

LABOR MEN WORK FOR CITY LOANS

Independent Voters Anxious to Have Loans Approved at the Polls

Labor party candidates wound up their campaign last night. They covered the city thoroughly in automobiles. The local loans received a big boost.

In the first automobile was a bugler and everybody knew something was doing when they heard the bugle sound. In each auto were four or five persons, and they carried large placards, calling attention to the city loans and urging the voters to stand by them.

There were also one or more megaphones to each auto and at points where large crowds were in evidence and during stops at street corners attention was called to the loans and to the candidates.

When the parade reached Market Street a brass band, Sixth and large crowd listened to the words of the boosters. The interest manifested in the loans brought favorable comment from the spectators on the sidewalk.

15,000 Cars of Coal on Sidings; Held For Government Uses

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4.—No less than 15,000 cars of coal were on sidings in the Pittsburgh district last night, confiscated by the government for use, should the coal strike continue, for the operation of railroads and essential industries.

Union mines generally were closed, in spite of the fact that whistles were blown and the pits kept open for such of the strikers as desired to return to work.

Non-union mines held about the same position in the struggle as was expected when the strike began, it being conceded that most of them were in operation with the usual working forces.

Ration Card System Used by Commissary of Steel Strikers

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4.—First reports of the establishment of a commissary near Pittsburgh to distribute food to steel strikers and their families in need, came today from union headquarters at Natrona, Pa., where hundreds of workers formerly employed at the Allegheny and West Penn Steel Companies reside. The first cartload of food was sent to Natrona today according to reports at headquarters and will be distributed through a ration card system to families of five or less in the following order: First semi-weekly supply: Potatoes, 15 pounds; bread, four loaves; tomatoes and peas, one can each; Navy beans, four pounds; oatmeal, one box; bacon, one pound; coffee, one pound and milk, one can. The second weekly supply consists of bread, four loaves; tomatoes, corn and beans, one can each; red beans, four pounds; oatmeal, two boxes; dried meat, one pound, and syrup, one can. Proportional allowances are made for families of six or more members.

Nonunion Mines Are Breaking Coal Records

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4.—Record-breaking coal production in non-union mines in the Pittsburgh district was reported today by operators, while union leaders said the mines under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers were down as tight as any time since the strike was called. One can each; red beans, four pounds; oatmeal, two boxes; dried meat, one pound, and syrup, one can. Proportional allowances are made for families of six or more members.

The soldiers, directly under command of Colonel E. E. Evans, were equipped for a long stay, but reports that they were to be reinforced with troops already on the way could not be confirmed.

FEEL OPTIMISTIC DESPITE STRENGTH

[Continued from First Page.] Capt those of the Gallup American Company, at Gallup. Additional Troops: Additional troops for possible duty in the extensive Pennsylvania fields will be under way to be ready to entrain at two hours' notice. They were the Twenty-third and Ninth regiments of infantry at Camp Travis, San Antonio.

The Thirty-fifth Infantry will start tomorrow for Camp Lewis, Washington, for strike duty in the Pacific Northwest. An announcement from Camp Travis said: For duty in Wyoming coal fields, a company of the Twenty-first Infantry to fight the enemy from Washington. Military control was established in all the Northern Wyoming coal camps, but it was announced that officers would continue to function.

Additional state troops were sent into the Colorado fields, their activities centering northwest of Trinidad. There the only arrest in connection with the walkout was reported yesterday. Mr. C. Rouse, a miner, was taken into custody by the soldiers after he had threatened, it was charged, to burn certain mines if production were continued.

Coal production in that state was valued at 50 per cent of the operators said. Non-union miners in Pennsylvania today continued on their jobs getting out an average amount of fuel, with the amount brought to the surface swelled by the work of nearly all mines in eastern Kentucky five Ohio strip pits and the return to work after a one-day lay off of the lignite mines in North Dakota.

In Alabama operators asserted that some of the larger mines were running practically on full schedule. Claims of union leaders in the south's largest production field that 23,000 of 26,000 men employed in the industry were idle were disputed by the operators, who said possibly one half the workers had gone out. No actual suffering, it-day had been reported as due to the coal shortage.

Would Raise Wages and Boost Coal Prices to Settle Walkout

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 4.—That the United States government withdraw its Federal injunction against the coal strike leaders at once and that the miners return to work under a guarantee of a wage increase of 15 or 20 per cent, effective November 1 or upon their return to work, are proposed in a plan of compromise by A. L. Faulkner, Federal commissioner of conciliation here, in an effort to avert a continued crisis in the coal strike.

