest in the strenuous sport is the addition to the number of licensed clubs. The boxing commission, careful in its distribution of the necessary permits during the early career of legalized professional boxing in New Jersey, has not sanctioned the applications of more than twenty-five clubs throughout the state, and at every meeting further applications for licenses are under consideration. Newark and Jersey City, naturally, are the leading centers of boxing in the state.

German Officers Are Charged With Murder by French Jewelers

By Associated Press Paris, Nov. 1.—Charges of murder and burglary based on articles 227 and 230 of the Versailles Peace Treaty, were lodged against German officers in the Paris court house yesterday by a firm of jewelers in the Rue de la Paix. This firm had a branch house at Ostend when Germans occupied the town in October, 1914. The manager of the store and his wife were shot and three safes were blown and their contents taken. The names of officers responsible are said to be Aco and Ignace. The under secretary of state for military justice has been requested to apply for the extradition of the officers.

Seven Miners Burned in Gas Explosion

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 1.—A terrific explosion of gas occurred at the Good Spring colliery yesterday, seven men being injured. Robert Dreas, of Donaldson, one of the victims, is at the Pottsville Hospital with a leg so badly roasted that it may be necessary to amputate it. The accidents occurred 300 feet beneath the surface just as the men were preparing to quit. A pocket of gas ignited and gave the miners the appearance of being in a fiery furnace, with flames leaping all about them. Among the others injured are William and Albert Kehler, Walter Morgans, Ellsworth Wolfgang and James Stutzman, of Valley View, and Fred. Kiefer, of Good Springs.

Pirates Concealed in Vessel Overpowered Crew

By Associated Press Comvat-though, Wednesday, Oct. 29.—Pirates concealed in the steerage of the ship Maria overpowered the crew while the vessel was bound from Novorossysk for Batum and robbed the passengers, obtaining 60,000,000 rubles. On arriving at Batum officers of the vessel made a report of the robbery to the British police, who captured several of the pirates. Pirates frequently land along the shores of the Black Sea and rob villages. At Trebizond recently pirates boarded a Greek schooner and stabbed or threw overboard its crew of fifteen men. They also captured the Russian steamer Constantine, while the vessel was bound from Batum to Constantinople.