Mr. Faulkner further proposes that: Operators be permitted to add the increased wage cost to the war-time fixed price of coal;

A board of arbitration, one member representing the miners, one the operators and a third to be a neutral member selected by the first two or appointed by the President be named to determine just wages, hours and yearly contracts; The report of the arbitration board be made public and effective prior to April 1, 1920, and the expiration of the period during which the miners received 15 or 20 per cent. increase over their present wages.

It is understood Mr. Faulkner has wired his proposal to Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Enraged Women Stone Strikebreakers as They Enter Doors of Plant

Youngstown, O., Nov. 4.—Bricks inclination to return to work and the fight with enraged women when a crowd of 150 women this morning attempted to prevent workers from entering the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company plant here.

Five men and four women were arrested, charged with rioting. No one was seriously injured. Shots were fired from a street into the Ohio workers of the Carnegie steel plant this morning and mill guards returned the fire. No casualties were reported.

The Briar Hill Steel Company reported the opening of another open hearth furnace today, while all the mills gave out statements of men returning to work in greatly increased numbers.

Operators May Issue Public Invitation to Miners to Come Back

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Operators of West Virginia coal fields are expected to meet here today to consider issuing a public invitation to all striking miners to return to work. Decision to act on this method to secure an early resumption of operations was made by the operators, according to officials of the West Virginia Coal Association when the first break reported in the ranks of the strikers occurred yesterday at 15 union mines in the northern part of the state.

No desertions were reported in other coal regions, and union leaders are confident the men will stand firm. All the mines reported to be working in the northern districts, however, are small ones and the daily output in the aggregate is not large. All mines in Southern West Virginia along the Norfolk and Western railroad are working and the output normal, it is reported.

Anthracite Officers Affected by Injunction Against Soft Coal Men

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 4.—With the return of Neil J. Ferry, member of the International Executive Board of the United Mine Workers, from Indianapolis it was learned that the injunction against the officers of the union granted the Government at Indianapolis last week also affects all of the leaders in the anthracite field. Mr. Ferry had absolutely nothing to say regarding the bituminous strike. All the Lehigh mines worked today. The strike in the soft coal fields, coupled with the advent of cold weather, has created such a strong demand for the smaller sizes of anthracite, which has been a drug on the market since last winter, that the Lehigh Valley Coal Company today began loading this fuel from its storage plant at Hazleton and sending it to market.

Proposes Presidential Commission to Attempt Strike Arbitration

Washington, Nov. 4.—A special Presidential commission to attempt arbitration of the bituminous coal strike was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Chairman Kenneth of the Labor Committee. With-out discussion the measure was referred to the Senate. The resolution provides that the commission be composed of three members who shall call together representatives of the miners and operators in such numbers, and use all lawful means to cause them to consider and settle their differences. Should such differences not be adjusted by the strike terminated within 50 days the commission would investigate the controversy and within 15 days publish a report setting forth the results of its investigation and its conclusions as to the proper concessions, if any, to be made by one or both sides.

Discourt Claims: Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—Coal strike leaders here today dismissed statements of operators that defections from the ranks of strikers would result in a resumption of the government against the mine tieup. The second actual working day of the strike began with mines idling throughout the state and there were no indications that there would be a change in the situation immediately.

Claims Differ: Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 4.—A wide difference of opinion exists as to how many bituminous miners are on strike in the Alabama fields. Union leaders claimed today that 23,000 of the 26,000 men employed in the industry were idle, while some of the operators asserted about one-half of the workers had obeyed the strike order. Some of the larger mines are running practically all the time, the operators said. No disorder has been reported.

Reserve Coal Being Shipped to Many Points From Pittsburgh District

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4.—Movement of reserve coal from the Pittsburgh district continued today. More than 1,000 cars have been forwarded already to points as far west as Chicago and northward to Buffalo. None of the coal moved from Pittsburgh has been allotted by the Fuel Administration, it is understood, but the production in this area recently has made a large reserve stock available to points that may feel a shortage soon, if the strike continues. Philip Murray, president of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, said there was absolutely no change in the situation; that all union miners are out and will stand firm, and that reports indicate that additional unorganized miners are joining the strikers' ranks.

United States District Attorney E. Lowry Humes continued today to investigate reports of profiteering in coal, and violations of the rules and regulations governing prices as stipulated by the Government. He received reports that the present shortage of coal in the bituminous region was due to the disposition of producers to hold up great quantities of coal at their mines in anticipation of higher prices. He had five representatives scattered throughout the district yesterday.

In the Chicago district the big plants continue to operate, according to mill heads, on a basis of 75 per cent. of normal. Old workers gradually are returning, they said.
